Molvania Santo Cilauro, Tom Gleisner, Rob Sitch, 2003 This humorous guide contains everything you need to plan your trip to Molvania The authors take an entertaining look at local etiquette food and places to stay A Song for Europe Robert Deam Tobin, 2017-07-05 The world's largest and longest running song competition the Eurovision Song Contest is a significant and extremely popular media event throughout the continent and abroad The Contest is broadcast live in over 30 countries with over 100 million viewers annually Established in 1956 as a televised spectacle to unify postwar Western Europe through music the Contest features singers who represent a participating nation with a new popular song Viewers vote by phone for their favourite performance though they cannot vote for their own country's entry This process alone reveals much about national identities and identifications as voting patterns expose deep seated alliances and animosities among participating countries Here an international group of scholars from a variety of disciplines including musicology communications history sociology English and German studies explore how the contest sheds light on issues of European politics national and European identity race gender and sexuality and the aesthetics of camp For some countries participation in Eurovision has been simultaneously an assertion of modernity and a claim to membership in Europe and the West Eurovision is sometimes regarded as a low brow camp spectacle of little aesthetic or intellectual value The essays in this collection often contradict this assumption demonstrating that the contest has actually been a significant force and forecaster for social cultural and political transformations in postwar Europe Building Imaginary Worlds Mark J.P. Wolf, 2014-03-14 Mark J P Wolf's study of imaginary worlds theorizes world building within and across media including literature comics film radio television board games video games the Internet and more Building Imaginary Worlds departs from prior approaches to imaginary worlds that focused mainly on narrative medium or genre and instead considers imaginary worlds as dynamic entities in and of themselves Wolf argues that imaginary worlds which are often transnarrative transmedial and transauthorial in nature are compelling objects of inquiry for Media Studies Chapters touch on a theoretical analysis of how world building extends beyond storytelling the engagement of the audience and the way worlds are conceptualized and experienced a history of imaginary worlds that follows their development over three millennia from the fictional islands of Homer's Odyssey to the present internarrative theory examining how narratives set in the same world can interact and relate to one another an examination of transmedial growth and adaptation and what happens when worlds make the jump between media an analysis of the transauthorial nature of imaginary worlds the resulting concentric circles of authorship and related topics of canonicity participatory worlds and subcreation's relationship with divine Creation Building Imaginary Worlds also provides the scholar of imaginary worlds with a glossary of terms and a detailed timeline that spans three millennia and more than 1 400 imaginary worlds listing their names creators and the works in which they first appeared

The Hidden Europe Francis Tapon, 2012 For many Westerners Eastern Europe is about as appealing as a deodorant-free French armpit That didn't scare Francis Tapon because not only did he learn how to rough it by walking across America four times but he is also half French so he kind of smells too Francis spent nearly 3 years travelling and backpacking in 25 Eastern European countries It started with a 5 month trip in 2004 He returned in 2008 to spend 3 years exploring all the countries again The Hidden Europe is Book Two of the WanderLearn Series

Encounters with Popular Pasts Mike Robinson, Helaine Silverman, 2015-03-19 This volume is based on the recognition that heritage is popular and popular culture is now readily transformed into heritage whose meanings and myths reshape social life and political and economic realities as well as re-make tradition The papers in this volume consider What does popular heritage look like To whom does it speak Is it active in dissolving class and cultural boundaries or just in reproducing new ones How do societies manage a heritage that is fluid immediate and that straddles extremes of serious conflict and hedonistic frivolity When under what circumstances is the creation and expression of new cultural forms popular culture capable of being transformed into heritage

EU, Europe Unfinished Zlatan Krajina, Nebojša Blanuša, 2016-09-23 What is the meaning of the Balkans in the early 21st century Former Yugoslav countries seek a self-flattering alliance with the West via EU membership while the Union's citizens increasingly declare to be Eurosceptic At the same time economic turmoil in countries like Greece confronts massive incoming waves of refugees for whom Europe's south-eastern borders are the nearest shelter In this time of crisis the Balkans return on the agenda as a parable of Europe's haunting questions about its future EU Europe Unfinished brings together established and emerging media and cultural scholars to explore colliding visions of space and identity within a declining continent Whereas Europe imagines the Balkans to be the source of its nearest trouble the region envisions Europe as a refuge from ongoing post-socialist transition The book adopts a variety of critical perspectives from media and policy analysis to anthropology art history and autobiography to investigate where Europe is headed with the Balkans in its skein 25 years after the fall of the Iron Curtain

Facing the East in the West Barbara Korte, Eva Ulrike Pirker, Sissy Helff, 2010 Over the last decade migration flows from Central and Eastern Europe have become an issue in political debates about human rights social integration multiculturalism and citizenship in Great Britain The increasing number of Eastern Europeans living in Britain has provoked ambivalent and diverse responses including representations in film and literature that range from travel writing humorous fiction mockumentaries musicals drama and children s literature to the thriller The present volume discusses a wide range of representations of Eastern and Central Europe and its people as reflected in British literature film and culture The book offers new readings of authors who have influenced the cultural imagination since the nineteenth century such as Bram Stoker George Bernard Shaw Joseph Conrad and Arthur Koestler It also discusses the work of more contemporary writers and film directors including Sacha Baron Cohen David Cronenberg Vesna Goldsworthy Kapka Kassabova Marina Lewycka Ken Loach Mike Phillips Joanne K Rowling and Rose Tremain With its focus on post Wall Europe Facing the East in the West goes beyond discussions of migration to Britain from an established postcolonial perspective and contributes to the current exploration of new European identities

Popular Geopolitics and Nation Branding in the Post-Soviet Realm Robert A. Saunders, 2016-07-07 This seminal book explores the complex relationship between popular geopolitics and nation branding among the Newly Independent States of Eurasia and their combined role in shaping contemporary national image and statecraft within and beyond the region It provides critical perspectives on international relations nationalism and national identity through the use of innovative approaches focusing on popular culture new media public diplomacy and alternative narrators of the nation By positing popular geopolitics and nation branding as contentious forces and complementary flows the study explores the tensions and elisions between national self image and external perceptions of the nation and how this complex interplay has become integral to contemporary global affairs

Ethnosymbolism and the Dynamics of Identity Liu Mingxin, Elya Tzaneva, 2015-10-13 This book is an exploration of the potential of the ethnosymbolic approach to nation and identity to act as an instrumental tool for research into the mechanisms of identity building Using insights and data from Bulgarian history and culture it views the construction of Bulgarian national identity as a modern process intimately affected by circumstances which prevailed in nineteenth century Bulgarian society and also as a process which for its structural and psychological prerequisites drew upon and reworked various specific features and peculiarities of an available but always malleable and never fixed Bulgarian ethnic and cultural tradition The development of Bulgarian national identity drew in combination or mutual interaction upon two main sources namely a process of articulating systematising and rationalising ideas of group commonality and ethnic distinctiveness and the mobilising and politicising effect of modern economic and political forces upon that intersubjective process The overall means of national identity construction in all its complexity was achieved as a symbiosis between the historical continuity of a collective ethnic inheritance and the modern dynamics of its political activation and mobilisation The book combines diachronically the ideas and logic of social evolution with a synchronic approach that draws upon the so called instrumentalist view of ethnic phenomena It explores the cultural landscape of available ethnic notions and terms that were utilised as expressions of Bulgarian ethnic identity but which also in that process reshaped all this in response to the changing conditions of Bulgarian society in the nineteenth century As such the book offers an in depth investigation of how ideas of national identity were formed and changed within a modernist framework Furthermore it shows how ethnosymbolism used as a tool and instrumentarium for national identity construction can reveal the main patterns that contribute to what is defined as a discursive construction of identity dynamics
