Illumination, 1200-1400 Lucy Freeman Sandler,2007-12-31 The author is Helen Gould Sheppard Professor of Art History at New York University Institute of Fine Arts and a leading authority on English medieval manuscript illumination This volume bring together twenty six of Professor Sandler s studies focusing on illustrated manuscripts produced in England in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries particularly on the illuminated psalters The marginal illustrations in these psalters are a topic of particular interest and there are a number of iconographic studies derived from this material A separate section deals with the illustrated encyclopedias of the period particularly the Omne bonum Sustainable Construction

Sandy Halliday,2008-01-14 It has taken a very long time for sustainable development to be recognised as a justified restraint on inappropriate development and a primary driver of improving quality of life for all For designers clients and project managers this means we have to create healthy buildings and places which support communities enhance biodiversity and contribute to reversing unsustainable trends in pollution and resource consumption It is a very positive agenda This groundbreaking book will help all building design management and cost professionals to understand sustainable design and provide the technical skills needed to implement the most up to date concepts Based on a hugely successful series of workshops for professionals in construction the book covers the history of ideas materials measurement both cost and benchmarking performance environmental services and the building design and delivery process through to post occupancy evaluation It covers individual buildings and the urban scale Sustainable Construction is a master class in how to achieve practical affordable replicable sustainable design It has something new and often surprising in it for everybody in the construction industry For the Architect and Engineer it gives chapter and verse to the basic design issues at all scales and through the whole of the plan of work For Quantity Surveyors and cost professionals it challenges current conventions with researched case study evidence For clients and project managers it outlines the drivers and the justification for a sustainable approach and outlines the legislative framework and it gives guidance on procurement and project and site management issues For contractors and developers it contains a wealth of case study material rooted in practical experience and economic reality For teachers and students it will bust myths liberate thinking and inform design

Introducing Psychological Research Philip Banyard, Andrew Grayson, 2017-09-16 Crucially the foundations of good psychology in both practice and knowledge are the ability to understand and carry out effective methods in psychological research Subsequently this title aims to introduce students to a thorough history of the key psychological studies across the sub disciplines of social developmental cognitive and biological psychology as well as neuroscience Research case studies are described and critiqued encouraging students to critically think about the wider implications of how research is conducted and the subsequent findings that they produce The pivotal case studies covered have been specifically chosen to illustrate how psychological methods in research have evolved over the history of the discipline and to showcase as broad an overview as possible of the various ways in which research may be conducted including controlled experiments in depth interviewing and literature searches The book is essential for undergraduate students looking for a comprehensive and clearly written guide to both the classic and contemporary studies that have informed the research methods in the discipline of psychology today This book has been written to provide clear and well explained summaries that encourage critical reflection and discussion of the material learnt making this an apt introduction for students wishing to learn about the valid methods of carrying out empirical research

The Archaeology of Contextual Meanings Ian Hodder, 1987-08-06 This companion volume to Archaeology as Long term History focuses on the symbolism of artefacts It seeks at once to refine the theory and method relating to interpretation and show with examples how to conduct this sort of archaeological work Some contributors work with the material culture of modern times or the historic period areas in which the symbolism of mute artefacts has traditionally been thought most accessible However the book also contains a good number of applications in prehistory to demonstrate the feasibility of symbolic interpretation where good contextual data survive from the distant past In relation to wider debates within the social sciences the volume is characterised by a concern to place abstract symbolic codes within their historical context and within the contexts of social actions In this respect it develops further some of the ideas presented in Dr Hodder's Symbolic and Structural Archaeology an earlier volume in this series United States Government Publications Monthly Catalog ,1941 Therapeutic Group Analysis S.H. Foulkes,2018-05-08 This book is based on twenty five years of intensive study of patients in psychotherapeutic groups The attitude is psychoanalytic but the method and technique are new The background of consideration is the mental matrix of the group as a whole inside which all intra psychic processes interact This has a profound significance for psychoanalytical concepts and the many problems connected with them in psychoanalytic practice and theory Dental Digest ,1902 Transactions of the Odontological Society of Great Britain Odontological Society of Great Britain,1896 The Late Bronze Egyptian Garrison at Beth Shan Frances W. James,Patrick E. McGovern,Anne G. Bonn,1993 The University Museum excavated at Beth Shan from 1921 1934 when stratigraphical methods were first being developed For this study the two Late Bronze levels VII and VIII have been reevaluated by the careful analysis of field records photographs and drawings along with the restudy of all artifacts housed in The University Museum and a selection of objects in the Rockefeller Museum in Jerusalem The structures of these levels have parallels in New Kingdom Egypt and Late Bronze Early Iron Age sites of southern Levant and the Sinai Included are contributions by 13 specialists on specific classes of objects and technologies University Museum Monograph 85 Literacy for All Agneta Lind,2008 Literacy is a human and democratic right and a basic learning need it is critical in achieving the EFA and the Millennium Development Goals The crucial question is how can we create literate societies in a world where in some places education is only accessible to the rich This publication reviews the meanings of literacy and related concepts within the context of lifelong learning It analyses policies and strategies required to improve national literacy rates and develop adult literacy programmes including youths aged 15 and above The author demonstrates that a combination of factors has contributed to slowing the progress in meeting national and international literacy commitments Lessons learned over the past decades show that to achieve universal literacy there is a need for further investment greater political will sustainable institutional approaches and a more creative and holistic methodology Report of the first WHO global meeting on skin-related neglected tropical diseases, Geneva, Switzerland, 27-31 March 2023 World Health Organization,2024-05-23 The World Health Organization WHO held its inaugural global meeting on skin related neglected tropical diseases skin NTDs on 27 31 March 2023 convening more than 800 global experts stakeholders and partners The aim of the meeting was to discuss the progress and challenges of integrating control and management of skin NTDs at the country level in alignment with the NTD road map 2021 2030 the road map and the companion road map document on skin NTDs the skin NTD framework Skin diseases rank among the top reasons for outpatient visits and often lead to long term disability stigmatization and mental health issue and half of the 20 NTDs present with skin manifestations The objectives of the meeting were centred on sharing experiences in country level integration showcasing research advances implementation of the skin NTD framework and strengthening networking among experts Participants included skin NTD specialists representatives of health ministries nongovernmental organizations academic institutions and WHO Key messages highlighted the importance of the NTD road map emphasizing three implementation pillars accelerating programmatic action intensifying cross cutting approaches and changing operational models and culture to support country ownership Key actions arising from the meeting were to enhance advocacy and visibility of NTDs their inclusion into critical global policy documentation and in global health mechanisms The global community was urged to increase NTD investments to meet the road map targets for 2030 emphasizing digital technologies enhanced diagnostics and advances in new treatments The second global skin NTD meeting is scheduled for 24-26 March 2025 at WHO headquarters in Geneva The path forward is clear we must strengthen collaborations and amplify efforts towards the 2030 NTD road map targets
