Making Room in the Clinic Julie Fairman,2009-08-03 In Making Room in the Clinic Julie Fairman examines the context in which the nurse practitioner movement emerged how large political and social movements influenced it and how it contributed to the changing definition of medical care Drawing on primary source material including interviews with key figures in the movement Fairman describes how this evolution helped create an influential foundation for health policies that emerged at the end of the twentieth century including health maintenance organizations a renewed interest in health awareness and disease prevention and consumer based services

Oxford Textbook of the Newborn Michael Obladen,2021-08-11 Well into the 20th century one in four newborns failed to survive their first year of life It was after World War II that medicine discovered the newborn as a human being entitled to medical treatment and prioritised care Since its definition by Alexander Schaffer in 1960 neonatology has evolved into a mature innovative and ethical field A large number of medical professionals care for neonates yet no definitive medical history of the newborn has been available until now The Oxford Textbook of the Newborn A Cultural and Medical History offers readers a unique and authoritative resource on the 3000 year history of the newborn within Western societies Written by Professor Michael Obladen a leading voice in neonatology this book reflects on our perception of newborns from the earliest days of human thought through to the traces that remained in medieval life and persist today It unearths ideas and evidence of societies perceptions of newborns through a beautifully illustrated impressive and often never seen before set of historical sources from libraries archives churches excavation fields and hospital charts around the world Split into 8 sections which each cover aspects of the natural lifecycle of a neonate this book demonstrates the impact of religion law ethics philosophy and culture on newborns quality of life and covers fascinating topics such as the rites of passage for the newborn infanticide opium use breastfeeding and artificial feeding Each chapter is written in an accessible style and includes high quality historical illustrations which really bring the subject to life

Professional Care for the Elderly Mentally Ill Liz Matthew,2013-11-11 Services to older people with mental health problems have gone through radical change in recent years Legislation has had a profound effect by dictating how care to older people is delivered both within hospital and within the community The recent government agenda emphasizes cost effectiveness value for money and accountability This too is an important driving force in re evaluating the service although not everyone would agree with many of the proposed strategies and there are clearly different views as to the appropriateness of many of the services One thing is certain however the move towards interdisciplinary working is here to stay Not all change has been led by legislation and many innovations have been founded in the day to day practices in the care of older people with mental health problems A service of course does not become integrated merely by imposing joint working on a number of professionally based disciplines and in many ways this may not be desirable At its worst it produces duplication where people from different background are all doing the same job This is not the intention of joint working instead it should attempt to improve the quality of service by a rich mix of skills and experience from a number of related disciplines
