Sculpture and the Museum ChristopherR. Marshall,2017-07-05 Sculpture and the Museum is the first in depth examination of the varying roles and meanings assigned to sculpture in museums and galleries during the modern period from neo classical to contemporary art practice It considers a rich array of curatorial strategies and settings in order to examine the many reasons why sculpture has enjoyed a position of such considerable importance and complexity within the institutional framework of the museum and how changes to the museum have altered in turn the ways that we perceive the sculpture within it In particular the contributors consider the complex issue of how best to display sculpture across different periods and according to varying curatorial philosophies Sculptors discussed include Canova Rodin Henry Moore Flaxman and contemporary artists such as Rebecca Horn Rachel Whiteread Mark Dion and Olafur Eliasson with a variety of museums in America Canada and Europe presented as case studies Underlying all of these discussions is a concern to chart the critical importance of the acquisition placement and display of sculpture in museums and to explore the importance of sculptures as a forum for the expression of programmatic statements of power prestige and the museum s own sense of itself in relation to its audiences and its broader institutional aspirations Sculptural Materiality in the Age of Conceptualism MarinR. Sullivan,2017-07-05 Sculptural Materiality in the Age of Conceptualism is structured around four distinct but interrelated projects initially realized in Italy between 1966 and 1972 Yayoi Kusama s Narcissus Garden Michelangelo Pistoletto s Newspaper Sphere Sfera di giornali Robert Smithson s Asphalt Rundown and Joseph Beuys s Arena These works all utilized non traditional materials collaborative patronage models and alternative modes of display to create a spatially and temporally dispersed arena of matter and action with photography serving as a connective material thread within the sculpture it reflects While created by major artists of the postwar period these particular projects have yet to receive substantive art historical analysis especially from a sculptural perspective Here they anchor a transnational narrative in which sculpture emerged as a node a center of transaction comprising multiple material phenomenon including objects images and actors When seen as entangled polymorphous entities these works suggest that the charge of sculpture in the late postwar period came from its concurrent existence as both three dimensional phenomena and photographic image in the interchanges among the materials that continue to activate and alter the constitution of sculpture within the contemporary sphere
