Passing For White Passing For White:

Passing/Out Kelby Harrison, 2016-05-13 Passing Out adopts an inter generational inter disciplinary and inter subjective approach to the closeting and revelation of sexual identity exploring questions of embodiment ethics and identity in relation to passing or being out Presenting the latest theoretical and empirical work from scholars working across a range of disciplines including sociology cultural and media studies philosophy gender studies literary studies and history this book discusses the nature and history of sexual identity and the manner in which identity functions within social relationships In recognition of the transformative impact of queer theory upon the study of sexuality and identity Passing Out constructs a dialogue between the work of scholars whose intellectual careers began prior to the advent of queer theory and those whose work has been more immediately and directly shaped by this approach with a view to breaking new ground in the field of identity Shedding light on the meaning of passing and outing in relation to identity this volume will be of interest to social scientists and scholars of the humanities working on questions of sexuality identity embodiment and ethics Passing, Posing, Persuasion Christina Yi, Andre Haag, Catherine Ryu, 2023-11-30 Passing Posing Persuasion interrogates the intersections between cultural production identity and persuasive messaging that idealized inclusion and unity across Japan s East Asian empire 1895 1945 Japanese propagandists drew on a pan Asian rhetoric that sought to persuade colonial subjects to identify with the empire while simultaneously maintaining the distinctions that subjugated them and marking their attempts to self identify as Japanese as inauthentic illegitimate forms of passing or posing Visions of inclusion encouraged assimilation but also threatened to disrupt the very logic of imperialism itself If there was no immutable difference between Taiwanese and Japanese subjects for example then what justified the subordination of the former to the latter The chapters emphasize the plurality and heterogeneity of empire together with the contradictions and tensions of its ideologies of race nation and ethnicity The paradoxes of passing posing and persuasion opened up unique opportunities for colonial contestation and negotiation in the arenas of cultural production including theater fiction film magazines and other media of entertainment and propaganda consumed by audiences in mainland Japan and its colonies From Meiji adaptations of Shakespeare and interwar mass media and colonial fiction to wartime propaganda films competing narratives sought to shape how ambiguous identities were performed and read All empires necessarily engender multiple kinds of border crossings and transgressions in the case of Japan the policing and blurring of boundaries often pivoted on the outer markers of ethno national identification This book showcases how actors in multiple senses of the word from all parts of the empire were able to move in and out of different performative identities thus troubling its ontological boundaries Passing Interest Julie Cary Nerad, 2014-07-01 Explores how the trope of racial passing continues to serve as a touchstone for gauging public beliefs and anxieties about race in this multiracial era The first volume to focus on the trope of racial passing in novels memoirs television and films published or produced between 1990 and 2010 Passing Interest takes the scholarly conversation on passing into the twenty first century With contributors working in the fields of African American studies American studies cultural studies film studies literature and media studies this book offers a rich interdisciplinary survey of critical approaches to a broad range of contemporary passing texts Contributors frame recent passing texts with a wide array of cultural discourses including immigration law the Post Soul Aesthetic contemporary political satire affirmative action the paradoxes of colorblindness and the rhetoric of post racialism Many explore whether one drop of blood still governs our sense of racial identity or to what extent contemporary American culture allows for the racially indeterminate individual Some essays open the scholarly conversation to focus on ethnic passers individuals who complicate the traditional black white binary while others explore the slippage between traditional racial passing and related forms of racial performance including blackface minstrelsy and racial masquerade

Projections of Passing N. Megan Kelley, 2016-04-04 A key concern in postwar America was who's passing for whom Analyzing representations of passing in Hollywood films reveals changing cultural ideas about authenticity and identity in a country reeling from a hot war and moving towards a cold one After World War II passing became an important theme in Hollywood movies one that lasted throughout the long 1950s as it became a metaphor to express postwar anxiety The potent imagined fear of passing linked the language and anxieties of identity to other postwar concerns including cultural obsessions about threats from within Passing created an epistemological conundrum that threatened to destabilize all forms of identity not just the longstanding American color line separating white and black In the imaginative fears of postwar America identity was under siege on all fronts Not only were there blacks passing as whites but women were passing as men gays passing as straight communists passing as good Americans Jews passing as gentiles and even aliens passing as humans and vice versa Fears about communist infiltration invasion by aliens collapsing gender and sexual categories racial ambiguity and miscegenation made their way into films that featured narratives about passing N Megan Kelley shows that these films transcend genre discussing Gentleman's Agreement Home of the Brave Pinky Island in the Sun My Son John Invasion of the Body Snatchers I Married a Monster from Outer Space Rebel without a Cause Vertigo All about Eve and Johnny Guitar among others Representations of passing enabled Americans to express anxieties about who they were and who they imagined their neighbors to be By showing how pervasive the anxiety about passing was and how it extended to virtually every facet of identity Projections of Passing broadens the literature on passing in a fundamental way It also opens up important counter narratives about postwar America and how the language of identity developed in this critical period of American history

Performativity & Belonging Vikki Bell, 1999-10-25 This book explores belonging as a performative achievement The contributors investigate how identities are embodied and effected and how lines of allegiance and fracture are produced and reproduced Questions of difference are tackled from a perspective that attends to the complexities of history and politics Drawing on sociology philosophy and anthropology this collection brings together leading commentators including Judith Butler Paul Gilroy and

Arjun Appadurai as well as a range of new scholars It examines questions of visibility political affiliation ethics mimesis spatiality passing and diversity in modes of embodied difference The volume advances conceptual and theoretical issues through testing va

Racechanges Susan Gubar, 2000-04-20 When the actor Ted Danson appeared in blackface at a 1993 Friars Club roast he ignited a firestorm of protest that landed him on the front pages of the newspapers rebuked by everyone from talk show host Montel Williams to New York City's then mayor David Dinkins Danson's use of blackface was shocking but was the furious pitch of the response a triumphant indication of how far society has progressed since the days when blackface performers were the toast of vaudeville or was it also an uncomfortable reminder of how deep the chasm still is separating black and white America In Racechanges White Skin Black Face in American Culture Susan Gubar who fundamentally changed the way we think about women's literature as co author of the acclaimed The Madwoman in the Attic turns her attention to the incendiary issue of race Through a far reaching exploration of the long overlooked legacy of minstrelsy cross racial impersonations or racechanges throughout modern American film fiction poetry painting photography and journalism she documents the indebtedness of mainstream artists to African American culture and explores the deeply conflicted psychology of white guilt The fascinating racechanges Gubar discusses include whites posing as blacks and blacks passing for white blackface on white actors in The Jazz Singer Birth of a Nation and other movies as well as on the faces of black stage entertainers African American deployment of racechange imagery during the Harlem Renaissance including the poetry of Anne Spencer the black and white prints of Richard Bruce Nugent and the early work of Zora Neale Hurston white poets and novelists from Vachel Lindsay and Gertrude Stein to John Berryman and William Faulkner writing as if they were black white artists and writers fascinated by hypersexualized stereotypes of black men and nightmares and visions of the racechanged baby Gubar shows that unlike African Americans who often are forced to adopt white masks to gain their rights white people have chosen racial masquerades which range from mockery and mimicry to an evolving emphasis on inter racial mutuality and mutability Drawing on a stunning array of illustrations including paintings film stills computer graphics and even magazine morphings Racechanges sheds new light on the persistent pervasiveness of racism and exciting aesthetic possibilities for lessening the distance between blacks and whites

Passing Brooke Kroeger, 2004-12-01 Despite the many social changes of the last half century many Americans still pass black for white gay for straight and now in many new ways as well We tend to think of passing in negative terms as deceitful cowardly a betrayal of one's self But this compassionate book reveals that many passers today are people of good heart and purpose whose decision to pass is an attempt to bypass injustice and to be more truly themselves Passing tells the poignant complicated life stories of a black man who passed as a white Jew a white woman who passed for black a working class Puerto Rican who passes for privileged a gay Conservative Jewish seminarian and a lesbian naval officer who passed for straight and a respected poet who radically shifts persona to write about rock n roll The stories interwoven with others from history literature and contemporary life explore the many forms passing still takes in our culture the social realities which make it an option and its logistical emotional and moral consequences We learn that there are still too many institutions environments and social situations that force honorable people to twist their lives into painful deceit ridden contortions for reasons that do not hold Passing is an intellectually absorbing exploration of a phenomenon that has long intrigued scholars inspired novelists and made hits of movies like The Crying Game and Boys Don't Cry

Passing Anna Camaiti Hostert, 2007 Starting from this consideration Camaiti Hostert's book turns the meaning of the social practice of passing upside down and makes it become a universal tool to redefine any social ethnic gender and religious identity Based on the Foucauldian consideration that total visibility is a trap the author focuses her attention on the interstices on the spaces off and on the narratives between the lines The emphasis is on the transitional moment in a Gramscian sense the fluid state flowing between the starting and ending points becomes the place of a counter hegemony which helps not only to rewrite history but also to change the political status quo Camaiti Hostert's book emphasizes hybridity and displacement passing is a tool to redefine in our contemporary times the role of social practices as well as the personal self

BOOK JACKET Passing and the Fictions of Identity Elaine K. Ginsberg, 1996-04-29 Passing refers to the process whereby a person of one race gender nationality or sexual orientation adopts the guise of another Historically this has often involved black slaves passing as white in order to gain their freedom More generally it has served as a way for women and people of color to access male or white privilege In their examination of this practice of crossing boundaries the contributors to this volume offer a unique perspective for studying the construction and meaning of personal and cultural identities These essays consider a wide range of texts and moments from colonial times to the present that raise significant questions about the political motivations inherent in the origins and maintenance of identity categories and boundaries Through discussions of such literary works as Running a Thousand Miles for Freedom The Autobiography of an Ex Coloured Man Uncle Tom's Cabin The Hidden Hand Black Like Me and Giovanni's Room the authors examine issues of power and privilege and ways in which passing might challenge the often rigid structures of identity politics Their interrogation of the semiotics of behavior dress language and the body itself contributes significantly to an understanding of national racial gender and sexual identity in American literature and culture Contextualizing and building on the theoretical work of such scholars as Judith Butler Diana Fuss Marjorie Garber and Henry Louis Gates Jr Passing and the Fictions of Identity will be of value to students and scholars working in the areas of race gender and identity theory as well as U S history and literature Contributors Martha Cutter Katharine Nicholson Ings Samira Kawash Adrian Piper Valerie Rohy Marion Rust Julia Stern Gayle Wald Ellen M Weinauer Elizabeth Young

Burdens of Belonging Jessica Vasquez-Tokos, 2025-04-15 How systemic racism and settler colonialism shapes the lives of people in the US today W E B Du Bois famously pondered a question he felt society was asking of him as a Black man in America How does it feel to be a problem Jessica Vasquez Tokos uses this question to examine how communities of color are constructed as problems and the numerous ramifications this has for their life trajectories Uncovering how various members of racial groups understand and react to what their racial status means for inclusion in or exclusion from the nation Burdens of Belonging examines the historical underpinnings of the racial colonial hierarchy the influence this hierarchy has on lived experience and how racialized life experience influences the feelings perspectives and goals of people of color Burdens of Belonging is based on interviews with people in Oregon from various racial groups and brings multiple racial groups opinions together to weigh in on the ways in which race contours national belonging and affects sense of self everyday life and wellness and aspirations for the future This book highlights the value of inquiring how people from various racial backgrounds perceive their fit in the nation and reveals how race matters to belonging in multifaceted ways Filling a gap in research on the everyday effects of accumulated racial disadvantage Burdens of Belonging brings to the fore an analysis of how racial inequality settler colonialism and race relations penetrate multiple layers of social life and become etched into bodies and futures Passing Lipika Pelham,2021-12-01 Considers the many different forms of passing race ethnicity sexuality gender Passing into the present Sinead Moynihan,2013-07-19 This book is the first full length study of contemporary American fiction of passing Its takes as its point of departure the return of racial and gender passing in the 1990s in order to make claims about wider trends in contemporary American fiction The book accounts for the return of tropes of passing in fiction by Phillip Roth Percival Everett Louise Erdrich Danzy Senna Jeffrey Eugenides and Paul Beatty by arguing meta critical and meta fictional tool These writers are attracted to the trope of passing because passing narratives have always foregrounded the notion of textuality in relation to the illegibility of black subjects passing as white The central argument of this book then is that contemporary narratives of passing are concerned with articulating and unpacking an analogy between passing and authorship Aimed at students and researchers it promises to inaugurate dialogue on the relationships between passing postmodernism and authorship in contemporary American fiction Near Black Baz Dreisinger,2008 A provocative look at the shifting contours of racial identity in America European Waterways Marian Martin,2003 Anyone unaccustomed to the bewildering array of European waterway signs symbols rules and regulations will find this book a blessing Marian Martin demystifies this new world for the visitor eliminating the potential for problems arising from being unfamiliar or unprepared Neither Black Nor White Yet Both Werner Sollors,1999 Why can a white woman give birth to a black baby while a black woman can never give birth to a white baby in the United States What makes racial passing so different from social mobility Why are interracial and incestuous relations often confused or conflated in literature making miscegenation appear as if it were incest Werner Sollors examines these questions and others in Neither Black nor White yet Both a fully researched investigation of literary works that in the past have been read more for a black white contrast of either or than for an interracial realm of neither nor both and in between From the origins of the term race to the cultural sources of the Tragic Mulatto and from the calculus of color to the retellings of various plots Sollors examines what we know about race analyzing recurrent motifs in scientific and legal works as well as in fiction drama and poetry Neo-Passing Mollie Godfrey, Vershawn Young, 2018-02-21 African Americans once passed as whites to escape the pains of racism Today's neo passing has pushed the old idea of passing in extraordinary new directions A white author uses an Asian pen name heterosexuals live out as gay and irony of ironies whites try to pass as black Mollie Godfrey and Vershawn Ashanti Young present essays that explore practices performances and texts of neo passing in our supposedly postracial moment The authors move from the postracial imagery of Angry Black White Boy and the issues of sexual orientation and race in ZZ Packer's short fiction to the politics of Dave Chappelle's skits as a black President George W Bush Together the works reveal that the questions raised by neo passing questions about performing and contesting identity in relation to social norms remain as relevant today as in the past Contributors Derek Adams Christopher M Brown Martha J Cutter Marcia Alesan Dawkins Michele Elam Alisha Gaines Jennifer Glaser Allyson Hobbs Brandon J Manning Loran Marsan Lara Narcisi Eden Osucha Gayle Wald and Deborah Elizabeth Whaley Detecting the South in Fiction, Film, and Television Deborah E. Barker, Theresa Starkey, 2019-10-23 Detecting the South in Fiction Film the role of land as a source of income an ecologically threatened space or a place of seclusion and the continued presence of the southern gothic in recurring elements such as dilapidated plantation houses swamps family secrets and the occult Twenty two critical essays probe how southern detective narratives intersect with popular genre forms such as neo noir hard boiled fiction the dark thriller suburban noir amateur sleuths journalist detectives and television police procedurals Alongside essays by scholars Detecting the South in Fiction Film and Television presents pieces by authors of detective and crime fiction including Megan Abbott and Ace Atkins who address the extent to which the South and its artistic traditions influenced their own works By considering the diversity of authors and characters associated with the genre this accessible collection provides an overdue examination of the historical political and aesthetic contexts out of which the southern detective narrative emerged and continues to evolve When Baseball Isn't White, Straight and Male Lisa Doris Alexander, 2012-11-14 This book analyzes how sportswriters have discussed issues of race ethnicity nationality sexual identity age and class within professional baseball from 1998 to the present Each chapter looks at the media representations of a specific controversy the 1998 home run chase Alex Rodriguez's historic contract signing Barry Bonds home runs Mike Piazza's I am not gay press conference Effa Manley's Hall of Fame induction the celebration of Jackie Robinson's legacy as well as the various incidents involving performance enhancing drugs The author puts it together and reveals what messages are being conveyed by the issues 100 Classic Hikes in Washington Ira Spring, Harvey Manning, 2013-01-31 Full color coffee table quality hiking guidebook with lush hand drawn trail maps Written by Washington's godfathers of hiking guidebooks Harvey Manning and Ira Spring In a state rich with luscious trails these hikes are the ones you can't miss or at least must start with 100 Classic Hikes in Washington is the progeny of Washington's first hiking guidebook and is the best selling guidebook of all time There's a reason it's gorgeous

Screen Saviors
Hernan Vera,Andrew Gordon,2003 Screen Saviors studies how the self of whites is imagined in Hollywood movies by white directors featuring white protagonists interacting with people of another color This collaboration by a sociologist and a film critic using the new perspective of critical white studies offers a bold and sweeping critique of almost a century s worth of American film from Birth of Nation 1915 through Black Hawk Down 2001 Screen Saviors studies the way in which the social relations that we call race are fictionalized and pictured in the movies It argues that films are part of broader projects that lead us to ignore or deny the nature of the racial divide in which Americans live Even as the images of racial and ethnic minorities change across the twentieth century Hollywood keeps portraying the ideal white American self as good looking powerful brave cordial kind firm and generous a natural born leader worthy of the loyalty of those of another color The book invites readers to conduct their own analyses of films by showing how this can be done in over 50 Hollywood movies Among these are some films about the Civil War Birth of a Nation Gone with the Wind and Glory some about white messiahs who rescue people of another color Stargate To Kill a Mockingbird Mississippi Burning Three Kings and The Matrix the three versions of Mutiny on the Bounty 1935 1962 and 1984 and interracial romance Guess Who s Coming to Dinner Forty years of Hollywood fantasies of interracial harmony from The Defiant Ones and In the Heat of the Night through the Lethal Weapon series and Men in Black are examined This work in the sociology of knowledge and cultural studies relates the movies of Hollywood to the large political agendas on race relation in the United States Screen Saviors appeals to the general reader interested in the movies or in race and ethnicity as well as to students of com
