Passions Of The Soul Les Passions De Lame:

The Passions of the Soul René Descartes, Stephen H. ; translator Voss, Genevieve ; foreword by Rodis-Lewis, 1988

Humour in the Arts Vivienne Westbrook, Shun-liang Chao, 2018-07-27 This collection demonstrates the usefulness of approaching texts verbal visual and aural through a framework of humour Contributors offer in depth discussions of humour in the West within a wider cultural historical context to achieve a coherent chronological sense of how humour proceeds from antiquity to modernity Reading humorously reveals the complexity of certain aspects of texts that other reading approaches have so far failed to reveal Humour in the Arts explores humour as a source of cultural formation that engages with ethical political and religious controversies whilst acquainting readers with a wide range of humorous structures and strategies used across Western cultures

The Adaptive Mind Richard John Koscijew, 2019-07-22 Having by an accenting effect extending for the purposes of interest as the matter that involves to those of concerns to the immediate surroundings that dwell upon certainty especially connected with those concerning scepticism that in as in fact quality or state of being certain is clearly established or assumed Although Greek scepticism entered on the value of enquiry and questioning scepticism is now the denial that knowledge or even rational belief is possible either about some specific subject matter e g ethics or in any area whatsoever Classical scepticism springs from the observation that the best method in some area seems to fall short of giving us contact with the truth e g there is a gulf between appearances and reality it frequently cites the conflicting judgements that our methods deliver with the effectuality that expresses doubt about truth becoming narrowly spaced that in turn demonstrates their marginality in at least ascribed of being indefinable In classic thought the various examples of this conflict were systemized in the tropes of Aenesidemus So that the scepticism of Pyrrho and the new Academy was a system of argument and inasmuch as opposing dogmatism and particularly the philosophical system building of the Stoics

Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture Freya Sierhuis, 2016-05-13 Bringing together scholars from literature and the history of ideas Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture explores new ways of negotiating the boundaries between cognitive and bodily models of emotion and between different versions of the will as active or passive In the process it juxtaposes the historical formation of such ideas with contemporary philosophical debates It frames a dialogue between rhetoric and medicine politics and religion in order to examine the relationship between mind and body and between experience and the senses Some chapters discuss literature in studies of Shakespeare Donne and Milton other essays concentrate on philosophical arguments both Aristotelian and Galenic models from antiquity and new mechanistic formations in Descartes Hobbes and Spinoza A powerful sense of paradox emerges in treatments of the passions in the early modern period also reflected in new literary and philosophical forms in which inwardness was displayed analysed and studied the autobiography the essay the soliloquy genres which rewrite the formation of subjectivity At the same time the frame of reference moves outwards from the world of interior states to encounter the passions on a public stage thus reconnecting literary study with the history of political thought In between the abstract theory of political ideas and the inward selves of literary history lies a field of intersections waiting to be explored The passions like human nature itself are infinitely variable and provoke both literary experimentation and philosophical imagination Passions and Subjectivity in Early Modern Culture thus makes new connections between embodiment selfhood and the emotions in order to suggest both new models of the self and new models for interdisciplinary history Grand Dictionnaire Français-anglais Et Anglais-français Charles Fleming, J.

Tibbins, 1845 The Body as a Mirror of the Soul Lisa Devriese, 2021-10-05 Physiognomy the history of racial classifications and the interplay between natural philosophy medicine and ethics The idea of the body as a mirror of the soul has fascinated mankind throughout history Being able to see through an individual and drawing conclusions on their character solely based on a selection of external features is the subject of physiognomy and has a long tradition running well into recent times However the pre modern especially medieval background of this discipline has remained underexplored The selected case studies in this volume each contribute to a better understanding of the history of physiognomy from antiquity to the Renaissance and offer discussions on unedited treatises and on the application development and reception of this field of knowledge as well as on visual sources inspired by physiognomic theory Contributors Enik B k s Hungarian Academy of Sciences Jo l Biard University of Tours Lisa Devriese KU Leuven Maria Fernanda Ferrini University of Macerata Christophe Grellard cole Pratique des Hautes tudes Lu s Campos Ribeiro University of Lisbon Maria Michela Sassi University of Pisa Oleg Voskoboynikov Higher School of Economics Moscow Steven J Williams New Mexico Highlands University Joseph Ziegler University of Haifa Gabriella Zuccolin University of Pavia Pineal Region Lesions Ioan Stefan Florian, 2020-11-04

Neurosurgical lesions of the pineal region are extremely rare accounting for roughly 1% of the total number of neurosurgical expansive lesions in modern practice This book offers an up to date review of the relevant literature combined with the personal perspectives of some highly experienced figures in the field The book is divided into two main parts the first of which offers an overview of the pineal region from an anatomic pathologic imaging and therapeutic perspective Special attention is given to surgical approaches to pineal region lesions Microsurgical techniques are presented together with detailed indications regarding specific locations of these lesions specific complications and controversial aspects concerning some of the approaches A dedicated chapter addresses endoscopic techniques their indications and limitations Adjuvant therapies are also discussed along with their particular indications and debated aspects In turn the chapters in the second part cover specific lesions such as pineal region tumors vascular lesions and cystic and cyst like lesions Regarding pineal region tumors the most frequent pathologies are presented in the most comprehensive and practical manner possible with special attention to the appropriate therapeutic management for each type Further there is a dedicated chapter on pineal region cysts Given its depth of content the book will allow neurosurgeons and specialists to greatly expand their understanding of pineal region lesions in daily clinical practice

Apostles in England Arline Meyer, Sir James

Thornhill, 1996 Raphael's seven large gouache paintings called cartoons that weavers used in creating tapestries for the Sistine Chapel nearly 500 years ago exerted enormous influence on the development of painting in England in the 18th century This volume focuses on copies of the cartoons painted between 1729 and 1731 by Sir James Thornhill England's foremost history painter Thornhill's painted copies together with a variety of engraved versions were pivotal in the development of the British School an extension of Thornhill's early efforts to formalize the training of British artists these copies played an important part in the prelude to the founding of the Royal Academy in 1786 The intention was also political to bolster England's position in relation to France by showing that the very best of Raphael was lodged on British soil Essays explore issues about the use and reuse of the past and about the art of copying as a reproductive as well as a creative process

Philosophical Foundations of Evolutionary Psychology August John Hoffman, 2015-12-24 Philosophical Foundations of Evolutionary Psychology describes the unique relationship between early schools of thought in Greek philosophy modern psychology and most recently evolutionary psychology This volume provides the reader with a concise history and description of some of the most important theories used in understanding human behaviors i.e. the mind/body duality the essence of human nature and how humans have evolved to cooperate with each other and how the physical characteristics of communities have contributed to positive i.e. prosocial or destructive i.e. antisocial behavior It explores human nature from the philosophical perspectives of Socrates Plato Descartes Locke and Rousseau as contributing factors to the development of modern psychology i.e. Structuralism Functionalism Behaviorism and Biopsychology that ultimately is combined with evolutionary psychology Philosophical Foundations of Evolutionary Psychology also incorporates various topics of psychology that support the development of evolutionary psychology such as language and communication gender differences aggression cooperative behaviors and natural selection
