Mood and Mobility Richard Coyne,2024-05-21 An argument that as we engage with social media on our digital devices we receive modify intensify and transmit moods We are active with our mobile devices we play games watch films listen to music check social media and tap screens and keyboards while we are on the move In Mood and Mobility Richard Coyne argues that not only do we communicate process information and entertain ourselves through devices and social media we also receive modify intensify and transmit moods Designers practitioners educators researchers and users should pay more attention to the moods created around our smartphones tablets and laptops Drawing on research from a range of disciplines including experimental psychology phenomenology cultural theory and architecture Coyne shows that users of social media are not simply passive receivers of moods they are complicit in making moods Devoting each chapter to a particular mood from curiosity and pleasure to anxiety and melancholy Coyne shows that devices and technologies do affect people s moods although not always directly He shows that mood effects are transitional different moods suit different occasions and derive character from emotional shifts Furthermore moods are active we enlist all the resources of human sociability to create moods And finally the discourse about mood is deeply reflexive in a kind of meta moodiness we talk about our moods and have feelings about them Mood in Coyne s distinctive telling provides a new way to look at the ever changing world of ubiquitous digital technologies
