Business The Christian Advocate ,1907 Christian Advocate and Journal and Zion's Herald ,1907 After Work Shiori Shakuto, 2025-01-07 An ethnography of silver backpackers that offers a feminist perspective on what makes a good retirement in contemporary societies The moniker silver backpackers refers to Japanese couples who in their mid fifties to seventies move to Malaysia to enjoy their retirement Recent scholarship on Japan has revealed how the gendered division of labor impacts the lives of middle class workers and their families But how do cultural values live on or change when these professionals retire from work move on from identities built through salaried careers and embark on a new phase of life After Work takes up this question to focus on what comes after work and in the process expands our understanding of aging gender migration and the future of work Based on fifteen months of fieldwork in Kuala Lumpur and employing a transnational feminist framework After Work investigates moments of difference in the experiences of older women and men to examine patriarchal conversations that dominate ideas about contemporary retirement Shiori Shakuto argues that anxiety around self and belonging in retirement are instigated by the capitalist labor regime and the discourse of successful aging

both of which devalue nonremunerated activities conducted at home What is needed instead she contends is a re valuation of key domestic activities from caring for children to pursuing individual hobbies so that life can be appreciated in its entirety Shakuto also takes into account the fact that this transnational retirement is set in Malaysia a nation that Japan occupied during World War II and thereafter subject to decades of economic investment and resource exploitation by Japanese corporations Highlighting how historical cultural and racialized complexities entangle with intimate relations in increasingly connected Asian countries while simultaneously acknowledging how the boundaries between work and life blur ever more in contemporary society After Work complicates our perceptions of aging and a good retirement as well as our understandings of gender migration and the future of work as we know it

Shakespeare in the "Post"Colonies Amrita Dhar,Amrita Sen,2025-06-26 Shakespeare in the Post Colonies provides a wide ranging examination of engagements with and adaptations of Shakespeare in regions that were once under European colonial rule Arguing for the Post Colonies as a distinct category within Global Shakespeares this volume explores the reality of 21st century Shakespeares in geographies of post colonial and postcolonial inheritance such as continental Africa Australasia the Arab world the Indian subcontinent East Asia and the Americas As former colonies in Asia and Africa cross fifty and even seventy years of political independence contributors re examine the presence of Shakespeare in marginalised or politically disenfranchised communities interrogating how Shakespeare intersects with the internal and global power dynamics of post independence nations The essays cover a rich array of genres ranging from theatrical performances translations and cinematic adaptations to classroom strategies They turn to texts that have often gone ignored and give voice to Shakespeare appropriations by subaltern groups Essays address questions of race gender nationality indigeneity caste and class shedding new light on the diverse range of contemporary Shakespeare engagements across the global Post Colonies Angolite ,1992

Revising the Eighteenth-Century Novel Hilary Havens,2019-08-29 Recovers and analyzes novel manuscripts and post publication revisions to construct a new narrative about eighteenth century authorship

The Living Church ,1908 Appearing to Diminish Lorna Ellis,1999 Through analyses of The History of Miss Betsy Thoughtless The Female Quixote Evelina Emma Pride and Prejudice and Jane Eyre this genre study explores the ways in which the eighteenth and nineteenth century British female Bildungsroman fuses female power and autonomy with a conservative reintegration with society

The New York Times Index, 1928 Implicating the System Elspeth Kaiser-Derrick, 2019-03-15 Indigenous women continue to be overrepresented in Canadian prisons research demonstrates how their overincarceration and often extensive experiences of victimization are interconnected with and through ongoing processes of colonization Implicating the System Judicial Discourses in the Sentencing of Indigenous Women explores how judges navigate these issues in sentencing by examining related discourses in selected judgments from a review of 175 decisions The feminist theory of the victimization criminalization continuum informs Elspeth Kaiser Derrick's work. She examines its overlap with the Gladue analysis foregrounding decisions that effectively integrate gendered understandings of Indigenous women's victimization histories and problematizing those with less contextualized reasoning. Ultimately, she contends that judicial use of the victimization criminalization continuum deepens the Gladue analysis and augments its capacity to further its objectives of alternatives to incarceration. Kaiser Derrick discusses how judicial discourses about victimization intersect with those about rehabilitation and treatment and suggests associated problems particularly where prison is characterized as a place of healing. Finally, she shows how recent incursions into judicial discretion through legislative changes to the conditional sentencing regime that restrict the availability of alternatives to incarceration are particularly concerning for Indigenous women in the system.
