Birds Cannot Give Birth to Crocodiles, But Humanity Can Soar Beyond the Horizon Bob Avakian, 2014-04-16 This book makes the case for why humanity needs a communist revolution and deeply explores the means for actually bringing about such a liberating revolution In this two part work Part 1 Revolution and the State and Part 2 Building the Movement for Revolution Bob Avakian examines the contradictory dynamics of historical development in human society and the possible pathways of change and discusses the scientific methods and means for realizing the Impossible Dream of a viable and radically different world one where humanity can soar beyond social relations characterized by domination exploitation and oppression In a style that has been described as totally outrageous and eminently reasonable Avakian punctures conventional thinking on a number of diverse themes for example the theory of social contract notions of human nature and today s revolting culture In a penetrating critique capitalism and the philosophies of the bourgeois epoch are sharply contrasted with the basic vision principles and approach of a new liberating society including how this would be reflected in a constitution radically different than the current U S Constitution Birds Cannot Give Birth to Crocodiles But Humanity Can Soar Beyond the Horizon embodies the new synthesis of communism which Bob Avakian has been developing over the course of the past several decades and provides new insights into the dynamics of social change and the strategy for revolution

BREAKTHROUGHS: The Historic Breakthrough by Marx, and the Further Breakthrough with the New Communism, A Basic Summary Bob Avakian, 2021-04-08

BREAKTHROUGHS The Historic Breakthrough by Marx and the Further Breakthrough with the New Communism A Basic Summary is a distilled discussion of the theory strategic orientation and objectives of the communist movement as this was developed from the time of Marx and with its further development and synthesis with the new communism as Bob Avakian the architect of the new communism describes this work in its preface This work delves into the development of communist political theory with historical sweep and scientific analysis highlighting what was so radically new and revolutionary about the theories first put forward by Marx and then examining the breakthroughs made by Avakian whose new communism reflects a continuation of the Marxist tradition but at the same time represents a qualitative leap beyond and in some important respects a break with communist theory as it had been previously developed This has resulted in a whole new framework for human emancipation one defined by its emphasis on the critical importance of science and the consistent application of a scientific method These theoretical breakthroughs are brought to life by Avakian drawing on his ability to break down even very complex ideas and concepts in a popular and colloquial way that is accessible to a wide variety of readers For anyone who yearns for a different world one free of all forms of oppression and exploitation where all humanity could truly flourish and where the planet could thrive this thought provoking work is essential reading G. The Educated Eye: Visual Culture and Pedagogy in the Life Sciences Michael R. Dietrich,2012 A study of visual culture in the teaching of the life sciences The creation and processing of visual representations in the life sciences is a critical but often overlooked aspect of scientific pedagogy The Educated Eye follows the nineteenth century embrace of the visible in new spectatoria or demonstration halls through the twentieth century cinematic explorations of microscopic realms and simulations of surgery in virtual reality With essays on Doc Edgerton s stroboscopic techniques that froze time and Eames s visualization of scale in Powers of Ten among others contributors ask how we are taught to see the unseen Project Muse Observation and Experiment in the Natural and Social Sciences Maria Carla Galavotti,2006-04-18

According to a long tradition in philosophy of science a clear cut distinction can be traced between a context of discovery and a context of justification This tradition dates back to the birth of the discipline in connection with the Circles of Vienna and Berlin in the twenties and thirties of last century Convinced that only the context of justification is pertinent to philosophy of science logical empiricists identified its goal with the rational reconstruction of scientific knowledge taken as the clarification of the logical structure of science through an analysis of its language and methods Stressing justification as the proper field of application of philosophy of science logical empiricists intended to leave discovery out of its remit The context of discovery was then discarded from philosophy of science and left to sociology psychology and history The distinction between context of discovery and context of justification goes hand in hand with the tenet that the theoretical side of science can and should be kept separate from its observational and experimental components Further the final abstract formulation of theories should be analysed apart from the process behind it resulting from a tangle of context dependent factors This conviction is reflected by the distinction between theoretical and observational sentences underpinning the Hempelian view of theories as nets whose knots represent theoretical terms floating on the plane of observation to which it is anchored by rules of interpretation

A Pedagogy of Observation Vance Byrd,2017-11-10

A Pedagogy of Observation argues that the fascination with learning about the past and new locations in panoramic form spread far from the traditional sites of popular entertainment and amusement Although painted panoramas captivated audiences from Hamburg to Leipzig and Berlin to Vienna relatively few people had direct access to this invention Instead most Germans in the early nineteenth century encountered panoramas for the first time through the written word The panorama experience described in this book centers on the emergence of a new type of visual language and self fashioning in material culture adopted by Germans at the turn of the nineteenth century one that took cues from the pedagogy of observing and interpreting space at panorama shows By reading about what editors newspaper correspondents and writers referred to as panoramas curious Germans learned about a new representational medium and a new way to organize and produce knowledge about the scenes on display even if they had never seen these marvels in person Like an audience member standing on a panorama platform at a show reading about panoramas transported Germans to new worlds in the imagination while maintaining a safe distance from the actual transformations being portrayed A Pedagogy of Observation identifies how the German bourgeois intelligentsia created literature as panoramic stages both for self representation and as a venue for critiquing modern life These written panoramas so to speak helped German readers see before their eyes industrial transformations urban development scientific exploration and new possibilities for social interactions Through the immersive act of reading Germans entered an experimental realm that fostered critical engagement with modern life before it was experienced firsthand Surrounded on all sides by new perspectives into the world these readers occupied the position of the characters that they read about in panoramic literature From this vantage point Germans apprehended changes to their immediate environment and prepared themselves for the ones still to come
