Modern Mongolia From Khans To Commissars To Capitalists:

Modern Mongolia Morris Rossabi, 2005-04-25 Land locked between its giant neighbors Russia and China Mongolia was the first Asian country to adopt communism and the first to abandon it When the Soviet Union collapsed in the early 1990s Mongolia turned to international financial agencies including the International Monetary Fund the World Bank and the Asian Development Bank for help in compensating for the economic changes caused by disruptions in the communist world Modern Mongolia is the best informed and most thorough account to date of the political economy of Mongolia during the past decade In it Morris Rossabi explores the effects of the withdrawal of Soviet assistance the role of international financial agencies in supporting a pure market economy and the ways that new policies have led to greater political freedom but also to unemployment poverty increasingly inequitable distribution of income and deterioration in the education health and well being of Mongolian society Rossabi demonstrates that the agencies providing grants and loans insisted on Mongolia s adherence to a set of policies that did not generally take into account the country s unique heritage and society Though the sale of state assets minimalist government liberalization of trade and prices a balanced budget and austerity were supposed to yield marked economic growth Mongolia the world s fifth largest per capita recipient of foreign aid did not recover as expected As he details this painful transition from a collective to a capitalist economy Rossabi also analyzes the cultural effects of the sudden opening of Mongolia to democracy He looks at the broader implications of Mongolia s international situation and considers its future particularly in relation to China

Mobility and Displacement Orhon Myadar, 2020-09-29 This book explores and contests both outsiders projections of Mongolia and the self objectifying tropes Mongolians routinely deploy to represent their own country as a land of nomads It speaks to the experiences of many societies and cultures that are routinely treated as exotic romantic primitive or otherwise different and Other in Euro American imaginaries and how these imaginaries are also internally produced by those societies themselves The assumption that Mongolia is a nomadic nation is largely predicated upon Mongolia s environmental and climatic conditions which are understood to make Mongolia suitable for little else than pastoral nomadism But to the contrary the majority of Mongolians have been settled in and around cities and small population centers Even Mongolians who are herders have long been unable to move freely in a smooth space as dictated by the needs of their herds and as they would as free roaming nomads Instead they have been subjected to various constraints across time that have significantly limited their movement The book weaves threads from disparate branches of Mongolian studies to expose various visible and invisible constraints on population mobility in Mongolia from the Qing period to the post socialist era With its in depth analysis of the complexities of the relationship between land rights mobility displacement and the state the book makes a valuable contribution to the fields of cultural geography political geography heritage and culture studies as well as Eurasian and Inner Asian Studies Winner of the Julian Minghi

Distinguished Book Award AAG 2022 Pastoralism and Common Pool Resources Sandagsuren Undargaa, 2016-03-31

The grazing of animals on common land and associated property rights were the original basis of the concept of the tragedy of the commons Drawing on the classic work of Elinor Ostrom and the readings of political ecology this book questions the application of exclusive property rights to mobile pastoralism and rangeland resource governance It argues that this approach inadequately represents property relations in the context of Mongolian pastoralism The author presents an in depth exploration and analysis of mobile pastoral production and resource management in Mongolia The country is widely considered to be a prime example of successful and resilient common pool resource management but now faces a dilemma as policy advocates attempt to adjust historical pastoralism to a modern property regime framework The book strengthens understanding of the complex and multilateral considerations involved in natural resource governance and management in a mobile pastoralist context It considers the implications for common pool resource management and pastoral societies in Africa Russia and China and includes recommendations for formulating national policy China's Foreign Relations and the Survival of Autocracies Julia Bader,2014-10-30 The Chinese government has frequently been criticized for propping up anti democratic governments This book investigates the rise of China as an emerging authoritarian power By comparing China s bilateral relations to three Asian developing countries Burma Cambodia and Mongolia it examines how China targets specific groups of actors in autocracies versus non autocracies It illustrates how the Chinese non interference policy translates into support for incumbent leaders in autocratic countries and how the Chinese government has thereby profited from exploiting secretive decision making in autocracies to realize its own external interests such as achieving access to natural resources In a statistical analysis of the patterns of Chinese external cooperation and their impact on the survival of autocratic leaders the book finds some evidence that China is more likely to target autocracies with economic cooperation However only some forms of bilateral interaction are found to increase the prospect of survival for autocratic leaders This important contribution to the understanding of both external factors of authoritarian endurance and China s foreign relations a field of study still lacking systematic investigation will be of great interest to students and researchers in Development Studies Asian Studies International Relations and International Political Economy Does Everyone Want Democracy? Paula L. W. Sabloff,2016-06-16 Do all people desire democracy For at least a century the idea that democracy is a universal good has been an article of faith for American policy makers Paula Sabloff challenges this conventional wisdom about who wants democracy and why Arguing that certain universal human aspirations exist she shows how local realities are highly particularistic and explains that culture history and values are critical to the study of political systems Her fascinating study of Mongolia feudal until it became the first country to follow Russia into communism and now struggling with post socialist democratization is a model for investigating how everyday people around the world actually think about and implement democracy on their own terms Routledge Handbook of Sexuality Studies in East Asia Mark McLelland,Vera Mackie,2014-09-15 This collection brings together cutting edge work by established and emerging scholars focusing on key societies in the East Asian region China Taiwan Hong Kong Japan North and South Korea Mongolia and Vietnam This scope enables the collection to reflect on the nature of the transformations in constructions of sexuality in highly developed developing and emerging societies and economies Both Japan and China have established traditions of sexuality studies reflecting longstanding indigenous understandings of sex as well as more recent developments which interface with Euro American medical and psychological understandings Authors reflect upon the complex colonial and economic interactions and cultural flows which have affected the East Asian region over the last two centuries They trace local flows of ideas instead of defaulting to Euro American paradigms for sexuality studies Through looking at regional and global exchanges of ideas about sexuality this volume adds considerably to our understanding of the East Asian region and contributes to wider discussions of social transformation modernisation and globalisation It will be essential reading in undergraduate and graduate programs in sexuality studies gender studies women s studies and masculinity studies as well as in anthropology sociology history cultural studies area studies and health sciences

Culture and Customs of Mongolia Timothy May, 2008-11-30 The Gobi Desert cold mountainous regions and harsh climate of Mongolia leave it with one of the lowest population densities in the world Nonetheless Mongolians are proud of their long heritage and carry even today their customs of the past In this all inclusive study of contemporary Mongolian life readers will learn about nomadic lifestyles still practiced today Other topics covered include Buddhism and other religions literature arts cuisine dress family life festivals and leisure activities social customs and lifestyle May also includes an overview of Chinggis Khan the father of the Mongol Empire and his legacy in Mongolian culture today Ideal for high school and undergraduate students this volume is an essential addition to library shelves

Musical Performance in the Diaspora Tina K Ramnarine, 2013-10-18 This book illustrates how ethnographic investigation of musical performances might contribute to the analysis of diaspora It embraces diverse examples such as mourning and cultures of survival amongst Aboriginal and Jewish communities in Australia remembering a Kazakh homeland in Western Mongolia celebrating Diwali in New Zealand and the circulation of musical performances in Mozambique Portugal and the UK Some of the topics discussed in Musical Performance in the Diaspora include the expression and shaping of diasporic and postcolonial identities through performance musical memory in diasporic contexts the geographies of performance the politics of new forms of diasporic music making This book presents a rich array of theoretical approaches and wide ranging ethnographic case studies to reconsider and challenge discourses that have favoured uncritical notions of diasporic hybridity and to broaden current analyses of performance in the diaspora

Cultural Sociology of the Middle East, Asia, and Africa Andrea L. Stanton, 2012 In our age of globalization and multiculturalism it has never been more important to understand and appreciate all cultures across the world The four volumes take a step forward in this endeavour by presenting concise information on those regions least well known to students across Europe the Middle East Asia and Africa The volumes convey what daily life is like for people in these selected regions Entries will aid readers in understanding the importance of cultural sociology to appreciate the effects of cultural forces around the world and to learn the history of countries and cultures within these important regions Key Features Topics are explored within historical context in three broad historical periods prehistory to 1250 1250 to 1920 and 1920 to the present One volume each is devoted to the regions of the Middle East and Africa and then one volume to East and Southeast Asia and a final volume to West Central and South Asia The volumes include extensive use of photographs and maps to explain cultural and geographic content Each volume has its own volume editor with expertise in that particular region Key Themes Arts Culture and Science People Society and Dynasties Religion and Law Family and Daily Life Conflicts and Wars Politics and Government Health and Education Economy Trade and Industry National Geography and History

Beijing's Power and China's Borders Bruce Elleman, Stephen Kotkin, Clive Schofield, 2015-05-18 China shares borders with 20 other countries Each of these neighbors has its own national interests and in some cases these include territorial and maritime jurisdictional claims in places that China also claims Most of these 20 countries have had a history of border conflicts with China some of them never amicably settled This book brings together some of the foremost historians geographers political scientists and legal scholars on modern Asia to examine each of China's twenty land or sea borders

Multilingualism and Pluricentricity John Hajek, Catrin Norrby, Heinz L. Kretzenbacher, Doris Schüpbach, 2023-11-20 This volume explores linguistic diversity and complexity in different urban contexts many of which have never been subject to significant sociolinguistic inquiry A novel mixture of cities of varying size from around the world is studied from megacities to smaller cities on the national periphery All chapters discuss either the multilingualism or the pluricentric aspect of the linguistic diversity in urban areas most focussing on one urban centre The book showcases multiple approaches ranging from a quantitative investigation based partly on census data to qualitative studies flowing for example from extensive ethnographic work or discourse analysis The diverse theoretical backgrounds and methodological approaches in the individual chapters are complemented by two chapters outlining the current trends and debates in the sociolinguistic research on urban multilingualism and pluricentricity and suggesting some possible directions for future investigations in this field The book thus provides a broad overview of sociolinguistic research of multilingual places and pluricentric languages

The Routledge Handbook of Tourism in Asia C. Michael Hall, Stephen J. Page, 2016-09-13 Asia is regarded as the fastest growing area for international and domestic tourism in the world today and over the next 20 years Given the economic social and environmental importance of tourism in the region there is a need for a comprehensive and readable overview of the critical debates and controversies in tourism in the region and the major factors that are affecting tourism development both now and in the foreseeable future This Handbook provides a contemporary survey of the region and its continued growth and development as a key destination and generator of tourism which is marked by a high proportion of intra regional travel The book is divided into five sections This first section provides an introduction to the region and context to the nationally focused chapters The next three sections are then broadly based on the three UNWTO Asian regions South East Asia South and Central Asia and East and North East Asia providing readers with a valuable snapshot of tourism at various scales and from various approaches and positions The concluding section considers future prospects for tourism in Asia The handbook is interdisciplinary in coverage and is also international in scope through its authorship and content It presents a range of perspectives and understanding of the processes and forces that are shaping tourism in this fascinating and dynamic region that is one of the focal points of global tourism This is essential reading for students researchers and academics interested in tourism in the growth region of Asia now and in the future Global Rebellion Mark

Juergensmeyer,2008-05-16 Why has the turn of the twenty first century been rocked by a new religious rebellion From al Qaeda to Christian militias to insurgents in Iraq a strident new religious activism has seized the imaginations of political rebels around the world Building on his groundbreaking book The New Cold War Religious Nationalism Confronts the Secular State Mark Juergensmeyer here provides an up to date road map through this complex new religious terrain Basing his discussion on interviews with militant activists and case studies of rebellious movements Juergensmeyer puts a human face on conflicts that have become increasingly abstract He revises our notions of religious revolution and offers positive proposals for responding to religious activism in ways that will diminish the violence and lead to an accommodation between radical religion and the secular world Tragic Spirits Manduhai Buyandelger,2022-12-22 A highly readable ethnographic study of the resurgence of shamanism among nomadic Mongolians in a time of radical political and economic change The Journal of Asian Studies Winner Francis Hsu Book Prize from the Society for East Asian Anthropology Shortlisted ICAS International Convention of Asia Scholars Book Prize The collapse of socialism at the end of the twentieth century brought devastating changes to Mongolia Economic shock therapy an immediate liberalization of trade and privatization of publicly owned assets quickly led to impoverishment especially in rural parts of the country where Tragic Spirits takes place Following the travels of the nomadic Buryats Manduhai Buyandelger tells a story not only of economic devastation but also a remarkable Buryat response to it the revival of shamanic practices after decades of socialist suppression Attributing their current misfortunes to returning ancestral spirits who are vengeful over being abandoned under socialism the Buryats are now at once trying to appease their ancestors and recover the history of their people through shamanic practice Thoroughly documenting this process Buyandelger situates it as part of a global phenomenon comparing the rise of shamanism in liberalized Mongolia to its similar rise in Africa and Indonesia In doing so she offers a sophisticated analysis of the way economics politics gender and other factors influence the spirit world and the crucial workings of cultural memory An excellent addition to studies in the area emotive accessible and well researched London School of Economics Review of Books The Mongolian Ecosystem Network Norio Yamamura,Noboru Fujita,Ai Maekawa,2012-09-20 The aim of this book is to describe what is currently occurring in the Mongolian grasslands to analyze how various factors creating environmental problems interact and to suggest solutions for sustainable management of the grasslands The book has three parts Part I is an introduction explaining the key concept of an ecosystem network and providing background information on the general features of Mongolian nomadic pastoralism as well as distribution of vegetation in Mongolian grasslands Part II describes the effects of natural environmental factors and nomadic activities on grassland conditions Water dynamics that maintain the grassland system are analyzed in a steppe region with shrubs and in a forest steppe region with trees Part III describes the effects of economic and social factors on land use and the livelihood of herders As nomadic people moved closer to large cities for economic advantage in the 1990s degradation of pastures by overgrazing resulted Finally the impacts of global warming and globalization on the Mongolian society and ecosystem are examined This book analyzes environmental problems in Mongolian grasslands but the contents contribute to consideration of environmental problems and sustainable pasture use in grassland areas worldwide      Disenchanted Modernities Tobias Haller, Samuel Weissman, 2024 Mega Infrastructure Projects MIPs represent a central element of globalized development MIPs like the Chinese driven Belt and Road Initiative BRI include large scale agrarian road rail port and energy networks They are complex ventures involving international capital and multiple stakeholders Disenchanted Modernities presents 16 case studies showing that the promise of a sustainable modern development by MIPs leave many local users disenchanted They don't profit from the MIPs but lose access to their resources often held in common The book describes the strategies of states and companies as well as local responses to MIPs in Asia Africa Americas and Europe      Routledge Handbook of Asia in World Politics Teh-Kuang Chang, Angelin Chang, 2017-10-02 Asia is a complex and diverse continent which has seen the scope and pace of transformation increase rapidly over the past 30 years In turn the economic growth and social change seen in the region combined with new global security profiles and environmental challenges have contributed to placing Asia at the forefront of international affairs This Handbook brings together leading scholars of different disciplines including Politics and International Relations Security Studies and Law to provide a comprehensive analysis of both the prospects and problems which have emerged from Asia's rise Examining how developments across the continent have influenced global politics and how the region has responded to the international community in the modern era the sections cover Major actors in Asian politics especially China Japan and India International relations in Asia and intra Asian tensions Special issues of world politics in Asia including modern conflicts in and attitudes towards the Middle East The Routledge Handbook of Asia in World Politics will be useful to students and scholars of Global Politics International Relations and Asian Studies      Public Health Ethics: Cases Spanning the Globe Drue H. Barrett, Leonard W. Ortmann, Angus Dawson, Carla Saenz, Andreas Reis, Gail Bolan, 2016-04-12 This Open Access book highlights the ethical issues and dilemmas that arise in the practice of public health It is also a tool to support instruction debate and dialogue regarding public health ethics Although the practice of public health has always included consideration of ethical issues the field of public health ethics as a discipline is a relatively new and emerging area There are few practical training resources for public health practitioners especially resources which include discussion of realistic cases which are likely to arise in the practice of public health This work discusses these issues on a case to case basis and helps create awareness and understanding of the ethics of public health care The main audience for the casebook is public health practitioners including front line workers field epidemiology trainers and trainees managers planners and decision makers who have an interest in learning about how to integrate ethical analysis into their day to day public health practice The casebook is also useful to schools of public health and public health students as well as to academic ethicists who can use the book to teach public health ethics and distinguish it from clinical and research ethics

The Making of Eurasia Moritz Pieper, 2021-09-09 The Making of Eurasia investigates the multi layered spectrum of China and Russia s Eurasian policies towards each other ranging from competition to cooperation as well as the role of regional actors in between The book examines the impact of and responses to the dynamic Sino Russian interaction in the wake of China s Belt and Road initiative focusing on the selected case studies of Kazakhstan Mongolia and Uzbekistan but also on inter regional implications across the Eurasian space With China s imprint on inter regional politics and ambition to make a distinctive Chinese contribution to globalization and Russia s vision of a Greater Eurasia in which Moscow stakes out a place for itself as an indispensable power other regional actors adopt policies that respond to and co shape the resulting centrifugal forces Meanwhile power shifts are underway on a global plane as the normative divide between Russia and the West has widened and as the Sino American rivalry is intensifying The book therefore also sheds light on the effects of Eurasian power shifts on global governance in a context where global leadership is contested and in which the US and Europe are re defining their relationship not only towards a self confident China but also towards each other As such this study will provide valuable insight for students and scholars of Eurasian Asia Studies Foreign Policy Analysis and International Relations at large
