On The Frontlines Gender War And The Post Conflict Process:

On the Frontlines Fionnuala Ní Aoláin, Dina Francesca Haynes, Naomi R. Cahn, 2011 Today in a variety of post conflict settings international advocates for women's rights have focused on bringing issues of sexual violence discrimination and exclusion into peace making processes On the Frontlines consider such policies and assess the extent to which they have had success in improving women's lives Women, Gender Equality, and Post-Conflict Transformation Joyce P.

Kaufman, Kristen P. Williams, 2016-10-04 The end of formal hostilities in any given conflict provides an opportunity to transform society in order to secure a stable peace This book builds on the existing feminist international relations literature as well as lessons of past cases that reinforce the importance of including women in the post conflict transition process and are important to our general understanding of gender relations in the conflict and post conflict periods Post conflict transformation processes including disarmament demobilization and reintegration DDR programs transitional justice mechanisms reconciliation measures and legal and political reforms which emerge after the formal hostilities end demonstrate that war and peace impact and are impacted by women and men differently By drawing on a strong theoretical framework and a number of cases this volume provides important insight into questions pertaining to the end of conflict and the challenges inherent in the post conflict transition period that are relevant to students and practitioners alike The Irish Yearbook of International Law, Volume 6, 2011 Fiona de Londras, Siobhán Mullally, 2013-08-23 The Irish Yearbook of International Law is intended to stimulate further research into Ireland's practice in international affairs and foreign policy filling a gap in existing legal scholarship and assisting in the dissemination of Irish thinking and practice on matters of international law On an annual basis the Yearbook presents peer reviewed academic articles and book reviews on general issues of international law Designated correspondents provide reports on international law developments in Ireland Irish practice in international fora and the European Union and the practice of joint North South implementation bodies in Ireland In addition the Yearbook reproduces documents that reflect Irish practice on contemporary issues of international law Publication of the Irish Yearbook of International Law makes Irish practice and opinio juris more readily available to Governments academics and international bodies when determining the content of international law In providing a forum for the documentation and analysis of North South relations the Yearbook also makes an important contribution to post conflict and transitional justice studies internationally As a matter of editorial policy the Yearbook seeks to promote a multilateral approach to international affairs reflecting and reinforcing Ireland's long standing commitment to multilateralism as a core element of foreign policy Sexual Violence in Conflict and Post-Conflict Societies Doris Buss, Joanne Lebert, Blair Rutherford, Donna Sharkey, Obijiofor Aginam, 2014-07-17 This book brings together a unique blend of researchers civil society and community activists all working on different aspects of conflict sexual violence on the African continent The contributions included here offer a detailed reading of the social and political climate within which some patterns of sexual violence unfold and the increased policy and institutional responses shaping post conflict environments The chapters are organized around three main themes the continuities between conflict sexual violence and post conflict insecurity the troubling category of victim and its representation in post conflict settings and the international contexts such as international programming aid and justice interventions that shape how conflict sexual violence is addressed The authors come to the topic from various academic disciplines anthropology gender studies law and psychology and from different non academic contexts including civil society organizations in affected regions and policy and activist organizations in the Global North Collectively the chapters in this volume offer complex and detailed analysis of some of the debates and dynamics shaping contemporary understandings of conflict sexual violence highlighting in turn new insights and emerging topics on which further research and advocacy is needed

Power-Sharing Allison McCulloch, John McGarry, 2017-04-21 Power sharing is an important political strategy for managing protracted conflicts and it can also facilitate the democratic accommodation of difference Despite these benefits it has been much criticised with claims that it is unable to produce peace and stability is ineffective and inefficient and obstructs other peacebuilding values including gender equality This edited collection aims to enhance our understanding of the utility of power sharing in deeply divided places by subjecting power sharing theory and practice to empirical and normative analysis and critique Its overarching questions are Do power sharing arrangements enhance stability peace and cooperation in divided societies Do they do so in ways that promote effective governance Do they do so in ways that promote justice fairness and democracy Utilising a broad range of global empirical case studies it provides a space for dialogue between leading and emerging scholars on the normative questions surrounding power sharing Distinctively it asks proponents of power sharing to think critically about its weaknesses This text will be of interest to students scholars and practitioners of power sharing ethnic politics democracy and democratization peacebuilding comparative constitutional design and more broadly Comparative Politics International Relations and Constitutional and Comparative Law

The ^AOxford Handbook of Gender and Conflict Fionnuala Ní Aoláin, Naomi Cahn, Dina Francesca Haynes, Nahla Valji, 2017-12-15 In The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Conflict Fionnuala Ní Aoláin, Naomi Cahn, Dina Francesca Haynes and Nahla Valji focus on the multidimensionality of gender in conflict yet they also prioritize the experience of women given both the changing nature of war and the historical de emphasis on women s experiences

Gendering Global Humanitarianism in the Twentieth Century Esther Möller, Johannes Paulmann, Katharina Stornig, 2020-08-24 This volume is interesting both because of its global focus and its chronology up to the present it covers a good century of changes It will help define the field of gender studies of humanitarianism and its relevance for understanding the history of nation building and a political history that goes beyond nations Glenda Sluga Professor of International History and ARC Kathleen Laureate Fellow at the University of Sydney Australia This volume discusses the relationship between gender and humanitarian discourses and practices in the twentieth century It analyses the ways in which constructions norms and ideologies of gender both shaped and were shaped in global humanitarian contexts The individual chapters present issues such as post genocide relief and rehabilitation humanitarian careers and subjectivities medical assistance community aid child welfare and child soldiering They give prominence to the beneficiaries of aid and their use of humanitarian resources organizations and structures by investigating the effects of humanitarian activities on gender relations in the respective societies Approaching humanitarianism as a global phenomenon the volume considers actors and theoretical positions from the global North and South from Europe to the Middle East Sub Saharan Africa South and South East Asia as well as North America It combines state and non state humanitarian initiatives and scrutinizes their gendered dimension on local regional national and global scales Focusing on the time between the late nineteenth century and the post Cold War era the volume concentrates on a period that not only witnessed a major expansion of humanitarian action worldwide but also saw fundamental changes in gender relations and the gradual emergence of gender sensitive policies in humanitarian organizations in many Western and non Western settings

Gender, Peace and Security Louise Olsson, Theodora-Ismene Gizelis, 2015-04-24 This volume explores the implementation of key gender policies in international peace and security following the adoption of UN Security Council resolution 1325 in October 2000 the first thematic resolution on Women Peace and Security How should we understand women's participation in peace processes and in peace operations And what forms of gendered security dynamics are present in armed conflict and international interventions These questions represent central themes of protection and participation that the international community has to address in order to implement UNSCR 1325 Thus far the implementation has often employed varying approaches related to gender mainstreaming a third theme of the resolution Yet there is a dearth of systematic data which until recently has restricted the ability of researchers to evaluate the progress in implementation and impact of UNSCR 1325 By engaging with both empirics and critical theory the authors of this edited volume make important contributions to the gender peace and security agenda They identify some of the problems of implementing UNSC 1325 and offer a sobering assessment of progress of implementation and insights into how to advance our understanding through systematic research Many of the chapters are focused on operational aspects of UNSCR 1325 but all also engage with the theoretical underpinnings of UNSCR 1325 to bring forth central debates on more fundamental challenges to the development of knowledge in the fields of gender peace and security This book will be of much interest to students of gender studies peace and conflict studies security studies and IR in general

Leading Works in International Law Donna Lyons, 2023-11-23 This volume provides an innovative and engaging way of assessing the development of international law scholarship and practice to date and its potential future development by focusing upon the leading works of the discipline International law has established itself as an important area of academic study and legal practice Given its academic legal and everyday significance and its prolific role within law school teaching and research it is important to question and analyse the development of international law exploring the complex and shifting interplay between law policy theory and culture and the role of international and national actors within a diverse and dynamic community of nations This collection presents contributions from leading scholars of public international law across the globe and the works chosen by the editor represent a diverse range of subjects within the broader discipline Each chapter analyses the importance and legacy of a specific work with a view to reflecting upon how that publication has contributed to shaping the broader literature in the field of international law and how it may continue to have an influence on both scholarship and practice in the future Taken as a whole the chapters included in this collection provide an original exploration of a variety of important themes about how the discipline has evolved over time The Prologue and Epilogue critically assess the development of international law in light of the reflections by contributors The book will be a valuable resource for lawyers international law practitioners students and academics alike

Understanding Gender Based Violence Nadia Aghtaie, Geetanjali Gangoli, 2014-08-21 This book aims to bring together the pioneering research on gender based violence that has been conducted by the Centre for Gender and Violence Research at the School for Policy Studies University of Bristol Topics discussed include violence in young people s relationships prostitution policy disabled women s experiences of domestic violence men as victims of domestic violence feminist movements and methodological concerns This book will have a wide appeal as each individual chapter builds on and contributes to existing global and national concerns about gender based violence The book starts with an exploration of key theoretical conceptual and methodological issues in researching gender based violence then moves on to look at specific national UK based empirical studies The final section brings together a wide range of research from diverse contexts ranging from China Iran India and refugee camps in Rwanda The book will be an invaluable resource for researchers students and practitioners who have an interest in this area as well as for policymakers around the world It will also be of interest to the general reader who wants to learn more about what is now a highly topical issue

Restorative Responses to Sexual Violence Estelle Zinsstag, Marie Keenan, 2017-02-17 Sexual violence in all its forms is a crime for which anecdotal accounts and scholarly reports suggest victims in their great majority do not receive adequate justice or redress The theory and practice of restorative justice is rapidly developing and offers some well argued new avenues for dealings with crime in general It has the potential to be extended to cases of sexual violence and a number of small scale programmes are already underway across the world Restorative Responses to Sexual Violence examines this innovative justice paradigm in more depth in the particular context of sexual trauma and violence in order to establish the empirical realities of restorative justice approaches in cases of sexual violence and considers how such approaches could be developed adequately in the future This book is divided into two parts each representing a key area of research and practice theoretical and conceptual frameworks and justice and therapeutic perspectives This international collection brings together leading expert scholars and practitioners to offer both theoretical and practical perspectives on restorative justice and sexual violence This book will be of interest to researchers in the field of law criminology psychology social science social work and psychotherapy as well as practitioners in the fields of criminal justice restorative justice and sex offender and victim trauma therapies Gender, National Security and Counter-terrorism Margaret L. Satterthwaite, Jayne C. Huckerby, 2013 In the name of fighting terrorism countries have been invaded wars have been waged people have been detained rendered and tortured and campaigns for hearts and minds have been unleashed Human rights analyses of the counter terrorism measures implemented in the aftermath of 11 September 2001 have assumed that men suffer the most both numerically and in terms of the nature of rights violations endured This assumption has obscured the ways that women men and sexual minorities experience counter terrorism By integrating gender into a human rights analysis of counter terrorism and human rights into a gendered analysis of counter terrorism this volume aims to reverse this trend Through this variegated human rights lens the authors in this volume identify the spectrum and nature of rights violations arising in the context of gendered counter terrorism and national security practices Introduced with a foreword by Martin Scheinin former UN Special Rapporteur on Human Rights and Counter Terrorism the volume examines a wide range of gendered impacts of counter terrorism measures that have not been theorized in the leading texts on terrorism counter terrorism national security and human rights Gender National Security and Counter Terrorism will be of particular interest to scholars and students in the disciplines of Law Security Studies and Gender Studies Introduction to International Relations Joyce P. Kaufman, 2022-02-23 This clear and concise text introduces four key theoretical frameworks that form the foundation of international relations realism liberalism constructivism and feminist theory and uses levels of analysis as the primary unifying force to explain contemporary global politics Cases on climate change gender peace and security migration and the rise of China illustrate Kaufman's approach The third edition explains core issues in international relations such as the interaction of nations in a globalized world the growing threat posed by non state actors and civil conflicts and the need for countries to work together to counter what have been called existential crises such as climate change which threaten human lives and the planet Significant revisions focus on discussion of democratic backsliding the Covid 19 pandemic cyberterrorism and cyberwar changes to the European Union and expanded coverage of international political economy Elusive Justice Donny Meertens, 2019-11-26 Fifty years of violence perpetrated by guerrillas paramilitaries and official armed forces in Colombia displaced more than six million people In 2011 as part of a larger transitional justice process the Colombian government approved a law that would restore land rights for those who lost their homes during the conflicts However this restitution process lacked appropriate provisions for rural women beyond granting them a formal property title Drawing on decades of research Elusive Justice demonstrates how these women continue to face numerous adverse circumstances including geographical isolation encroaching capitalist enterprises and a dearth of social and institutional support Donny Meertens contends that women's advocacy organizations must have a prominent role in overseeing these transitional policies in order to create a more just society By bringing together the underresearched topic of property repayment and the pursuit of gender justice in peacebuilding these findings have broad significance elsewhere in the world

Gender, Violence, and Human Security Aili Mari Tripp, Myra Marx Ferree, Christina Ewig, 2023-11-21 The nature of human security is changing globally interstate conflict and even intrastate conflict may be diminishing worldwide yet threats to individuals and communities persist Large scale violence by formal and informal armed forces intersects with interpersonal and domestic forms of violence in mutually reinforcing ways Gender Violence and Human Security takes a critical look at notions of human security and violence through a feminist lens drawing on both theoretical perspectives and empirical examinations through case studies from a variety of contexts around the globe This fascinating volume goes beyond existing feminist international relations engagements with security studies to identify not only limitations of the human security approach but also possible synergies between feminist and human security approaches Noted scholars Aili Mari Tripp Myra Marx Ferree and Christina Ewig along with their distinguished group of contributors analyze specific case studies from around the globe ranging from post conflict security in Croatia to the relationship between state policy and gender based crime in the United States Shifting the focus of the term human security from its defensive emphasis to a more proactive notion of peace the book ultimately calls for addressing the structural issues that give rise to violence A hard hitting critique of the ways in which global inequalities are often overlooked by human security theorists Gender Violence and Human Security presents a much needed intervention into the study of power relations throughout the world

Gendered Wars, Gendered Memories Ayşe Gül Altınay, Andrea Pető, 2016-04-06 The Introduction of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781315584225> The twentieth century has been a century of wars genocides and violent political conflict a century of militarization and massive destruction It has simultaneously been a century of feminist creativity and struggle worldwide witnessing fundamental changes in the conceptions and everyday practices of gender and sexuality What are some of the connections between these two seemingly disparate characteristics of the past century And how do collective memories figure into these connections Exploring the ways in which wars and their memories are gendered this book contributes to the feminist search for new words and new methods in understanding the intricacies of war and memory From the Italian and Spanish Civil Wars to military regimes in Turkey and Greece from the Armenian genocide and the Holocaust to the wars in Abkhazia East Asia Iraq Afghanistan former Yugoslavia Israel and Palestine the chapters in this book address a rare selection of contexts and geographies from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives In recent years feminist scholarship has fundamentally changed the ways in which pasts particularly violent pasts have been conceptualized and narrated Discussing the participation of women in war sexual violence in times of conflict the use of visual and dramatic representations in memory research and the creative challenges to research and writing posed by feminist scholarship Gendered Wars Gendered Memories will appeal to scholars working at the intersection of military war memory and gender studies seeking to chart this emerging territory with feminist curiosity Female Combatants after Armed Struggle Niall Gilmartin, 2018-12-07 This book stems from a simple feminist curiosity that can be succinctly summed up into a single question what happens to combatant women after the war Based on in depth interviews with 40 research participants mostly former combatants within the Irish Republican Army IRA this book offers a critical exploration of republican women and conflict transition in the North of Ireland Drawing on the feminist theory of a continuum of violence this book finds that the dichotomous separation of war and peace within conventional approaches represents a gendered fiction Despite undertaking wartime roles that were empowering agentic and subversive this book finds that the post conflict moment as experienced by female combatants represents not peace and security but a continuity of gender discrimination violence injustice and insecurity The experiences and perspectives contained in this book challenge the discursive deployment of terms such as post conflict peace and security and moreover shed light on the many forms of post war activism undertaken by combatant women in pursuit of peace equality and security The book represents an important intervention in the field of gender political violence and peace and more specifically female combatants and conflict transition It is analytically significant in its exploration of the ways in which gender operates within non state military movements emerging from conflict and will be of interest to students and scholars alike Law's Ethical, Global and Theoretical Contexts

Upendra Baxi, Christopher McCrudden, Abdul Paliwala, 2015-10-22 Examines contemporary perspectives on law through Twining's scholarly work and with a focus on ethical global and theoretical contexts

Bridging Divides Through Gender-Just Citizenship Linda Eitrem Holmgren, 2025-02-24 This open access book explores how to build a gender just peace in which women's political citizenship is foregrounded through a case study of Northern Ireland It addresses the role that civil society can play in peacebuilding and in political life in deeply divided transitional societies It specifically focuses on women's groups and as such studies what grassroots peacebuilding across an ethnic divide can look like in practice Further it analyses what it means to build a gender equal citizenship based on the lived expertise and experiences of women's activism political participation and interethnic cooperation during and after conflict Based on material collected through interviews participant observation and official documents the book explores the potential for gender just political citizenship but also the risk of backlash in terms of women's rights during a transition from armed conflict to peace Essential reading for students and researchers in Political Science Gender Studies Peace and Conflict Studies and Transitional Justice Gender and Peacebuilding

Maureen P. Flaherty, Thomas G. Matyók, Sean Byrne, Hamdesa Tusso, 2015-10-16 The twenty first century has brought with it a shift from the notion of human security being located in secure national borders to the need to secure the safety freedom and dignity of all Despite efforts to equalize women's status in the world evidenced by changes in many international projects requiring a gender focus women and men experience most of the world in very different ways according to gender Further the reality is that humans who do not all fall neatly into one of these categories male or female often find their lives further challenged In the 1980s Peace and Conflict Studies first began to acknowledge and study the different experiences males and females have during war and peace Since then there have been books about women and war women working at grassroots levels to build peace women and transitional justice women and peace education and women s views of human security All of these works have contributed to the discourse of our changing world This book brings together some of those themes and voices and adds more with the final product being more than the sum of its parts We add to the conversation a book that considers foundational fundamental issues that span from the interpersonal to the global Many of the chapters describe empirical research completed with author and community shared here for the first time Part One is a collection of case studies documenting challenges and responses to peacebuilding by women from various parts of the world Part Two focuses on Peace and Conflict Studies PACS as a discipline examining not only what is but also what should be taught This section critiques today s efforts at teaching Peace and Conflict Studies and provides suggestions of how this important work might be shared in more open and equitable ways Part Three enters territory found even less in the PACS literature In this section our authors confront patriarchy engage in a discussion about the contribution queer theory makes to PACS and tussle with the notion of inclusivity with considerations of both gender and disability It then ends with a discussion about the contribution feminist methodologies make to PACS
