Monstrous Bodies/political Monstrosities in Early Modern Europe Laura Lunger Knoppers, Joan B. Landes, 2004 Multi disciplinary in approach cross European in scope this volume explores links between the political the monstrous in Europe from the Renaissance to the 19th century These essays stress the continual reinvention polemical applications of the monstrous Holy Monsters, Sacred Grotesques Michael E. Heyes, 2018-08-10 Holy Monsters Sacred Grotesques examines the intersection of religion and monstrosity in a variety of different time periods in the hopes of addressing two gaps in scholarship within the field of monster studies The first part of the volume running from the medieval to the Early Modern period focuses upon the view of the monster through non majority voices and accounts from those who were themselves branded as monsters Overlapping partially with the Early Modern and proceeding to the present day the contributions of the second part of the volume attempt to problematize the dichotomy of secular religious through a close look at the monsters this period has wrought The Civil Wars After 1660 Matthew Neufeld, 2013 Drawing upon the interdisciplinary field of social memory studies this book opens up new vistas on the historical and political culture of early modern England This book examines the conflicting ways in which the civil wars and Interregnum were remembered constructed and represented in seventeenth and eighteenth century England It argues that during the late Stuart period public remembering of the English civil wars and Interregnum was not concerned with re fighting the old struggle but rather with commending and justifying or contesting and attacking the Restoration settlements After the return of King Charles II the political nation had to address the question of remembering and forgetting the recent conflict The answer was to construct a polity grounded on remembering and scapegoating puritan politics and piety The proscription of the puritan impulse enacted by the Restoration settlements was supported by a public memory of the 1640s and 1650s which was used to show that Dissenters could not and should not be trusted with power Drawing upon the interdisciplinary field of social memory studies this book offers a new perspective on the historical and political cultures of early modern England and will be of significant interest to social cultural and political historians as well as scholars working in memory studies Matthew Neufeld is Lecturer in early modern British history at the University of Saskatchewan Canada Literatures of Exile in the English Revolution and its Aftermath, 1640-1690 a foreword by Lisa Jardine, 2016-12-05 Original and thought provoking this collection sheds new light on an important yet understudied feature of seventeenth century England s political and cultural landscape exile Through an essentially literary lens exile is examined both as physical departure from England to France Germany the Low Countries and America and as inner mental withdrawal In the process a strikingly wide variety of contemporary sources comes under scrutiny including letters diaries plays treatises translations and poetry The extent to which the richness and disparateness of these modes of writing militates against or constructs a recognisable rhetoric of exile is one of the book s overriding themes Also under consideration is the degree to which exilic writing in this period is intended for public consumption a product of private reflection or characterised by a coalescence of the two Importantly this volume extends the chronological range of the English Revolution beyond 1660 by demonstrating that exile during the Restoration formed a meaningful continuum with displacement during the civil wars of the mid century This in depth and overdue study of prominent and hitherto obscure exiles conspicuously diverse in political and religious allegiance yet inextricably bound by the shared experience of displacement will be of interest to scholars in a range of disciplines Rethinking Medical

Humanities Rinaldo F. Canalis, Massimo Ciavolella, Valeria Finucci, 2022-12-19 Medical Humanities may be broadly conceptualized as a discipline wherein medicine and its specialties intersect with those of the humanities and social sciences As such it is a hybrid area of study where the impact of disease and healing science on culture is assessed and expressed in the particular language of the disciplines concerned with the human experience However as much as at first sight this definition appears to be clear it does not reflect how the interaction of medicine with the humanities has evolved to become a separate field of study In this publication we have explored through the analysis of a group of selected multidisciplinary essays the dynamics of this process The essays predominantly address the interaction of literature philosophy art art history ethics and education with medicine and its specialties from the classical period to the present Particular attention has been given to the Medieval Early Modern and Enlightenment periods To avoid a rigid compartmentalization of the book based on individual fields of study we opted for a fluid division into multidisciplinary sections reflective of the complex interactions of the included works with medicine For the Sake of Learning, 2016-06-27 In this tribute to Anthony Grafton a preeminent historian of early modern European intellectual and textual culture and of classical scholarship fifty eight contributors present new research across the many areas in which Grafton has been active The articles span topics from late antiquity to the 20th century from Europe to North American and a full spectrum of fields of learning including art history the history of science classics Jewish and oriental studies church history and theology English and German literature political social and book history Major themes include the communities and dynamics of the Republic of Letters the reception of classical texts libraries and book culture the tools genres and methods of learning Contributors are James S Amelang Ann Blair Christopher S Celenza Stuart Clark Thomas Dandele Lorraine Daston Mordechai Feingold Paula Findlen Anja Silvia Goeing Robert Goulding Alastair Hamilton James Hankins Nicholas Hardy Kristine Louise Haugen Bruce Janacek Lisa Jardine Henk Jan de Jonge Diane Greco Josefowicz Roland Kany Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann Arthur Kiron Jill Krayer Urs B Leu Scott Mandelbrote Suzanne Marchand Margaret Meserve Paul Michel Peter N Miller Glenn W Most Martin Mulsow Paul Nelles William R Newman C Philipp E Nothaft Laurie Nussdorfer Jürgen Oelkers Brian W Ogilvie Nicholas Popper Virginia Reinburg Daniel Rosenberg Sarah Gwyneth Ross Ingrid D Rowland David Ruderman Hester Schadee Wilhelm Schmidt Biggemann Richard Serjeantson Salvatore Settis Jonathan Sheehan William H Sherman Nancy Siraisi Jacob Soll Peter Stallybrass Daniel Stolzenberg N M Swerdlow Dirk van Miert Kasper van Ommen Arnoud Visser Joanna Weinberg and Helmut Zedelmaier

Beholding Disability in Renaissance England Allison P. Hobgood, 2024-11-04 Human variation has always existed though it has been conceived of and responded to variably Beholding Disability in Renaissance England interprets sixteenth and seventeenth century literature to explore the fraught distinctiveness of human bodyminds and the deliberate ways they were constructed in early modernity as able and not Hobgood examines early modern disability ableism and disability gain purposefully employing these contemporary concepts to make clear how disability has historically been disavowed and avowed too Thus this book models how modern ideas and terms make the weight of the past more visible as it marks the present and cultivates dialogue in which early modern and contemporary theoretical models are mutually informative Beholding Disability also uncovers crucial counterdiscourses circulating in the English Renaissance that opposed cultural fantasies of ability and had a keen sensibility toward non normative embodiments Hobgood reads impairments as varied as epilepsy stuttering disfigurement deafness chronic pain blindness and castration in order to understand not just powerful fictions of ability present during the Renaissance but also the somewhat paradoxical surprising ways these ableist ideals provided creative fodder for many Renaissance writers and thinkers Ultimately Beholding Disability asks us to reconsider what we think we know about being human both in early modernity and today many ways to prevent and punish disorder Merrick's articles on suicide and sodomy not only revisit some celebrated incidents the deaths of the dragoons Bourdeaux and Humain who shot themselves on 25 December 1773 and notorious characters the pederast marquis de Villette and tribade mademoiselle de Raucourt but also document patterns in the lives and deaths of ordinary men and women Based like the articles on marital disputes on extensive archival research they investigate changes in jurisprudence and mentalities during the eighteenth century As a whole this volume challenges simplistic assumptions about absolutism Enlightenment and Revolution Given the number of subjects addressed and the nature of the issues involved the engaging articles will interest many readers

Catastrophism Sasha Lilley, David McNally, Eddie Yuen, James Davis, 2012-10-05 We live in catastrophic times The world is reeling from the deepest economic crisis since the Great Depression with the threat of further meltdowns ever looming Global warming and myriad dire ecological disasters worsen with little if any action to halt them their effects rippling across the planet in the shape of almost biblical floods fires droughts and hurricanes Governments warn that there is no alternative to the bitter medicine they prescribe or risk devastating financial or social collapse The right whether religious or secular views the present as catastrophic and wants to turn the clock back The left fears for the worst but hopes some good will emerge from the rubble Visions of the apocalypse and predictions of impending doom abound Across the political spectrum a culture of fear reigns Catastrophism explores the politics of apocalypse on the left and right in the environmental movement and examines why the lens of catastrophe can distort our understanding of the dynamics at the heart of these numerous disasters and fatally impede our ability to transform the world Lilley McNally Yuen and Davis probe the reasons why catastrophic thinking is so prevalent and challenge the belief that it is only out of the ashes that a better society may be born The authors argue that those who care about social justice and the environment should jettison doomsaying even as it relates to indisputably apocalyptic climate change Far from calling people to arms they suggest catastrophic fear often results in passivity and paralysis and at worst reactionary politics
