Gardeners' Chronicle and Agricultural Gazette ,1849     The Carmichael Experiment David E. Nettles,2022-08-25 Vietnam 1971 Was he a threat to himself or the other marine pilots Lieutenant Devon Carmichael was not sure how to answer the straightforward question The experiment he had been involved in was months ago with no apparent side effects Honestly I don t think so The commanding officer stepped forward No Well while you were sick you ran a 108 degree fever The doctor didn t force me to take you to the hospital because no one knew what the hell was wrong with you Then I was told flat out to keep my nose out of your past The captain sighed and moved toward the door Your fever was sure strange By all counts you should be dead or brain damaged With the knob in his hand he turned to look at his young officer once more So no huh Okay if you say so He pulled the door open turned and leaned against it Oh Dev a couple other things I may not have mentioned before You were seen on South Point Hill overlooking the beach and the defensive fighting positions yesterday by the military police and in the hangar walking around your plane the day before that And in both instances you simply vanished Now seeing as how I know you never left that bed for a single minute since we put you there three days ago this poor old country boy has to stop and ask himself Do you possibly have a twin The senior officer raised an eyebrow at Devon's expression of shocked surprise Son you just might want to ask yourself about that top secret stuff one more time Because personally I disagree with your answer He stepped into the hall to let Devon rethink what it had meant to be part of the Carmichael Experiment      Appendix to Report of the Commissioners Ireland.
