Claude Monet Virginia Spate, 1992 Monet is incontestably one of the greatest Impressionists as well as being the most popular Yet hitherto books on this great figure have been partial concentrating either on aesthetic or on social aspects of his work without attempting a synthesis Now Virginia Spate restores plenitude of meaning to Monet's paintings examining the various ways in which they can be read the tension between image and reality which energizes them and the mysterious interactions between the work itself its exhibition promotion and sale and its reception both in public and in private Based on a complete study of the artist's work made possible as never before by recently published catalogues of his oeuvre his surviving letters nearly 3 000 in all and contemporary documentary material this is the fullest account available of a complex and influential man whose style changed and evolved considerably during his long career Monet is considered as an intelligent and cultured being a friend to writers such as Zola Mallarmé and Octave Mirbeau fully informed as to the cultural and intellectual tendencies of his time His often neglected figure paintings always of family or friends are analyzed alongside his landscapes which ranged from timeless river scenes to steam filled railway stations Changes in his output in response to shifts in demand are linked to the new system of art dealers and to his financial situation The France of Monet's youth and maturity is covered in depth especially the traumatic legacy of the Franco Prussian war and the Paris Commune and his famous garden at Giverny is shown to be both a personal Utopia and a vital part of his creative processes The dialectic of the real world and its representation in art is explored in detail as manifested in his splendid canvases faithfully reproduced in over 130 colour plates This definitive treatment of a hugely important artist makes an indispensable contribution to the art history of Impressionism and the roots of modernism

Binder,Sylvia Kind,2017-05-10 Drawing as Language Celebrating the Work of Bob Steele is a Festschrift in honour of Bob Steele Professor Emeritus artist educator and tireless advocate for bringing authentic aesthetic lived experiences to young children Bob

Steele's prolific contribution to the field of visual arts education recognizes the importance of drawing for everyone but especially with young children. As an artist teacher researcher, Bob has devoted decades to developing understandings of drawing as language. He is a progressive thinker with commitment and passion and through a lifetime of work has provoked serious engagement with children's drawing processes: how children learn through drawing through authentic experiences with their sensory world and through their intense engagement with stories. In this unique collection, we have invited educators and scholars whose work represents the ongoing influence of the ideas and teachings of Bob Steele, what he has brought to the field of art education: early childhood studies and curriculum studies in general. It traces the history and development of his ideas. The reader is taken through his journey as a young educator in rural Saskatchewan, Canada, to significant moments in his teaching and his work. The voices of the contributors offer an insightful alternative into how drawing need not be limited to a particular discipline but can be language of communication, a language that significantly matters in the daily lives and learning, not just only for children but for those who also work with them. We hope this Festschrift inspires you to think about the drawings of children differently and take your understanding to a new level.

Art and Culture Clement Greenberg, 1971-06-01 Clement Greenberg is internationally the best known American art critic, popularly considered to be the man who put American vanguard painting and sculpture on the world map. An important book for everyone interested in modern painting and sculpture. The New York Times Monkeyshines on Art and Great Artists, 1996-08 Presents brief articles which provide information on various art forms, periods, and artists. Includes information on Classical, Medieval, Gothic, Renaissance, Baroque, Rococo, Romanticism, Realism, Impressionism, Post-Impressionism, Expressionism, and Twentieth Century Art, art of different cultures, other art forms, and projects. Nelson's Encyclopaedia, 1907 Interpreting Visual Art Catherine Weir, Evans Mandes, 2017-09-08 Interpreting Visual Art explores the psychological and cognitive mechanisms that underlie one's interpretation of art. After the brain encodes visual information, this encoding is then processed by perceptual mechanisms to identify objects and depth in pictures. The brain incorporates many factors in order for people to see the art. Cognitive processes have a major role in how people interpret artworks because attention, memory, and language are also linked to the aesthetic experience. Catherine Weir and Evans Mandes first examine major attributes of aesthetic judgement: balance, symmetry, color, line, and shape from an empirical point of view, as opposed to more philosophical and speculative approaches. Then they explore the perceptual process, paying special attention to art history in the Western world and emphasizing techniques from cave paintings to modern art. The role beauty and emotions play in our interpretations of pictures have been investigated from many approaches: evolutionary psychology, neuroscience, and appraisal theory. Through the application of empirical research in cognitive science to master works from Botticelli to Pollock, readers are introduced to a research-oriented understanding of how art has been perceived, interpreted, and appreciated in the twenty-first century. This book will appeal to those interested in art as well as those
