Accessibility or Reinventing Education, 2021-03-05 The accessibility requirement of educational policies is a reinvention of schools beyond the education of students with disabilities Accessibility or Reinventing Education studies the changes that have redefined the roles and missions of schools by asking them to consider the obstacles to learning imposed on students regardless of their particular characteristics in order to make themselves accessible to the greatest number This book examines the ways in which school stakeholders are addressing the need for accessibility to bring its principles to life on a daily basis Particular attention is given to the strategies developed by teachers for creating accessible school environments the conditions for mobilizing digital technologies and the redefinition of relationships between teachers and their specialist counterparts Finally the new figures of ineducability established because of the accessibility imperative are considered and a grammar of accessibility is proposed setting the stage for accessibility in school environments and the implementation of inclusive policies

The role of evidence in developing effective educational inclusion Joseph Mintz, Brahm Norwich, 2023-12-13 There has been considerable interest internationally in how research can be effectively translated to have an impact on practice in schools The application of evidence informed approaches in the field of education is contested and debated Such debates are intensified in relation to the issue of how best to include children with diverse learning needs in the classroom The role of knowledge science and evidence in how we both conceptualize and best support children with special educational needs and other forms of diversity in the classroom remains an open question in terms of both policy and practice Although there is a considerable and growing body of literature on evidence informed practice in education in general there has been less attention paid to its implications for the domain of educational inclusion specifically However tensions between differing conceptualisations of difference and the role of categorisation present questions as yet not fully answered as to the ways in which evidence can and should articulate with practice in this specific domain For example issues of what is inclusion the place of norms and values that define inclusion how we conceptualize and think about difference across culture language and cognition are raised when we think about the application of evidence to practice in the area of educational inclusion

Socioeconomic Inclusion During an Era of Online Education Garcia, Manuel B., 2022-06-24 The unwelcomed arrival of the COVID 19 pandemic has exacerbated inequities and inequalities in accessing educational opportunities among different social groups Abruptly the idea of inclusivity in education has become more of an abstract phenomenon that widens the digital divide and creates social injustice The resulting intensification of digital disparities demands an immediate coordinated response from all education and government stakeholders to guarantee that no one is left behind as we navigate the so called new normal Without an appropriate intervention and sound policy guidance negative repercussions may be so widespread that they will remain a problem in the education sector far into the future Socioeconomic Inclusion During an Era of Online Education aims to answer emerging questions on inclusive online education by exploring and collating the experiences and lessons learned during the implementation of emergency remote education. With the earlier than expected arrival of the online education era, best practices and innovative approaches from various educational institutions are concrete paradigms for safeguarding the promise of an undivided future of learning through equal access to quality education from a distance. Covering topics from learning space to education governance, this reference work is ideal for policymakers, administrators, practitioners, researchers, scholars, instructors, and students seeking to adjust and adapt to technology-enabled education during and after the COVID-19 era.

The Power of Technology in School Leadership during COVID-19 Antonios Kafa, Nikleia Eteokleous, 2024-02-28. This book discusses school leaders' ability to use digital technologies successfully through specific approaches and techniques. It also discusses the technological challenges arising from the COVID-19 pandemic and the obstacles derived from the lack of digital capacity of school leaders in various contexts. The work addresses school leaders' experiences, confidence, competence, skills, and practices to use digital technologies effectively. Also, it explores how the COVID-19 pandemic influenced school leaders' role in establishing effective processes towards educational digital transformation and provides further knowledge as part of school leaders' digital professional development aspect. The book draws information and knowledge from the thematic areas of technology and school leadership in educational practice and includes both conceptual and empirical information on autonomous and less autonomous educational systems, centralized and decentralized education systems. Overall, this edited book fills the gap with information on the connection between school leadership and technology as an aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic in school organizations.

Proceedings of the 3rd International Conference on Christian and Inter-Religious Studies (ICC-IRS 2024) Desi Natalia, Maria Veronica, Deri Susanto, 2025-07-16. This is an open access book. Third International Conference on Christian and Inter-Religious Studies ICC-IRS 2024 will be held in Palangka Raya from June 20-22, 2024. This prestigious event is organized by the Institut Agama Kristen Negeri IAKN Palangka Raya as part of an ongoing effort to facilitate academic discussions on critical issues in the digital era. With the theme "Religion, Education, and Culture in the Digital Age," this conference will serve as a forum for scholars, researchers, and practitioners from various backgrounds to discuss and share insights in the fields of religion and education. The topics to be covered include a wide range of disciplines including Education, Theology, Psychology, and Counseling, Sociology, and Philosophy of Religion, Religious Moderation, as well as Music and Arts. To enrich the discussions, the conference will feature distinguished academics from both domestic and international institutions as keynote speakers. With great enthusiasm, the committee has received over 200 participants from various institutions, and of these, approximately 125 manuscripts have been approved for presentation. From these presentations, around 75 full papers will be selected for publication. It is hoped that this conference will not only contribute significantly to the advancement of knowledge in the field of religion but also strengthen academic networks among the participants, fostering further collaboration in the future.
