Perry,2019-11-20 As the first African American president Barack Obama faced unique challenges and obstacles when addressing issues of race While rhetorical attacks on the basis of race directed at Obama were not unexpected many of the most consistent racially motivated criticisms of Obama were associated with his religious identity The Jeremiah Wright controversy gave way to the birther and secret Muslim conspiracy theories while anxieties about Obama's identity proved particularly potent as modes of political attack in the context of the war on terror This book examines the ways in which those attacks often originated in the rhetoric of the Christian Right and the ways in which these theories circulated amongst the Christian Right Perry argues that the intersections of race and religion in American politics produced rhetoric that often caricatured Obama as un American anti Christian and an enemy of the state By exploring the arguments used to cultivate these characterizations and tracing the roots of conspiracies that worked to delegitimize Obama's religious identity through racial claims and stereotypes a clearer picture emerges of what is at stake when people can no longer separate religious convictions from political arguments   True Christianity - Teacher's Manual PDF Dr. Paul G. Promising Nothing Neal J. Anthony,2021-02-23 Can the categories of classical Lutheran Christology be unleashed to express the vitality of christological existence an existence situated between Promise and experience If as Martin Luther famously asserted in his Heidelberg Disputation 1518 true theology and recognition of God are in the crucified Christ then such a theological point of departure not only bore radical implications for his Christology but indeed also bears profound significance for theological discussions around the Word of Promise its structure its experience its plurality With regard to the elaboration of the two natures of Jesus Christ such a point of departure permits a delineation of Promise the body of Promise who is bound to who suffers the nihil of human existence Which means such a point of departure affords us equally the opportunity to consider and probe the implications of the nihil as the medium of both threat and Promise Is this a promising threat Or a threatening Promise Ultimately Promise is delineated from within hermeneutical origins the christological function of Scripture the text and developed through to its diverse expression as the body of Promise translated into christological existence Within this context categories of classical Lutheran Christology begin to express new vitality Along the way the Word of Promise as developed within the trajectory of Luther s theology of the cross and his radical delineation of the two natures of Jesus Christ receives further sharpening within the context of discussion with such theological voices as John Caputo and Jacques Derrida Hans Holbein the Younger Albert Schweitzer Matthias Grunewald Carl Braaten Karl Barth Michael Welker and Samuel Terrien Ultimately we are
