The architecture is Romanesque, with thick walls and heavy columns. The lighting is warm and comes from the left, casting long shadows and highlighting the textures of the stone. The floor is made of large, flat stones.

Heretofore largely unnoticed or ignored, the pre-eminence of the right and lapses or intentional departures from that norm in medieval imagery are relevant to such major themes as iconography, visuality, reception, narrative, form, gender, production and patronage. The author's investigation of right and left in visual culture is informed by modern experimental research on laterality and contextualized within prevailing theological doctrines and socio-cultural practices. Illustrations in the text are complemented by hundreds more made available on Brill's Arkyves platform here. See inside the book Life Inside the Cloister Thomas Coomans,2018-05-17 Sacred architecture as reality and metaphor in secularised Western society. Christian monasteries and convents built throughout Europe for the best part of 1 500 years are now at a crossroads. This study attempts to understand the sacred architecture of monasteries as a process of the tangible and symbolic organisation of space and time for religious communities. Despite the weight of seemingly immutable monastic tradition, architecture has contributed to developing specific religious identities and played a fundamental part in the reformation of different forms of religious life according to the changing needs of society. The cloister is the focal point of this book because it is both architecture, a physically built reality, and a metaphor for the religious life that takes place within it. Life Inside the Cloister also addresses the afterlife and heritagisation of monastic architecture in secularised Western society Historical Dictionary of Architecture Allison Lee Palmer,2016-05-26 This dictionary provides a historical overview of the major architectural developments and styles, building materials and types, major structures and locations, sites and architects. Historical eras like ancient Egyptian architecture and the Renaissance in Europe and movements such as Art Deco are covered. Materials discussed range from concrete, stone, glass and wood, while types of structures include architectural inventions such as the arch and dome, to building types from monasteries and mosques to museums and skyscrapers. Major structures highlighted in this volume include not only great achievements such as Hagia Sophia and the Eiffel Tower, but also important sites such as the Great Zimbabwe and Angkor Wat, found on the UNESCO World Heritage Site list. General geographical areas are also covered, such as African and Russian architecture. Noted architects include theorists from the ancient Chinese engineer Yu Hao, Roman engineer Vitruvius, to many current architects such as Zaha Hadid and Santiago Calatrava, with a focus on architects who have enjoyed lasting fame through history or have won international prizes such as the Pritzker Architecture Prize. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Architecture contains a chronology, an introduction and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 400 cross-referenced entries on architects, famous structures, types of materials and the different architectural styles. Library Journal ,2009 Il valore religioso dei boschi Roberto Mercurio,2018-10-24 Nel mondo occidentale i criteri di conservazione dei boschi nelle aree protette sono stati quelli ecologico naturalistici cio materialistici trascurando la dimensione religiosa cio immateriale e trascendentale Nella prima parte si analizza il ruolo che hanno avuto storicamente i movimenti religiosi cristiani nella conservazione delle risorse forestali e si mette in evidenza come la maggior parte dei boschi che ricadono all'interno delle aree protette sono o sono appartenuti a comunità religiose. Si illustrano poi i criteri e i metodi per la gestione dei boschi di interesse religioso per conservare questo patrimonio culturale e naturale. Nella seconda parte si espone il progetto culturale che vede la selezione, la descrizione e la catalogazione dei boschi di interesse religioso più significativi dell'Italia centrale. In the Western world the conservation criteria of the forests in protected areas were ecological, naturalistic, and materialistic, disregarding the religious dimension that is immaterial and transcendental. The first part examines the role that Christian religious movements had in the conservation of forest resources and highlights like most forests lying within protected areas are or belonged to religious communities. The criteria and methods for the forest management of religious interest to conserve this cultural and natural heritage are then illustrated. The second part discusses the cultural project that exposes the selection, the description, and cataloguing of the most significant forests of religious interest in Central Italy. The Oxford Handbook of Christian Monasticism Bernice M. Kaczynski, Thomas Sullivan, 2020. The Oxford Handbook of Christian Monasticism addresses for the first time in one volume multiple strands of Christian monastic practice. Forty-four essays consider historical and thematic aspects of the Catholic, Eastern Orthodox, Oriental Orthodox, Protestant, and Anglican traditions as well as contemporary new monasticism. Chicago Tribune Index, 1998.
