Asian Cities in an Era of Decentralisation Fiona Buckley, Yvonne Galligan, 2016-02-08 This book explores the relationship between women the state and democratic politics in Ireland today It highlights the conservatism of the political culture shared by all traditions on the island and how this culture circumscribes women's political agency in Northern Ireland and Ireland. The book explores the opportunities and obstacles to women's participation and representation on each side of the border. The chapters take the view that public decision making institutions and processes are subject to rules and practices that reinforce the gendered foundations of democratic politics. They document women's continuing quest for full participation and equal representation in these male gendered arenas. The contributors focus on the marginalised experiences of women in modern politics in Ireland and detail their efforts to challenge the masculinized status quo. The book addresses the classical issues of citizenship participation representation and equal rights in a sustained analysis of the political systems on the island. It also deals with modern issues multiculturalism peace building the male gendered legislature and the unequal nature of women's citizenship in constitutional institutional and policy contexts. The book is completed by a comprehensive appendix of all women elected to political office on the island from 1918-2013. This book was published as a special issue of Irish Political Studies. Climate

Millions of people are already affected by weather related shocks every year in West Africa and climate change is highly likely to increase these threats. In the wake of climate change rising temperatures increasingly irregular rainfall and more frequent natural hazards will endanger the ways of life of vulnerable population groups in this region and destabilize their human security. A surge in violence and conflicts could take place. One of the conflict constellations could be between farmers and herders. These groups are highly vulnerable to climate change due to their dependence on natural resources. Millions of people are already affected by weather related shocks every year in West Africa and climate change is highly likely to increase these threats. In the wake of climate change rising temperatures increasingly irregular rainfall and more frequent natural hazards will endanger the ways of life of vulnerable population groups in this region and destabilize their human security. A surge in violence and conflicts could take place. One of the conflict constellations could be between farmers and herders. These groups are highly vulnerable to climate change due to their dependence on natural resources for their subsistence. Furthermore they are historically prone to enter into conflict over issues of access to natural resources. However social economic and political circumstances fundamentally influence environmental conflicts. There might thus be opportunities to face the societal challenges of climate change in a peaceful way and the political and institutional framework could play an important role in reducing conflict and violence. In order to explore such a path this study analyses the potential of political factors policies and institutions for the reduction of climate change induced or aggravated conflicts between farmers and herders. After a theoretical demonstration a case study of agro pastoral conflicts in Burkina Faso Cote d'Ivoire and Ghana is conducted. Conflictology Francis Onditi, 2020-05-28 Over the past three decades scholars students and policy makers studying and engaged in conflict resolution have veered between conflict management and resolution However the changing nature of conflict which is taking the form of radicalization and extremism are deeply rooted in individual s ideology personalities and genes hence rendering the conventional macro level power balance analytics obsolete The psychology and human genetics are at the center of this evolution This shift in conflict trends and methods of warfare in Africa and the world over demands that we search for alternative approaches mechanisms and innovative response It is against this background that this new book initiates a fundamental debate on how interdisciplinary adventure could increase the understanding of man kind and the socio biological systems surrounding man hence the emphasis on the discipline of Conflictology to embody scientific approaches methods and prescription to conflict resolution For instance does individual s gene influence human behaviours such as hate If so can this be corrected through gene transposition If human relations should be anchored on peace what are these genetic and behavioural factors that create hate and violence How then should such a gene or neurobiological system be altered in order to prevent extremism and radicalization

Peace and Security in Nepal Åshild Kolås, 2017-07-06 This book sheds new light on the important but diverse roles of women in the civil war in Nepal 1996 2006 and the post conflict reconstruction period 2006 2016 Engaging critically with the women peace and security literature Women Peace and Security in Nepal questions the potential of peace processes to become a window of opportunity for women s empowerment while insisting on the vital importance of a gender perspective in the study of conflict security and peace After the signing of the 2006 Comprehensive Peace Accord Nepal experienced a huge leap in women's political representation in the subsequent Constituent Assembly often portrayed as a landmark victory for women's empowerment in the context of South Asia. Nepali women's mobilization played a key role in this success story though similar mobilization has failed to produce the same outcomes elsewhere in South Asia. How does Nepal differ from the other cases? Presenting studies of war time and post conflict Nepal through a gender lens, this book critically assesses the argument that war and peacebuilding can add momentum to the transformation of gender roles. Contributing new knowledge on women's disempowerment and empowerment in conflict and peacebuilding, the book also offers insights for contemporary debate on gender and political change in conflict affected societies. This book will be of great interest to students of peace and conflict studies, gender security, South Asia and international relations in general as well as policy makers and NGOs.

Gender Equity: Challenges and Opportunities Vasundhara Mahajan, Anandita Chowdhury, Urvashi Kaushal, Namrta Jariwala, Sharon A. Bong, 2022-04-19. This book comprises the proceedings of the TEQIP III Sponsored 2nd International Conference on Gender Equity Challenges and Opportunities 2nd ICOGECAO 2020 Virtual Mode held at Sardar Vallabhbhai National Institute of Technology Surat, Gujarat, India from 25 to 27 November 2020. ICOGECAO provided a platform for researchers from multiple countries to present their views about the challenges associated with gender equity. Gender equity is one of the seventeen Sustainable Development Goals (SDG 5) set up by the United Nations in 2015 to promote and empower all genders equally. The proceedings strongly support the ideas of gender neutrality and blow out the mind set of limiting gender studies to only women's rights. They offer a collection of articles that break the stereotypes and myths often wrongly associated with gender. The ideas in the presented papers highlight gender based discriminations, ask important questions and share facts that encompass beyond the so called boundary lines. The authors contributed on various topics including but not limited to violence, crime, discrimination and abuse against women and LGBTQ community. The basic motive of the presented book is to incorporate ideas and contribute to the sensitization and education about the important yet often neglected issues of gender equality. Thus, this book proves to be an essential resource for educators and researchers working in the field of gender studies. The work presents challenges caused due to COVID-19, social media, popular culture and work life balance and explores empowerment through law, skills, technology and media. Some interesting case studies highlighted gender discrimination in science, sports and law. A variety of papers on literary texts were examined from a gender lens. The proceeding is divided into five subsections: 1. law, 2. literature, 3. management, 4. sociology and 5. social studies. The proceeding provides a wider perspective and visuals about the scenarios which need attention. The ideas presented will be helpful for achieving the sustainable development goal of gender equity to a greater extent.
