Modiano Dora Bruder:

Dora Bruder Patrick Modiano, 2014-11-18 2014 Winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature Patrick Modiano opens Dora Bruder by telling how in 1988 he stumbled across an ad in the personal columns of the New Year's Eve 1941 edition of Paris Soir Placed by the parents of a 15 year old Jewish girl Dora Bruder who had run away from her Catholic boarding school the ad sets Modiano off on a quest to find out everything he can about Dora and why at the height of German reprisals she ran away on a bitterly cold day from the people hiding her He finds only one other official mention of her name on a list of Jews deported from Paris to Auschwitz in September 1942 With no knowledge of Dora Bruder aside from these two records Modiano continues to dig for fragments from Dora's past What little he discovers in official records and through remaining family members becomes a meditation on the immense losses of the period lost people lost stories and lost history Modiano delivers a moving account of the ten year investigation that took him back to the sights and sounds of Paris under the Nazi Occupation and the paranoia of the Pétain regime as he tries to find connections to Dora In his efforts to exhume her from the past Modiano realizes that he must come to terms with the specters of his own troubled adolescence The result a montage of creative and historical material is Modiano's personal rumination on loss both memoir and memorial Dora Bruder

Vichy's Afterlife Richard Joseph Golsan,2000-01-01 One of the distinctive features of the Vichy Syndrome the persistence of the memory of the Vichy regime in French political and cultural life is that it has been extremely difficult for an authoritative historical discourse to impose itself Why does Vichy and all that the name entails fascinate and even obsess the French inflecting not only discussions of the past but of the present as well In Vichy's Afterlife Richard J Golsan explores the complexities of some of the most provocative episodes of Vichy's curious persistence in France's national consciousness He argues that each of these episodes events and scandals constitutes a crossroads where history and counterhistory different or competing versions of the past encounter one another often with explosive and even destructive consequences

A Self-conscious Art Akane Kawakami,2000-01-01 A Self Conscious Art deals with the formal complexities of Modiano's work by reading against the grain of his self-professed ingenuousness A detailed examination of his narratives shows the deeply postmodern nature of his writing Parodying precursors such as Proust or the nouveau romanciers his narratives are built around a profound lack of faith in the ability of writing to retrieve the past through memory and this failure is acknowledged in the discreet playfulness that characterises his novels

Shadows in the City of Light Sara R. Horowitz,Amira Bojadzija-Dan,Julia Creet,2021-05-01 The essays in Shadows in the City of Light explore the significance of Paris in the writing of five influential French writers Sarah Kofman Patrick Modiano George Perec Henri Raczymow and Irene Nemirovsky whose novels and memoirs capture and probe the absences of deported Paris Jews These writers move their readers through wartime and postwar cityscapes of Paris walking them through streets and arrondissements where Jews once resided looking for traces of the disappeared The city functions as more than a backdrop or setting Its streets and buildings and monuments remind us of the exhilarating promise of the French Revolution and what it meant for Jews dreaming of equality But the dynamic space of Paris also reminds us of the Holocaust and its aftermath The shadowed paths traced by these writers raise complicated questions about ambivalence absence memory secularity and citizenship In their writing the urban landscape itself bears witness to the absent Jews and what happened to them For the writers treated in this volume neither their Frenchness nor their Jewishness is a fixed point Focusing on Paris's dual role as both a cultural hub and a powerful symbol of hope and conflict in Jewish memory the contributors address intersections and departures among these writers Their complexity of thought artistry and depth of vision shape a new understanding of the impact of the Holocaust on Jewish and French identity on literature and literary forms and on the development of Jewish secular culture in Western Europe
