Beidler,2010-03-09 A vivid and penetrating history personal and social of growing up in post 1945 America The Celluloid Couch Leslie Y. Rabkin,1998-10 In this unique filmography Leslie Rabkin delves deeply into film s unconscious producing a valuable reference text concerned with the history of film and its representation of therapy and mental illness The Celluloid Couch is arranged by decade with the exception of the earliest period The Silent Era from the very beginnings of film to 1920 Each period contains a thoughtful introduction that highlights important films and discusses the intersection of film with history and psychology Rabkin s overview lays bare patterns in film s representation of mental illness and therapy and inquires how contemporary stereotypes of psychiatric patients and institutions have been formed from film Textual examples in the introduction are drawn from magazines and newspapers as well as numerous readings of particularly important films refracted through the lens of a psychologist The alphabetical entries are compact and inclusive containing main titles as well as foreign listings and detailed information such as cast length director producer and a brief synopsis of the film s plot and discussion of the forms of therapy depicted and utilized in the film An efficient resource for the student of film psychology or mass culture The Celluloid Couch makes the huge number of popular films that portray mental illness and therapy accessible Psychotherapists on Film, 1899-1999 John Flowers,Paul Frizler,2004-04-22 How long have psychotherapists been depicted in films Nearly as long as there have been films or psychotherapists for that matter This isn't surprising if one considers that the Freudian revolution in psychology and the invention of motion pictures occurred at about the same time What may be surprising is the sheer number of times that psychotherapists in their many guises have shown up in the movies and how their depiction has reflected changing social attitudes about psychotherapy over the last century This comprehensive worldwide filmography examines over 5000 movies Films in which mental health professionals appear or in which others act in that capacity are listed alphabetically A preface explains the criteria for a film's inclusion and a lengthy introduction and guide to the filmography explores the changing social attitudes mirrored by the movies Appendices list the titles by decade alternate titles for many films recent releases and qualifying adult films
