Gui Xue,Urs Maurer,Mohamed L Seghier,2015-01-22 Reading is an integral part of life in today s information driven societies Since the pioneering work of Dejerine on word blindness in brain lesioned patients the literature has increased exponentially from neuropsychological case reports to mechanistic accounts of word processing at the behavioural neurofunctional and computational levels tapping into diverse aspects of visual word processing These studies have revealed some exciting findings about visual word processing including how the brain learns to read how changes in literacy impact upon word processing strategies and whether word processing mechanisms vary across different alphabetic logographic or artificial writing systems Other studies have attempted to characterise typical and atypical word processes in special populations in order to explain why dyslexic brains struggle with words how multilingualism changes the way our brains see words and what the exact developmental signatures are that would shape the acquisition of reading skills Exciting new insights have also emerged from recent studies that have investigated word stimuli at the system network level by looking for instance at how the reading system interacts with other cognitive systems in a context dependent fashion how visual language stimuli are integrated into the speech processing streams how both left and right hemispheres cooperate and interact during word processing and what the exact contributions of subcortical and cerebellar regions to reading are The contributions to this Research Topic highlight the latest findings regarding the different issues mentioned above particularly how these findings can explain or model the different processes mechanisms pathways or cognitive strategies by which the human brain sees words The introductory editorial summarising the contributions included here highlights how varieties of behavioural tests and neuroimaging techniques can be used to investigate word processing mechanisms across different alphabetic and logographic writing systems

The Top Books of the Year Pathways Activities For Word Processing The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. Pathways Activities For Word Processing : Colleen Hoovers "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Pathways Activities For Word Processing : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
