The book progresses from defining Disney Easter eggs and setting the historical stage to exploring connections between film franchises and Imagineering, and ultimately the use of audio cues. This approach provides a comprehensive understanding of how Disney's creators have woven intricate layers of interconnected storytelling into their work, appealing to Disney enthusiasts, film buffs, and anyone interested in visual storytelling.

Ontology-based Procedural Modelling of Traversable Buildings Composed by Arbitrary Shapes Telmo Adão, Luís Magalhães, Emanuel Peres, 2016-09-26. This book presents a new procedural modelling methodology capable of producing traversable buildings constrained by arbitrary convex shapes based on a pure treemap approach. The authors establish a process to change the format of interior rooms through wall number modification and offer an adaptation of a fake concave technique to support non-convex building layouts. It will also include a proposal for an extensible building ontology to guide the methodology process and support the generation of other architectural style buildings, e.g., Roman houses. A presentation of an ontology-based grammar to provide the procedural modelling methodology with production rules. Experimental computer-managed processes for the stochastic generation of buildings. Most of the existing solutions regarding building interiors only focus on the generation of floor plans, mainly composed of rectangular shapes. Yet there are a wide variety of ancient and contemporary buildings that are composed of shapes other than rectangles both internally and externally.

Ontology based Procedural Modelling of Traversable Buildings Composed by Arbitrary Shapes will address this by providing the Procedural Modelling field with processes and techniques capable of properly supporting for example digital preservation of cultural heritage or extensive virtual urban environment productions specifically ones involving the generation reconstruction of virtual buildings with such geometric requirements
