Mother Sharon Lamb, 2019-06-25 A psychologist who evaluates the fitness of parents when their children have been removed from their custody finds herself reassessing her own mothering when her son falls victim to the opioid crisis. Psychologist and expert witness Dr Sharon Lamb evaluates parents particularly in high stakes cases concerning the termination of parental rights. The conclusions she reaches can mean that some children are returned home from foster homes. Others are freed for adoption. Well trained Lamb generally can decide what's in the best interests of the child. But when her son's struggle with opioid addiction comes to light she starts to doubt her right to make judgments about other mothers. As an expert, a professor and a mother Lamb gives voice to the near impossible standards demanded by a society prone to blame mothers when anything befalls their children. She describes vividly the plight of individual parents, mothers in particular struggling with addiction and mental illness and trying to make stable homes for their kids amid the economic and emotional turmoil of their lives, all in the context of the opioid epidemic that has ravaged her home state of Vermont. In her office during visits with their children and in the family court the parents we meet wait anxiously for Lamb's verdict. Have they turned their lives around under child welfare's watchful eye? Do they understand their children's needs? In short, are they good enough? But what is good enough? Lamb turns that question on herself in the midst of her gradual realization of her son's opioid addiction. Amazed at her own denial, feeling powerless to help him, Lamb confronts the heartache she can bring into the lives of others and her power to tear families apart.

Emotional and Behavioral Problems Paul Zions, Laura Zions, Richard L. Simpson, 2002-03-19 The authors take a complex under-discussed topic and give teachers and administrators useful basic guidelines they can put to use quickly in understanding, identifying and helping this special group of students.

Foundations of Psychological Testing Leslie A. Miller, Sandra A. McIntire, Robert L. Lovler, 2011 The Third Edition of this text offers a straight forward and clear introduction to the basics of psychological testing as well as to psychometrics and statistics for students new to the field. The authors focus on relating core ideas to practical situations that students will recognize and relate to. They provide a variety of pedagogical tools that promote student understanding of the underlying concepts required to interpret and to use test scores. Primarily concerned with preparing students to become informed consumers and users of tests, the text also features a final section focusing on how tests are utilized in three important settings: education, clinical and counseling practice and organizations. Intended Audience: This is a scholarly, informative, applicable and appropriate undergraduate and graduate textbook, ideal for introductory courses such as Psychological Testing, Psychological Tests and graduate programs in psychology, industrial/organizational psychology and counseling.
