Modernism In Serbia The Elusive Margins Of Belgrade Architecture 1919 1941:

Modernism in Serbia Ljiljana Blagojevic, Ljiljana Blagojević, 2003 The first comprehensive study of the modern movement in Serbian architecture Phantom Architecture: Essays on Interwar Architecture in Belgrade Anna Novakov, 2011-02-03 For 1920s urbanites city streets were conceived as microcosms of all that was new and exciting They were also contested spaces provocative divisive thoroughfares and showcases for the display of cultural political and economic differences For Serbian interwar artists the streets of Belgrade served as artistic metaphors for a kind of territorial dislocation and the peripheral modernism of the East This series of four essays focuses on the phantom architecture produced by both male and female artists working before 1940 The work beautifully emerges into the modernist era and brings with it issues of design heritage and the present moment

Urban Architectures in Interwar Yugoslavia Tanja D. Conley, 2020-02-25 Resulting from a twenty year period of research this book seeks to challenge contradictions between the concepts of national and modern architectures promoted among the most pronounced national groups of Yugoslavia Serbs Croats and Slovenes It spans from the beginning of their nation building programs in the mid nineteenth century until the collapse of unified South Slavic ideology and the outbreak of the Second World War Organized into two parts it sheds new light onto the question of how two conflicting political agendas on one side the quest for integral Yugoslavism and on the other the fight for strictly separate national identities were acknowledged through the architecture and urbanism of Belgrade Zagreb and Ljubljana Drawing wider conclusions author Tanja D Conley investigates boundaries between two opposing yet interrelated tendencies characterizing the architectural professional in the age of modernity the search for authenticity versus the strive towards globalization Urban Architectures in Interwar Yugoslavia will appeal to researchers academics and students interested in Central and Eastern European architectural history

Belgrade David A. Norris, 2009 Perched above the confluence of two great rivers the Sava and Danube Belgrade has been home to many civilizations Celts Romans Byzantines Bulgars Magyars Ottomans and Serbs A Turkish fortress the focus for a Serbian principality an intellectual and artistic center the city grew until it became capital of Yugoslavia Now it is one of the largest cities in south eastern Europe and capital of the Republic of Serbia Despite many challenges Belgrade has resisted assimilation and created a unique cultural identity out of its many contrasting sides sometimes with surprising consequences

Transforming Heritage in the Former Yugoslavia Gruia Bădescu, Britt Baillie, Francesco Mazzucchelli, 2021-08-11 Heritage became a target during the Yugoslav Wars as part of ethnic cleansing and urbicide Out of the ashes of war pasts were remodelled places took on new layers of meaning and a wave of new memorialization took hold Three decades since the fall of Vukovar and the end of the siege of Sarajevo and more than a decade since Kosovo's Declaration of Independence conflict has shifted from armed confrontations to battles about the past The former Yugoslavia has been described on the one hand as a bastion of plurality and multiculturalism and on the other as a territory of antagonism and radical nationalisms echoing imaginaries and narratives relevant to Europe as a whole With Croatia having entered the EU in 2013 and the continuous political contestation in the region wounds in the memory fabric of the former Yugoslavia have once more come to the world's attention Thus there is the question what will happen when the former republics are reunited once more under the EU umbrella itself beset by increasing populisms nationalisms and the looming prospects of territorial fragmentation This collection scrutinizes the role of heritage in conflict time inquires what role the past might have in creating new identities at the local regional national and supra national levels and investigates the dynamics of heritage as a process

Sanctioning Modernism Vladimir Kulic, Timothy Parker, Monica Penick, 2014-06-01 In the decades following World War II modern architecture spread around the globe alongside increased modernization urbanization and postwar reconstruction and it eventually won widespread acceptance But as the limitations of conventional conceptions of modernism became apparent modern architecture has come under increasing criticism In this collection of essays experienced and emerging scholars take a fresh look at postwar modern architecture by asking what it meant to be modern what role modern architecture played in constructing modern identities and who sanctioned or was sanctioned by modernism in architecture This volume presents focused case studies of modern architecture in three realms political religious and domestic that address our very essence as human beings Several essays explore developments in Czechoslovakia Romania and Yugoslavia and document a modernist design culture that crossed political barriers such as the Iron Curtain more readily than previously imagined Other essays investigate various efforts to reconcile the concerns of modernist architects with the traditions of the Roman Catholic Church and other Christian institutions And a final group of essays looks at postwar homebuilding in the United States and demonstrates how malleable and contested the image of the American home was in the mid twentieth century These inquiries show the limits of canonical views of modern architecture and reveal instead how civic institutions ecclesiastical traditions individual consumers and others sought to sanction the forms and ideas of modern architecture in the service of their respective claims or desires to be modern

Kohlrausch,2019-03-11 The story of modernist architects in East Central Europe The first half of the twentieth century witnessed the rise of modernist architects Brokers of Modernity reveals how East Central Europe turned into one of the pre eminent testing grounds of the new belief system of modernism By combining the internationalism of the CIAM organization and the modernising aspirations of the new states built after 1918 the reach of modernist architects extended far beyond their established fields Yet these architects paid a price when Europe s age of extremes intensified Mainly drawing on Polish but also wider Central and Eastern European cases this book delivers a pioneering study of the dynamics of modernist architects as a group including how they became qualified how they organized communicated and attempted to live the modernist lifestyle themselves In doing so Brokers of Modernity raises questions concerning collective work in general and also invites us to examine the social role of architects today Ebook available in Open Access This publication is GPRC labeled Guaranteed Peer Reviewed Content Making it Modern Aaron Betsky,2016-12-15 At its root modernism is that fundamental It is a question of having something to represent that is of the moment In the most radical interpretation modernism always comes too late The modern is that which is always new which is to say always changing and already old by the time it has appeared Modernism is always a retrospective act one of documenting or trying to catch what has already appeared an attempt to fix life as it is being lived Modernity is just the very fact that we as human beings are continually remaking the world around us through our actions and are doing so consciously Modernism is a monument to or memory of that act which in its own making tries to remake the world it is pretending to represent Capital Cities in the Aftermath of Empires Emily Gunzburger Makas,Tanja Damljanovic Conley,2009-12-04 Exploring the urban and planning history of cities across Central and South eastern Europe against a background of rising nationalism this book contains fourteen studies of individual cities Introductory chapters in the book outline the political history of the area and how the developments in the different countries were interconnected Designing Tito's Capital Brigitte Le Normand,2014-07-16 A major influence was modernist Le Corbusier and his Athens Charter published in 1943 which called for the total reconstruction of European cities transforming them into compact and verdant vertical cities unfettered by slumlords private interests and traffic congestion As Yugoslavia transitioned toward self management and market socialism the functionalist district of New Belgrade and its modern living were lauded as the model city of socialist man The glow of the utopian ideal would fade by the 1960s when market socialism had raised expectations for living standards and the government was eager for inhabitants to finance their own housing By 1972 a new master plan emerged under Aleksandar ordevic fashioned with the assistance of American experts Espousing current theories about systems and rational process planning and using cutting edge computer technology the new plan left behind the dream for a functionalist Belgrade and instead focused on managing growth trends Urban

Revolution Now Christian Schmid, 2016-12-05 When Henri Lefebvre published The Urban Revolution in 1970 he sketched a research itinerary on the emerging tendency towards planetary urbanization Today when this tendency has become reality Lefebvre's ideas on everyday life production of space rhythm analysis and the right to the city are indispensable for the understanding of urbanization processes at every scale of social practice This volume is the first to develop Lefebvre's concepts in social research and architecture by focusing on urban conjunctures in Barcelona Belgrade Berlin Budapest Copenhagen Dhaka Hong Kong London New Orleans Nowa Huta Paris Toronto São Paulo Sarajevo as well as in Mexico and Switzerland With contributions by historians and theorists of architecture and urbanism geographers sociologists political and cultural scientists Urban Revolution Now reveals the multiplicity of processes of urbanization and the variety of their patterns and actors around the globe
