Passing and the Rise of the African American Novel Maria Giulia Fabi, 2001 Passing and the Rise of the African American Novel restores to its rightful place a body of American literature that has long been overlooked dismissed or misjudged This insightful reconsideration of nineteenth century African American fiction uncovers the literary artistry and ideological complexity of a body of work that laid the foundation for the Harlem Renaissance and changed the course of American letters Focusing on the trope of passing black characters lightskinned enough to pass for white M Giulia Fabi shows how early African American authors such as William Wells Brown Frank J Webb Charles W Chesnutt Sutton E Griggs James Weldon Johnson Frances E W Harper and Edward A Johnson transformed traditional representations of blackness and moved beyond the tragic mulatto motif Celebrating a distinctive African American history culture and worldview these authors used passing to challenge the myths of racial purity and the color line Fabi examines how early black writers adapted existing literary forms including the sentimental romance the domestic novel and the utopian novel to express their convictions and concerns about slavery segregation and racism She also gives a historical overview of the canon making enterprises of African American critics from the 1850s to the 1990s and considers how their concerns about crafting a particular image for African American literature affected their perceptions of nineteenth century black fiction

Echoes of the Land: A Thematic Reading of Mo Yan's Novels Dr. Rahul Ramchandra Gaikwad, 2025-08-17 I didn t realise until I d grown up that Northeast Gaomi Township is easily the most beautiful and most repulsive most unusual and most common most sacred and most corrupt most heroic and most bastardly hardest drinking and hardest loving place in the world The people of my father s generation who lived there ate sorghum out of preference planting as much of it as they could In late autumn during the eighth lunar month vast stretches of red sorghum shimmered like a sea of blood Tall and dense it reeked of glory cold and graceful it promised enchantment passionate and loving it was tumultuous RS 4

Narrative Reliability, Racial Conflicts and Ideology in the Modern Novel Marta Puxan-Oliva, 2019-03-07 How does racial ideology contribute to the exploration of narrative voice How does narrative unreliability help in the production and critique of racial ideologies Through a refreshing comparative analysis of well established novels by Joseph Conrad William Faulkner James Weldon Johnson Albert Camus and Alejo Carpentier this book explores the racial politics of literary form Narrative Reliability Racial Conflicts and Ideology in the Modern Novel contributes to the emergent attention in literary studies to the interrelation of form and politics which has been underexplored in narrative theory and comparative racial studies Bridging cultural postcolonial racial studies and narratology this book brings context specificity and awareness to the production of ideological ambivalent narrative texts that through technical innovation in narrative reliability deeply engage with extremely violent episodes of colonial origin in the United Kingdom the United States Algeria and the French and Spanish Caribbean In this manner the book reformulates and expands the problem of narrative reliability and highlights the key uses and production of racial discourses so as to reveal the participation of experimental novels in early and mid 20th century racial conflicts which function as test case to display a broad new area of study in cultural and political narrative theory
