Community Responses to Disasters in the Pacific Rim Shu-Mei Huang, Elizabeth Maly, 2023-12-07 Community Responses to Disasters in the Pacific Rim presents different aspects of place making in displacement in the Pacific Rim region It focuses focus on how people respond and readjust to changes and captures the long term community development outcomes and the critical moments that facilitate this development Interdisciplinary and using diverse research approaches the book includes contributions by authors from a variety of disciplines across disaster research sociology urban planning architecture anthropology earth science and education Mixed methods are adopted to carry out the research projects that ground this volume including qualitative research for social scientific research ethnographic methods and more importantly Participatory Action Research PAR is also included by authors who have a background in design professions and a few indigenous scholars who are themselves survivors of disasters The chapters are structured in the following five thematic sections Learning as place making in displacement Gender and place making in response to displacement Community resilience in keeping indigenous sense of place Community Re building in displacement Transnational Place making Talk to the Actor Understanding how affected communities are recovering from their own perspectives this book will be of interest to academics in the fields of area studies political science disaster planning and human geography The Cultural Politics of Urban Development in South Korea HaeRan Shin, 2020-03-27 This book analyses the cultural politics of urban development in Gwangju South Korea and illustrates the implementation of state led arts based urban boosterism efforts in the context of political trauma and the desire for economic growth The book explores urban development that is complicated by the recent history of democratic uprising in Gwangju and it examines the dichotomy between cities as growth machines and progressive metropolises Actor oriented qualitative research methods are used to show how culture and economies can evolve from territorial conflicts The author argues that the quest for both growth and social justice can coexist in intertwined ways and create urban development Moreover recent events in Gwangju such as the May 18 Democratic Uprising and massacre are shown to act as a backdrop for state led urban boosterism and desire for economic growth at the same time as depicting a resistance to state corporate marketing plans which culminates in the eventual emergence of relatively coherent places of memory These convergences and divergences are comparable to the urban boosterism characteristic of Western cities The book contributes to the dialogue surrounding geography urban studies and postcolonial urban development and will be of interest to academics working in these fields as well as human geography planning urban politics and East Asian studies

Change and Continuity in the Pacific John Connell, Helen Lee, 2018-04-09 Thousands of studies have been conducted by social scientists in the villages and islands and increasingly in the towns of the Pacific Despite this there are few longitudinal studies of any great depth and sophistication in the region The contributors to this book have all conducted long term research in the islands of the Pacific During their visits and revisits they have witnessed first hand the many changes that have occurred in their fieldsites as well as observing elements of continuity They bring to their accounts a sense of their surprise at some of the unexpected elements of stability and of transformation The authors take a range of disciplinary approaches particularly geography and anthropology and their contributions reflect their deep knowledge of Pacific places some first visited more than 40 years ago Many of the chapters focus on aspects of socio economic change and continuity while others focus on specific issues such as the impact of both internal and international migration political and cultural change technological innovation and the experiences of children and youth By focusing on both change and continuity this collection of 11 case studies shows the complex relationships between Pacific societies and processes of modernity and globalisation By using a long term lens on particular places the authors are able to draw out the subtleties of change and its impacts while also paying attention to what in the contemporary Pacific has been left remarkably unchanged Filling a gap in the studies of the Pacific region this book will appeal to an interdisciplinary audience in the fields of anthropology development geography and Asia Pacific studies
