Entomopathogenic Nematodes as Biological Control Agents David I. Shapiro-Ilan, Edwin E. Lewis, 2024-09-23

Entomopathogenic nematodes EPNs are biocontrol agents that are used to control a wide variety of insect pests within agriculture and forestry In addition to their use as bio pesticides EPNs have a fascinating biology and are thus considered model organisms in ecology symbiosis and pathogenesis This book presents basic knowledge and diverse applications to illustrate how EPNs play an important role as potent biocontrol solutions This book is a must have for all pest management professionals including those practicing integrated pest management strategies Nematodes as Biocontrol Agents

Parwinder S. Grewal, Ralf-Udo Ehlers, David I. Shapiro-Ilan, 2005 This book documents and illustrates major developments in the use of nematodes for the biological control of insects and slugs It covers the use of three main types of nematodes entomopathogenic nematodes entomophilic nematodes and slug parasitic nematodes The biology commercial production formulation and quality control application technology strategy and safety of each of these three nematode groups is discussed The book also examines the application of nematodes in different cropping systems and the efficacy of nematodes against specific pests The potential of predatory nematodes to control plant parasitic nematodes and mycophagous nematodes to control fungal pathogens is also reviewed Nematodes as Biocontrol Agents Grant Stark, 2023

Biological Control of Plant-Parasitic Nematodes: Keith Davies, Yitzhak Spiegel, 2011-06-27 The offered volume intends to review the biological control theme of phytonematodes from several prospects ecological applicative as well as commercial state of the art understanding the mode of action of various biocontrol systems interaction between the plant host nematodes surface and microorganism s candidates for biocontrol extrapolation of the wide knowledge existed in another systems for understanding biocontrol processes C elegans as a model and lessons from other natural systems and exploiting advanced genomic tools to promote understanding biocontrol processes and thereafter improve specific biological control agents

Nematodes and the Biological Control of Insect Pests RA Bedding, RJ Akhurst, HK Kaya, 1993-01-01 Environmental and public health problems arising from the use of chemical insecticides have led to an increasing demand for alternatives for insect pest control Together with this widespread public concern resulting in governmental bans on many of the most effective insecticides and development of insecticide resistance has severely reduced the range of useful insecticides available Alternative control measures such as the biological control of pest insects with parasitoids and predators and microbial biocides have been in field use for several decades Although these alternatives are being continually improved most insect pests are nonetheless still controlled with chemical insecticides This book presents the latest work on the biological control of insects using nematodes it covers a range of topics that will help provide a better understanding of the potential problems involved in developing these nematodes as biological control agents Nematodes infect hundreds of different species from most orders of insects and affect their insect hosts in a variety of ways

Biocontrol Agents of Phytonematodes Tarique Hassan Askary, Paulo Roberto Pala Martinelli, 2015 Highlighting the use of biocontrol agents as an alternative to chemical pesticides in the management of plant parasitic nematodes this book reviews the current progress and developments in the field Tactful and successful exploitation of each biocontrol agent i e nematophagous fungi parasitic bacteria predaceous mites rhizobacteria mycorrhiza and predaceous nematodes has been described separately The contributors are 23 eminent nematologists and their information has been compiled in 19 chapters

Nematode Management in Plants P.C. Trivedi, 2003-07-01

Nematodes represent a unique challenge to agricultural research in that they combine the potential for serious reductions in growth and yield in a wide range of crop plants often with rather non specific and easily mis diagnosed symptoms Development of the concept of pest management and their implementation have led to a greater appreciation of the need for a wide range of tactics for nematode control The present book Nematode Management in Plants provides an authoritative review of many aspects of nematode control and progress in the field of nematode management programme The volume contains eighteen articles covering application of cropping sequences plant products and botanicals latex bioagents and biological control practices for the management of nematode pests Topics covering use of Azotobacter Bacillus thuringiensis and VAM Fungi for reducing nematode pests have been specially included to project their role in the present century Information on Integrated Nematode Management have been included with special emphasis on biocontrol management practices This book will be useful to Plant Pathologist Nematologist research and extension workers teachers and students

Nematode Biopesticides Anwar L. Bilgrami, Anish Khan, 2022-05-26 Plant Nematode Biopesticides presents the most current knowledge on various categories of biopesticides used in the management of nematode pests of crops or those that have significant potential as biological control agents. This book presents an exploratory and investigatory compilation and explanation of the actions and potentials of predatory nematodes, microbial agents, plant and other organic products, nanobiopesticides, and predatory invertebrates as biopesticides of nematode pests of agricultural crops. It is of unique importance and value as the only currently available single volume resource focusing on plant parasitic nematodes as the pests and biopesticides. In addition, the book addresses common reservations in using biopesticides either alone or in integrated pest management programs, providing advanced insights on various biopesticidal agents and products. Biopesticides may be microbial (nematodes, bacteria, fungi, virus, herbs, etc.), plant incorporated protectants (PIPs), plant products (citronella oil, neem oil, capsaicin, pyrethrin, etc.), synthetic biochemical molecules (pheromones, semiochemicals, plant extracts, or nanobiopesticides). Includes emerging areas of nanobiopesticides, chemical aspects of biopesticides, and plant exudates. Presents strategies for researching nematodal biological control. Addresses problems related to the mass production, manufacture, and formation of biopesticides from both animal and plant products. Sustainable Management of Nematodes in Agriculture, Vol.1: Organic Management Kamal Kishore Chaudhary, Mukesh Kumar Meghvansi, 2022-09-12 The present work covers many aspects of plant nematode management using organic strategies. These range from applications of latest understandings of fundamental concepts, mechanisms of nematode control, to modern tools and techniques used in efficacy evaluation. The Volume also includes some case studies. Applied aspects of organic nematode pest management. Chemical and physical control measures used for nematode management have their own implications. Against this backdrop, organic management of plant nematodes appears as a more rational and sustainable approach. However, concise information on the current topic is scarce. This book is a sincere effort to bridge this void as we aim to provide the most updated critical and in-depth knowledge synthesized by many experts working in the field of plant nematology worldwide. Nematode Disease Complexes in Agricultural Crops Mujeeb-ur Rahman Khan, 2025-07-01 Plant diseases where two or more pathogens are involved in the infection process are commonly termed as complex, and their diagnosis and subsequent control become more complicated and challenging. A disease complex is produced through synergistic interaction between pathogens such as plant nematodes and soil-borne fungi or bacteria. Disease complexes which result from the interaction between nematodes and other pathogens are found on a range of agricultural crops globally and cause great crop damage. Some pathogens, e.g., Fusarium, Xanthomonas, etc., become more aggressive in cohabitation with nematodes even if the inoculum density is low or the host cultivar is resistant. Plant nematodes can also act as vectors and carry fungi and bacteria to the susceptible tissue or introduce plant viruses into the host. Some nematodes also need a vector for their spread, causing serious diseases like pine wilt and red ring. Nematode Disease Complexes in Agricultural Crops discusses the roles plant nematodes may play in the formation of a disease complex It provides an account of the agricultural significance aetiology and epidemiology of important disease complexes and their management strategies based on integration of conventional current and innovative approaches Commercial Production of Nematode Antagonistic Bio-Agents Mr. Rohit Manglik,2024-07-28
