Fay,2017-11-28 In this book Patricia Fay tells the history of the Anglophone Caribbean by documenting the material culture in the form of locally made earthenware pots everyday objects that have been central to domestic life dating from precolonial to postcolonial times Over the course of twenty years and multiple visits to the region Fay has documented via text and image the living heritage of traditional ceramics in the contemporary Caribbean introducing the reader to the generations of potters pots and production techniques In the process she charts the history of the region and its people reminding the reader of the extraordinary historical insights to be gained by examining seemingly quotidian objects Mossi Christopher D. Roy,2019-01-01 The Mossi people of Burkina Faso have a rich and complex history that is mirrored by the several types and styles of figures and masks they create They came into being around 1500 A D when a large group of horsemen from what is now northern Ghana rode north into the valley of the Volta River and conquered the local farmers The descendants of the conquering horsemen became the ruling class and used political art in the form of royal figures to validate their authority Meanwhile the descendants of the conquered farmers became the spiritual class and made masks to represent the spirits of nature The stylistic diversity of this art mirrors the several geographically divergent peoples who were conquered in 1500 and eventually became the Mossi we know today Unlike several other West African peoples the Mossi have not converted to Islam in large numbers and so they continue creating brilliant art much as their ancestors did hundreds of years ago Until the 1980s there was much confusion about the accurate attribution of Mossi art to the people who created it This book makes clear that the Mossi have continued to create brilliant art which they use to this day to express ideas about politics and religion Burkina Faso Samuel Decalo,1994

For Spirits and Kings Susan Mullin Vogel,1981 Woman Eternal ,1991 Masquerades in African Society Walter E. A. Van Beek,Harrie M. Leyten,2023 What is the meaning of masks and masquerades in African traditions and how can we understand their role in rituals and performances Why do we find masks in some African regions and not in others and what does this mask habitat say about the general dynamics of masquerades in Africa Though masks are among the most famous art icons of Africa exploration of their uses and the way in which they articulate social characteristics of African societies has been underexamined This book takes an anthropological perspective on the phenomenon of masquerades on the African continent to show how mask rituals are an integral part of African indigenous religions and societies and are informed by and linked to specific types of social and ecological conditions Having established the commonalities of mask rituals and a mask typology the authors look at the varieties of mask performances and the types of rituals in which masks function in rites of passage and in rituals of gender power and identity The Shape of Belief Mary Nooter Roberts,Allen F. Roberts,Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco,1996 The catalogue of an exhibit at the Fine Arts Museum of San Francisco November 1996 to April 1997 illustrating in color 70 objects donated to the museum by art collector Heide Also includes an essay on the art forms and cultures and map of West Africa Distributed by U of Washington Press Annot Encyclopedia of Stateless Nations James B. Minahan,2016-08-01 This book addresses the numerous national movements of ethnic groups around the world seeking independence more self rule or autonomy movements that have proliferated exponentially in the 21st century In the last 15 years globalization religious radicalization economic changes endangered cultures and languages cultural suppression racial tensions and many other factors have stimulated the emergence of autonomy and independence movements in every corner of the world even in areas formerly considered immune to self government demands such as South America Researching the numerous ethnic groups seeking autonomy or independence worldwide previously required referencing many specialized publications This book makes this difficult to find information available in a single volume presented in a simple format accessible to everyone from high school readers to scholars in advanced studies programs The book provides an extensive update to Greenwood s Encyclopedia of the Stateless Nations Ethnic and National Groups around the World that was published more than a decade earlier Each ethnic group receives an alphabetically organized entry containing information such as alternate names population figures flag or flags geography history culture and languages All the information readers need to understand the motivating factors behind each movement and the current situation of each ethnic group is presented in a compact summary Fact boxes at the beginning of each entry enable students to quickly access key information and consistent entry structure makes for easy cross cultural comparisons Into the 80's Canadian Association of African Studies. Conference,1981 The Anatomy of Architecture Suzanne Preston Blier,1994 Blier illuminates the extraordinary architecture of the Batammaliba people of Western Africa revealing these buildings as texts through which we can read the beliefs psychology traditions and social concerns of their inhabitants In doing so she explores the role of vernacular architecture as an expression of culture A splendid analysis of the centrality of architecture in the daily lives of the Batammaliba and its integral role in articulating social values The story is beautifully told in the best of anthropological traditions Judith R Blau Contemporary Society A remarkable study Blier s volume carries the study of African architecture to a qualitatively new level of scholarship It introduces a new dimension whereby the architectural medium can be used to illuminate much of the entire belief system of any culture Labelle Prussin African Arts In this excellent book Blier provides a richly detailed and searching account of what architecture means to the Batammaliba of northern Togo and Benin The finest account I have yet read of the relations between systems of beliefs ritual practices and African aesthetics and plastic arts The ethnography and basic insight should be the envy of any social anthropologist T O Beidelman Man

The Arts of Africa: 1986 and 1987 ,1989 African Studies Center Newsletter ,1979 Art and Religion in Africa

Rosalind Hackett,1998-10-01 Africa's religious and artistic traditions constitute a primary example of its intellectual and cultural vitality. Artistic works play a vital role especially where oral traditions dominate in communicating ideas about the relationship between the human spiritual and natural worlds. This work is a comparative study of Africa's visual and performing arts concentrating on their geographical material and gendered diversity and focusing on the relation of these arts to African religion. The author combines ethnographic and art historical methodology but does not assume any prior knowledge of African art or African religion. The text seeks a greater understanding of the philosophical and religious aspects of African art thus challenging western perceptions of what is important in terms of artistic representation. This approach reveals the transformative capacities and multi dimensionality of African art. The work also highlights the changes brought about by Christianity, Islam and the newer religious movements in post colonial Africa. Griot Potters of the Folona

Barbara E. Frank,2022-02-02 Griot Potters of the Folona reconstructs the past of a particular group of West African women potters using evidence found in their artistry and techniques. The potters of the Folona region of southeastern Mali serve a diverse clientele and firing thousands of pots weekly during the height of the dry season. Although they identify themselves as Mande, the unique styles and types of objects the Folona women make and more importantly the way they form and fire them are fundamentally different from Mande potters to the north and west. Through a brilliant comparative analysis of pottery production methods across the region especially how the pots are formed and the way the techniques are taught by mothers to daughters, Barbara Frank concludes that the mothers of the potters of the Folona very likely came from the south and east marrying Mande griots. West African leatherworkers who are better known as storytellers or musicians as they made their way south in search of clientele as early as the 14th or 15th century CE. While the women may have nominally given up their mothers' identities through marriage over the generations, the potters preserved their maternal heritage through their technological style, passing this knowledge on to their daughters and thus transforming the very nature of what it means to be a Mande griot. This is a story of resilience and the continuity of cultural heritage in the hands of women. Nigerian

Journal of Research and Production ,2010-04 The Visual Arts of Africa Judith Perani, Fred. T. Smith,1998. Special features of this book follow a geographical organization across the continent; each chapter is reader friendly with clear accessible sub-headings representing important religious and utilitarian art traditions from the Sahara desert, West Africa, Central Africa, Northeast Africa, Eastern Africa, and Southern Africa. It gives special attention to the themes of gender, power, and life cycle rituals which frequently intersect with one another to form an understanding of the arts of Africa. It includes figurative sculpture, masquerades, architecture, textiles, dress, ceramics, wall painting, and leatherwork. Traditions include selected examples of the earliest known documented art works as well as contemporary art of each geographical region. It includes an up-to-date bibliography incorporating recent published field research for each chapter and features 369 black and white illustrations 16 colored plates maps and a time line
