When Care is Conditional Dani Carrillo, 2024-01-08 From its inception the public safety net in the United States has excluded many people because of their race gendered roles or other factors As a result they must prove their moral worthiness to get resources for themselves and their families In When Care Is Conditional sociologist Dani Carrillo reveals the ramifications of this conditional safety net by focusing on one particularly vulnerable population undocumented immigrants Through in depth interviews with Latinx immigrants in northern California Carrillo examines three circumstances place gender and immigration status that intersect to influence an individual's access to health care food assistance and other benefits She demonstrates that place of residence affects undocumented immigrants ability to get care since more services are available in urban areas where many immigrants cannot afford to live than suburban areas where public transportation is limited She also shows that while both men and women who are undocumented have difficulty obtaining care men often confront more challenges Undocumented women who are pregnant or mothers are eligible for some government safety net programs and rely on informal coethnic networks or a guiding figure a relative friend neighbor or coworker who explains how to get care and makes them feel confident in accessing it Most undocumented men in contrast are not eligible for public programs except in a medical emergency and often lack someone to guide them directly to care Men sometimes steer one another to jobs through worker centers where they may learn about various services and take advantage of those that increase their employability like English or computer classes but a culture of masculinity leads them to downplay medical problems and seek health care only in a crisis As undocumented immigrants navigate this exclusionary system Carrillo finds that they resist the rhetoric stigmatizing them as lawbreakers Dismissing the importance of papers and highlighting their work ethic they question the fairness of U S immigration policies and challenge ideas about who deserves care Carrillo offers concrete recommendations such as improving labor conditions and reexamining benefit eligibility to increase access to care for not only undocumented immigrants but also people who have been excluded because of their race criminal record gender identity sexual orientation or disability She argues that working with and across populations creates a powerful form of solidarity in advocating for inclusive care When Care Is Conditional provides compelling insights into how safety net and immigration policies intersect to affect people s everyday lives and calls for a cultural shift so that the United States can provide unconditional care for all

Administering the California Special Needs Trust Kevin Urbatsch, Michele Fuller, 2016-10-21 Administering a special needs trust SNT is a very important job which often has a profound impact on the life of persons with disabilities In most cases the SNT trustee is providing the beneficiary goods and services that improve their quality of life In some cases the SNT trustee may be the only person looking to the beneficiary's welfare Thus the role of SNT trustee is often a more substantial role than in many other types of trusteeships The great SNT trustee is a solid financial manager accountant record keeper legal counselor public benefits advisor social worker housing coordinator civil rights advocate guardian and life coach This is why author Kevin Urbatsch published his book titled Administering the California Special Needs Trust It has been five years since the book was published The reception for it far exceeded expectations There have been excellent reviews of how it has helped SNT trustees beneficiaries their families and professionals who advise persons with disabilities After reviewing the book the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council FFIEC flew Kevin to Washington D C to present to federal government bank auditors on what to look for when auditing corporate trustees when banks administer special needs trusts Other than the numbers that change each year like SSI or SSDI the balance of the book was current and up to date However there were some subjects that were missing in the book plus a couple of big changes that occurred since publication including the passage of the Affordable Care Act and the ABLE Achieving a Better Life Experience Act that provide excellent new tools for the SNT trustee Kevin recruited several of his professional colleagues to assist in preparing this Second Edition of the book including Michele Fuller Robert Nuddleman Herb Thomas Courtney Kosnik Scott MacDonald and Daniel Cutter With their assistance Kevin added the following new chapters to the book Paying Caregivers Paying Trustees Fees Understanding and Utilizing ABLE Accounts and Protecting the SNT Trustee Kevin was also able to update and revise the information in the balance of the book and provide additional forms to make the job of being an SNT trustee safer and more efficient With the checklists form documents and law summaries included Administering the Special Needs Trust contains a wide range of information for those charged with the responsibility of managing an SNT for persons with disabilities

Estimating Eligibility and Participation for the WIC Program National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel to Evaluate the USDA's Methodology for Estimating Eligibility and Participation for the WIC Program, 2001-08-14 Each year the U S Department of Agriculture USDA must estimate the number of people who are eligible to participate in the Special

Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women Infants and Children WIC These USDA estimates have come under critical scrutiny in part because the number of infants and postpartum women who have actually enrolled in the program has exceeded the number estimated to be eligible by as much as 20 to 30 percent These high coverage rates have led some members of Congress to conclude that some people who participate are truly ineligible and that funding could be reduced somewhat and still meet the needs of truly eligible persons who wish to participate But some advocates and state WIC agencies believe that the estimates of the number of eligible persons are too low and more people who are eligible and want to participate could do so In response to these concerns the Food and Nutrition Service FNS of the USDA asked the Committee on National Statistics of the National Research Council to convene a panel of experts to review the methods used to estimate the number of people nationwide who are eligible and likely to participate in the WIC program The panel's charge is to review currently used and alternative data and methods for estimating income eligibility adjunctive eligibility from participation in other public assistance programs nutritional risk and participation if the program is fully funded
