APM - Archeologia Postmedievale, 19, 2015 - Gran Bretagna e Italia tra Mediterraneo e Atlantico: Livorno - 'un porto inglese' / Italy and Britain between Mediterranean and Atlantic worlds: Leghorn - 'an English port'

Hugo Blake, 2017-09-08 Livorno fu una creazione postmedievale di notevole successo. Diventò il più grande porto di transito del Mediterraneo e creò il concetto di porto franco in Europa. Costruita dai Granduchi Medici prosperò come la più importante base commerciale nel Mediterraneo per i Poteri nord atlantici. Tra questi il principale fu inglese la cui Royal Navy garantì il suo successo commerciale e il predominio britannico nel Mediterraneo un'area che era ancora la fonte di prodotti e beni di lusso e che forniva un mercato popoloso per le manifatture i metalli il pesce le riesportazioni coloniali ed i servizi di trasporto inglesi. Questo volume raccoglie quattordici contributi che danno prove materiali della relazione della Gran Bretagna con Livorno e la Toscana. Livorno was a remarkably successful post medieval creation which became the greatest transit port in the Mediterranean and pioneered the concept of the free port in Europe. Built by the Medici Grand Dukes it prospered as the main commercial base in the Mediterranean for north Atlantic powers. Principal amongst these were the English whose Royal Navy ensured their commercial success and Britain's dominance of the Mediterranean an area which was still the source of luxury produce and goods and provided a populous market for British manufactures metals fish colonial re exports and shipping. This volume brings together fourteen papers highlighting the material evidence of Britain's relationship with Livorno and Tuscany.

The Routledge History of Women in Early Modern Europe Amanda L. Capern, 2019-10-30 The Routledge History of Women in Early Modern Europe is a comprehensive and ground breaking survey of the lives of women in early modern Europe between 1450 and 1750. Covering a period of dramatic political and cultural change the book challenges the current contours and chronologies of European history by observing them through the lens of female experience. The collaborative research of this book covers four themes the affective world practical knowledge for life politics and religion arts science and humanities. These themes are interwoven through the chapters which encompass all areas of women's lives sexuality emotions health and wellbeing educational attainment litigation and the practical and leisured application of knowledge skills and artistry from medicine to theology. The intellectual lives of women through reading and writing and their spirituality and engagement with the material world are also explored. So too is the sheer energy of female work including farming and manufacture skilled craft and artwork theatrical work and scientific enquiry. The Routledge History of Women in Early Modern Europe revises the chronological and ideological parameters of early modern European history by opening the reader's eyes to an exciting age of female productivity social engagement and political activism across European and transatlantic boundaries. It is essential reading for students and researchers of early modern history the history of women and gender studies.

Comparative Perspectives on Work-Life Balance and Gender Equality Margaret O'Brien, Karin Wall, 2016-12-06 This book is open access under a CC BY NC 2.5 license. This book portrays men's experiences of home alone leave and how it affects their lives and family gender roles in different policy contexts and explores how this unique parental leave design is implemented in these contrasting policy regimes. The book brings together three major theoretical strands social policy in particular the literature on comparative leave policy developments family and gender studies in particular the analysis of gendered divisions of work and care and recent shifts in parenting and work family balance critical studies of men and masculinities with a specific focus on fathers and fathering in contemporary western societies and life courses Drawing on empirical data from in depth interviews with fathers across eleven countries the book shows that the experiences and social processes associated with fathers home alone leave involve a diversity of trends revealing both innovations and absence of change including pluralization as well as the constraining influence of policy gender and social context As a theoretical and empirical book it raises important issues on modernization of the life course and the family in contemporary societies The book will be of particular interest to scholars in comparing western societies and welfare states as well as to scholars seeking to understand changing work life policies and family life in societies with different social and historical pathways

Improving Quality of Care in Family Planning Jay Satia,Kavita

Chauhan,2018-05-09 In this book the authors review initiatives in improving the quality of care for family planning in India and bring them to the broader forum of policy level discussions The global Family Planning 2020 FP2020 framework argues for voluntary rights based family planning programmes The rights based approach builds on the bedrock of quality of care which means listening to what women want treating individuals with dignity and respect and ensuring that everyone has access to full information and high quality care Improving the quality of care in family planning services in a country like India is crucial from individual national and global considerations This book critically discusses and evaluates the various interventions undertaken so far and the reasons for success and failure It also synthesizes current research studies in India identifies gaps and presents a research agenda to bridge this gap and accelerate progress towards improving quality of care in family planning It presents a comprehensive framework that underscores the importance of health systems and community environments in creating enabling motivating and empowering roles for providers and clients The examples and perspectives presented in this book make a strong case for adoption into policy frameworks and scaling up of quality of care efforts and identifying research priorities for strengthening the response to family planning This book greatly contributes towards enhancing the quality of family planning care at the grass roots level in low resource settings and is of interest to researchers and practitioners of public health particularly community health maternal and child health and social work
