Moose The Story Of A Very Special Person:

Moose, the Story of a Very Special Person Willard Scott MacDonald, Chester W. Oden, 1978 A father's story of his son growing up with Down syndrome in a loving if unconventional family Human Genetics, 1980 The Disabled Child Amanda Apgar, 2023-01-10 When children are born with disabilities or become disabled in childhood parents often experience bewilderment they find themselves unexpectedly in another world without a roadmap without community and without narratives to make sense of their experiences The Disabled Child Memoirs of a Normal Future tracks the narratives that have emerged from the community of parent memoirists who since the 1980s have written in resistance of their children's exclusion from culture Though the disabilities represented in the genre are diverse the memoirs share a number of remarkable similarities they are generally written by white heterosexual middle or upper middle class able-bodied parents and they depict narratives in which the disabled child overcomes barriers to a normal childhood and adulthood Apgar demonstrates that in the process of telling these stories which recuperate their children as productive members of society parental memoirists write their children into dominant cultural narratives about gender race and class By reinforcing and buying into these norms Apgar argues special needs parental memoirs reinforce ableism at the same time that they are writing against it Testing Women, Testing the Fetus Rayna Rapp, 2004-11-23 Rich with the voices and stories of participants these touching firsthand accounts examine how women of diverse racial ethnic class and religious backgrounds perceive prenatal testing the most prevalent and routinized of the new reproducing technologies Based on the author's decade of research and her own personal experiences with amniocentesis Testing Women Testing the Fetus explores the geneticization of family life in all its complexity and diversity Disability Studies Quarterly, 1985 Catalog of Copyright Entries, Fourth Series Library of Congress. Everybody Belongs Arthur Shapiro, 2003-09-01 The evil prosthesis of Captain Hook the comical speech of Porky Pig and the bumbling antics of Mr Magoo are all examples of images in our culture which can become the basis of negative attitudes and subliminal prejudice towards persons with disabilities These attitudes influence and underlie discriminatory acts resulting in negative treatment and segregation A teacher's ability to recognize and counter such images may well determine the success of inclusion and mainstreaming programs in our schools and society Well researched and well written this book offers practical guidance as grounded in solid research to schools that are wrestling with how to mainstream children with disabilities Catalogue of Title-entries of Books and Other Articles Entered in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, Under the Copyright Law ... Wherein the Copyright Has Been Completed by the Deposit of Two Copies in the Office Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1978 As I Recall Joseph N. Manfredo, 2014-07-28 This is the story of a one day bicycle ride taken by an eighty year old man along the Southern California Beach bike path for a twenty four mile round trip As he stops to meet people and observe events he is reminded of similar people places and events from his past These memories comprise a series of vignettes filled with historical facts humor pathos and nostalgia From early childhood memories through school crushes and a myriad of his and others experiences the book tells short stories that are at times humorous sometimes profound and always memorable Historical moments taken from World War II and the Korean Conflict are retold alongside personal adventures with such things as horse and motorcycle ownership creating a captivating juxtaposition of serious and humorous events The view presented in this book gives a unique look into the mind of an older person who has lived a full and memorable life

Voices of the Other Roderick McGillis, 2000 This book offers a variety of approaches to children s literature from a postcolonial perspective that includes discussions of cultural appropriation race theory pedagogy as a colonialist activity and multiculturalism The eighteen essays divide into three sections Theory Colonialism and Postcolonialism The first section sets the theoretical framework for postcolonial studies essays here deal with issues of otherness and cultural difference as well as the colonialist implications of pedagogic practice These essays confront our relationships with the child and childhood as sites for the exertion of our authority and control The second section presents discussions of the colonialist mindset in children s and young adult texts from the turn of the century Here works by writers of animal stories in Canada the U S and Britain works of early Australian colonialist literature and Frances Hodgson Burnett s A Little Princess come under the scrutiny of our postmodern reading practices Section Three deals directly with contemporary texts for children that manifest both a postcolonial and a neo colonial content and includes studies of children s literature from Canada Australia Africa the Caribbean and the United States

The Future Imaginary in Indigenous North American Arts and Literatures Kristina Baudemann, 2021-12-30 This book examines the future in Indigenous North American speculative literature and digital arts Asking how different Indigenous works imagine the future and how they negotiate settler colonial visions of what is to come the chapters illustrate that the future is not an immutable entity but a malleable textual digital product that can function as both a colonial tool and a catalyst for decolonization Central to this study is the development of a methodology that helps unearth the signifying structures producing the future in selected works by Darcie Little Badger Gerald Vizenor Stephen Graham Jones Skawennati Danis Goulet Scott Benesiinaabandan Postcommodity Kite Jeff Barnaby and Ryan Singer Drawing on Jason Lewis s future imaginary as the theoretical core the book describes the various forms of textual representation and virtual simulation through which notions of Indigenous continuation are expressed in literary and new media works Arguing that Indigenous authors and artists apply the aesthetics of the future as a strategy in their works the volume conceptualizes its multimedia corpus as a continuously growing archive of and for Indigenous futures
