Interoperability

Interoperability is the ability of different systems to work together and exchange information. In the context of .NET and J2EE, it refers to the ability of these two platforms to interact and share data.

There are several ways to achieve interoperability between .NET and J2EE:

- Using Java Native Interface (JNI) to call native code.
- Using Java Remote Method Invocation (RMI) to call remote methods.
- Using Java Message Service (JMS) to send and receive messages.
- Using Java Transaction Service (JTS) to manage transactions.

Interoperability is a key requirement for many applications, and .NET and J2EE provide a variety of options to achieve it.
