

The background is a complex, abstract illustration of neural or biological structures. It features a central, large, star-shaped cell body with multiple branching processes extending outwards. These structures are rendered in a translucent, ethereal style with a color palette dominated by deep reds, purples, and blues. Interspersed among these structures are bright, glowing points of light and streaks of orange and yellow, suggesting electrical activity or energy flow. The overall effect is one of dynamic, organic complexity.
