Modernity And The Hegemony Of Vision:

Modernity and the Hegemony of Vision David Michael Levin, 1993-11-08 A genuine contribution to the literature important especially to specialists in Continental philosophy but also to historians literary theorists and others who read recent European philosophy and who thus would want to think through the problem of the hegemony of vision David Hoy University of California Santa Cruz

Sensing the Past Mark Michael Smith, 2007 Smith's history of the sensate is destined to precipitate a revolution in our understanding of the sensibilities that underpinned the mentalities of past epochs David Howes author of Sensual Relations Engaging the Senses in Culture and Social Theory Mark M Smith presents a far ranging essay on the history of the senses that serves simultaneously as a good introduction to the historiography If one feels in danger of sensory overload from this growing body of scholarship Smith's piece is a useful preventive Leigh E Schmidt author of Restless Souls The Making of American Spirituality This is a masterful overview The history of the senses has been a frontier field for a while now Mark Smith draws together what we know with an impressive sensory range and encourages further work A really exciting survey Peter N Stearns author of American Fear The Causes and Consequences of High Anxiety Who would ever have guessed that a book on the history of the senses seeing hearing touching tasting and smelling could be informative thought provoking and at the same time most entertaining Ranging in both time and locale Mark Smith's Sensing the Past makes even the philosophy about the senses from ancient times to now both learned and exciting This work will draw scholars into under recognized subjects and lay readers into a world we simply but unwisely take for granted Bertram Wyatt Brown author of Southern Honor Ethics and Behavior in the Old South Mark M Smith has a good record of communicating his research to a broad constituency within and beyond the academy This will be required reading for anyone addressing sensory history Penelope Gouk author of Music Science and Natural Magic in Seventeenth Century England This is a fine cultural history of the body which takes Western and Eastern traditions and their texts quite seriously Smith views a history of the senses not only from below but places it squarely in the historical imagination It will be of interest to a wide range of readers Sander L Gilman author of Difference and Pathology

Archaeologies of Vision Gary Shapiro, 2003-04-15 While many acknowledge that Friedrich Nietzsche and Michel Foucault have redefined our notions of time and history few recognize the crucial role that the infinite relation between seeing and saying plays in their work Shapiro reveals the full extent of Nietzsche and Foucault's concern with the visual

Vision and Blindness in Film Dago Schelin, 2019-02-13 In order to understand vision we have to look into concepts of blindness both diegetically in typical film characters and in the representation of sight or lack thereof A critical historical investigation into theories of vision shows that the way we understand viscosity today scientifically and culturally is very different from pre modern notions and practices In this book Dago Schelin questions categories such as active and passive vision tactile viscosity as well as blind vision and discusses them alongside a variety of movies that deal with vision and blindness Is there a connection between the filmmaker's gaze and an older pre Keplerian ontology of vision What is the role of sound in vision Are our eyes mere camcorders or might they be projectors These and other questions comprise the fascinating journey on which this study embarks

At the Edges of Vision Ren?ande Vall,2017-07-05 In At the Edges of Vision Ren van de Vall re examines the aesthetics of spectatorship in terms of new media art and visual culture The aesthetic experience of visual art has traditionally been described in terms of the distanced contemplation and critical interpretation of the work s form and representational content Recent developments in installation video and computer art have foregrounded the bodily and affective engagement of the spectator and in retrospect throw into question the model of spectatorial distance for more traditional art forms as well But what does this development entail for art s potential for reflective imaginative and experiential depth Is art still capable of providing a critical counterpoint to the ubiquitous presence of sensational yet short lived media imagery when it speaks to the senses rather than to the mind In a thorough examination of examples from painting film installation art and interactive video and computer art Van de Vall argues for a tactile and affective conception of reflection linking philosophy and art Looking at a Rembrandt self portrait and navigating through an internet art work have in common that both types of work rely on a playful rhythmically structured sensuous and embodied reflexivity for the articulation of meaning This sensuous dimension of playful reflexivity is just as important in philosophical thought however as the transcendental condition for genuine open ended reflection Drawing on the philosophy of Merleau Ponty Levinas Lyotard and Deleuze on the one hand and on new media theory on the other Van de Vall develops a performative phenomenology of aesthetic reflection visuality and visual art in order to rethink art s ethical and political relevance in present day digital media culture

Vision's Invisibles Véronique M. Fóti,2012-02-01 Although philosophy today has abandoned its former fascination with transcendent invisibles it has left largely unexamined historical articulations of the divide between the visible and the invisible Vision s Invisibles argues that such a self examination is necessary for the sensitization of philosophical sight as well as for engagements with visuality in other domains To this end it investigates a range of challenging understandings of visuality in its relation to invisibles as articulated in the texts of key historical thinkers Heraclitus Plato and Descartes and of twentieth century philosophers including Foucault Merleau Ponty Nancy Derrida and Heidegger

Vision in Context Teresa Brennan,Martin Jay,2013-09-05 Vision and the gaze are key issues in the analysis of racism sexism and ethnocentrism In recent radical theory generally and French theory in particular vision has been seen as a means of control But this view is often unnuanced It bypasses questions such as Why is it that contemporary theories have been so critical of vision and generous towards listening in psychoanalysis and language in philosophy This collection of original essays brings together historical studies and contemporary theoretical perspectives on vision The historical papers focus in turn on Ancient Greece medieval theology the Renaissance the Enlightenment and the nineteenth century These historical studies are themselves thoroughly informed by poststructuralist theory They provide a rigorous background for several new exciting articles on vision and its bearings for feminism race sexual orientation film and art This collection is the first of its kind in juxtaposing historical and contemporary

Interpreting Visual Culture Ian Heywood, Barry Sandywell, 2005-07-28 Interpreting Visual Culture brings together original writings from leading experts in art history philosophy sociology and cultural studies Ranging from an analysis of the role of vision in current critical discourse to discussion of specific examples taken from the visual arts ethics and sociology it presents the latest material on the interpretation of the visual in modern culture Among topics covered are the visual rhetoric of modernity the drawings of Bonnard recent feminist art practices and perception in arts and ethics Towards a

Polemical Ethics Gregory Fried, 2021-04-07 Martin Heidegger held Plato responsible for inaugurating the slow slide of the West into nihilism and the apocalyptic crisis of modernity In this book Gregory Fried defends Plato against Heidegger's critiques While taking seriously Heidegger's analysis of human finitude and historicity Fried argues that Heidegger neglects the transcending ideals that necessarily guide human life as situated in time and place That neglect results in Heidegger's disastrous politics unhinged from a practical reason grounded in the philosophical search from a truth that transcends historical contingency Thinking both with and against Heidegger Fried shows how Plato's skeptical idealism provides an ethics that captures both the situatedness of finite human existence and the need for transcendent ideals The result is a novel way of understanding politics and ethical life that Fried calls a polemical ethics which mediates between finitude and transcendence by engaging in constructive confrontation with both traditions and other persons The contradiction between the founding ideals of the United States and its actual history of racism and slavery provides an occasion to discuss polemical ethics in practice Gaze, Vision, and Visuality in Ancient Greek Literature Alexandros Kampakoglou, Anna

Novokhatko, 2018-03-05 Visual culture performance and spectacle lay at the heart of all aspects of ancient Greek daily routine such as court and assembly cult and ritual and art and culture Seeing was considered the most secure means of obtaining knowledge with many citing the etymological connection between seeing and knowing in ancient Greek as evidence for this Seeing was also however often associated with mere appearances false perception and deception Gazing and visuality in the ancient Greek world have had a central place in the scholarship for some time now enjoying an abundance of pertinent discussions and bibliography If this book differs from the previous publications it is in its emphasis on diverse genres the concepts gaze vision and visuality are considered across different Greek genres and media The recipients of ancient Greek literature both oral and written were encouraged to perceive the narrated scenes as spectacles and to follow the gaze of the characters in the narrative By setting a broad time span the evolution of visual culture in Greece is tracked while also addressing broader topics such as theories of vision the prominence of visuality in specific time periods and the position of visuality in a hierarchisation of the senses I See You Ellen Grabiner, 2014-01-10 In the blockbuster film Avatar science fiction and the technological prowess of director James Cameron meet in a heady concoction that while visually ravishing could easily be dismissed as eye candy While critics most frequently acclaimed its breakthrough 3 D technology close scrutiny of the film raises provocative questions about the relationship between mind and body appearance and reality It brings into focus the relationships of humans to their technology their planet and each other and highlights the nature and potential of film itself This work explores the theoretical and philosophical issues brought to bear in Avatar exploring the spaces between human and machine technology and nature chick flick and action adventure and old fashioned storytelling and cutting edge technology Central to the book s analysis is an examination of the extent to which Avatar melds the seer and the seen illuminating an alternative visual paradigm Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Textures of Light Cathryn Vasseleu, 2002-01-31 Textures of Light draws on the work of Luce Irigaray Maurice Merleau Ponty and Emmanuel Levinas to present an outstanding and ground breaking study of the vital importance of light in Western thought Since Plato s allegory of the cave light and the role of sight have been accorded a unique position in Western thought They have stood as a metaphor for truth and objectivity and the very axis of modern rationalism More recently however this status has come under significant criticism from continental and feminist thought which has stressed the privileging of subjectivity and masculinity in such a metaphor

Ecologies of the Moving Image Adrian J. Ivakhiv, 2013-10-07 This book presents an ecophilosophy of cinema an account of the moving image in relation to the lived ecologies material social and perceptual relations within which movies are produced consumed and incorporated into cultural life If cinema takes us on mental and emotional journeys the author argues that those journeys that have reshaped our understanding of ourselves life and the Earth and universe A range of styles are examined from ethnographic and wildlife documentaries westerns and road movies sci fi blockbusters and eco disaster films to the experimental and art films of Tarkovsky Herzog Malick and Brakhage to YouTube s expanding audio visual universe

American Anatomies Robyn Wiegman, 1995 In this brilliantly combative study Robyn Wiegman challenges contemporary clichés about race and gender a formulation that is itself a cliché in need of questioning As part of what she calls her feminist disloyalty she turns a critical even skeptical eye on current debates about multiculturalism and difference while simultaneously exposing the many ways in which white racial supremacy has been reconfigured since the institutional demise of segregation Most of all she examines the hypocrisy and contradictoriness of over a century of narratives that posit Anglo Americans as heroic agents of racism s decline Whether assessing Uncle Tom s Cabin lynching Leslie Fiedler s racist mapping of the American novel the Black Power movement of the 60s 80s buddy films or the novels of Richard Wright and Toni Morrison Wiegman unflinchingly confronts the paradoxes of both racism and antiracist agendas including those advanced from a feminist perspective American Anatomies takes the long view What epistemological frameworks allowed the West from the Renaissance forward to schematize racial and gender differences and to create social hierarchies based on these differences How have those epistemological regimes changed and not changed over time Where are we now With painstaking care political passion and intellectual daring Wiegman analyzes the biological and cultural bases of racial and gender bias in order to reinvigorate the discussion of identity politics She concludes that for very different reasons identity proves to be dangerous to minority and majority alike

Peter Greenaway's Postmodern / Poststructuralist Cinema Paula Willoquet-Maricondi, Mary Alemany-Galway, 2008-07-17 Since the 1960s British multi media artist Peter Greenaway has shocked and intrigued audiences with his avant garde approach to filmmaking and other artistic ventures From early experimental films to provocative features Greenaway has deployed strategies associated with structuralist cinema only to challenge or critique the very limits of that cinema and of film in general In this collection of essays scholars from a variety of disciplines explore various postmodern and poststructuralist aspects of Greenaway s films starting with his early shorts and delving into his feature length works including The Draughtman s Contract The Belly of an Architect A Zed and Two Noughts The Cook the Thief His Wife and Her Lover The Baby of M con and The Pillow Book Other artistic productions including his paintings and installations are also discussed These essays examine the filmmaker s position within British and avant garde cinema and his interest in constructing and deconstructing representational systems In the years since the first edition of this book Greenaway has enjoyed continued success in creating hybridized media projects for the stage and screen as evidenced by additional essays for this revised edition A new chapter addresses how Dutch political events and Dutch art have been crucial in shaping Greenaway s aesthetic focusing on The Draughtsman s Contract the 1991 opera Writing to Vermeer and Nightwatching the audio visual installation and 2007 film of the same name which were inspired by Rembrandt s Night Watch Also new to this collection is an essay that examines Greenaway s most ambitious endeavor to date The Tulse Luper Suitcases which exists as four feature films multiple websites an online game several books and installations and a number of theatrical events Peter Greenaway s Postmodern Poststructuralist Cinema Revised Edition explores the cultural historical and philosophical implication

Hitchcock and the Cinema of Sensations Paul Elliott, 2011-08-30 When we talk of seeing a film we do not refer to a purely visual experience Rather to understand what we see on screen we rely as much on non visual senses as we do on sight This new book rethinks the body in the cinema seat charting the emergence of embodied film theory and drawing on developments in philosophy neuroscience body politics and film theory Through the prism of Alfred Hitchcock s films we explore how our bodies and sensual memory enable us to quite literally flesh out what we see on screen the trope of nausea in Frenzy pollution and smell in Shadow of a Doubt physical sound reception in the Psycho shower scene and the importance of corporeality and closeness in Rear Window We see how the body s sensations have a vital place in cinematic reception and the study of film

The Transparent State Deborah Ascher Barnstone, 2004-11-10 Do open societies need transparent architecture Does transparent architecture help make an open society This book examines German culture s on going relationship with Transparency a relationship which culminates in the new Reichstag building

Radio and the Politics of Sound in Interwar France, 1921-1939 Rebecca Scales, 2016-02-24 Explores how radio broadcasting and the emerging audio culture transformed the dynamics of French politics during the tumultuous interwar decades

Re-framing Representations of Women Susan Shifrin, 2017-07-05 Crossing disciplinary and chronological boundaries this volume integrates text and image essays and object pages to explore the processes inherent in gender representation rather than resituating women in particular categories or spheres as other scholarly publications and exhibitions have done Taking its lead from the Picturing Women project on which it reflects and builds the volume makes a substantial methodological contribution to the analysis of gender discourse and visibility It offers new and stimulating scholarship that confronts historical patterns of representation that have defined what women were and are seen to be and presents new contexts for unveiling what art historian Linda Nochlin has called the mixed messages of representations of women

Embodiment and Education Marjorie O'Loughlin, 2006-06-27 This book brings together some of the most important philosophical works on the body These are then subjected to a critical analysis of what bodies do and have done to them in contemporary social life and particularly in education The author acknowledges the importance of discursive bodies while focusing attention on the active experiencing body and its anchoring in the creaturely Thinking in these terms the author argues can better situate human beings in their environment thus emphasizing a kind of ecological notion of subjectivity in which place based existence is understood anew
