Media And Participation A Site Of Ideological Democratic Struggle:

Disability, the Media and the Paralympic Games Carolyn Jackson-Brown, 2020-06-04 This book focuses on the ground breaking coverage of the London 2012 Paralympic Games by the UK's publicly owned but commercially funded Channel 4 network coverage which seemed to deliver a transformational shift in attitudes towards people with disabilities It sheds important new light on our understanding of media production and its complex interactions with sport and wider society Drawing on political economy and cultural studies the book explores why and how a marginalised group was brought into the mainstream by the media and the key influencing factors and decision making processes Featuring interviews with key people involved in the television and digital production structures as well as organisational archives it helps us to understand the interplay between creativity and commerce between editorial and marketing workflows and about the making of meaning The book also looks at coverage of the Rio Paralympics and ahead to the Tokyo Games and at changing global perceptions of disability through sport This is fascinating reading for any advanced students researchers or sport management or media professionals looking to better understand the media production process or the significance of sport and disability in wider society

Journalism and Political Exclusion Debra M. Clarke, 2014-08-30 The constraints of news production and the consequent limitations of news result directly in dissatisfaction throughout news audiences News stories are frequently found to be inadequately informative to the extent that journalism is more inclined to generate political disenchantment rather than prompt its audiences to pursue a fully engaged level of political participation in their societies Journalism and Political Exclusion provides a multi method integrated analysis of news production and news audiences including a long term study of community activists in a central Canadian city During the seven year fieldwork period different groups of research participants completed questionnaires wrote news diaries and were interviewed in their homes while viewing network television newscasts Clarke shows that frustrations with the informational limitations of television and other news media are accelerated among women and the working class often lack opportunities to access alternative information sources The critical contribution of journalism to the production and reproduction of ideas about social reality is frequently acknowledged and assumed yet rarely investigated and demonstrated Through an examination of the everyday realities of both news production and news reception Journalism and Political Exclusion also shows how the current crises of professional journalism heighten the level of political exclusion experienced by various social groups Cosmopolitanism and the New News Media Lilie Chouliaraki, Bolette Blaagaard, 2015-09-07 The Arab Spring the Occupy Wall Street movement and the Haiti earthquake are only some of the recent examples of the power of new media to transform journalism Some celebrate this power as a new cosmopolitanism that challenges the traditional boundaries of foreign reporting yet others fear that the new media simply reproduce old power relations in new ways It is this important controversy around the role of new media in shaping a cosmopolitan journalism that offers the starting point of this book By bringing together an impressive range of leading theorists in the field of journalism and media studies this collection insightfully explores how Twitter Facebook Flickr and YouTube are taking the voice of ordinary citizens into the forefront of mainstream journalism and how in so doing they give shape to new public conceptions of authenticity and solidarity This collection is directed towards a readership of students and scholars in media and communications digital and information studies journalism sociology as well as other social sciences that engage with the role of new media in shaping contemporary social life This book was originally published as a special issue of Journalism Studies Social Media Christian Fuchs, 2013-12-06 Now more than ever we need to understand social media the good as well as the bad We need critical knowledge that helps us to navigate the controversies and contradictions of this complex digital media landscape Only then can we make informed judgements about what is happening in our media world and why Showing the reader how to ask the right kinds of questions about social media Christian Fuchs takes us on a journey across social media delving deep into case studies on Google Facebook Twitter WikiLeaks and Wikipedia The result lays bare the structures and power relations at the heart of our media landscape This book is the essential critical guide for all students of media studies and sociology Readers will never look at social media the same way again The 'New' Documentary Nexus Anna Wiehl, 2019-05-23 In the last ten years the field of documentary has been subject to substantial paradigm shifts due to the rise of digital media practices This publication explores some central questions arising in this context Who are the different interactors networking within the new documentary nexus How can we conceptualize interactive documentary practices as encounters and dynamic interactions within digital media culture and beyond How can one methodologically approach this complex networked yet dynamic nexus in its constant flux Developing a coherent and expandable operational set of methods to describe and analyse paradigmatic cases this book addresses documentary theorists new media scholars and students of media and communication studies who want to gain a survey of current developments in the field of interactive documentary practices Emerging Dynamics in Audiences' Consumption of Trans-media Products Carmen Spano, 2020-11-27 The book investigates the new forms of empowered agency possessed by national audiences with reference to two particular television texts Game of Thrones and Mad Men The two popular American TV shows are highly successful products of the convergence era characterized by trans media storytelling as a strategy and the interconnection of audiences multiple practices of reception and fruition The book argues how the analysis of audience engagement with trans media texts will disclose important information about the various ways people organize their lives around media and how these activities help them to make sense of the world they live in Feminist Media Elke Zobl, Ricarda Drüeke, 2014-04-15 While feminists have long recognised the importance of self managed alternative media to transport their messages to challenge the status quo and to spin novel social processes this topic has been an under researched area Hence this book explores the processes of women s and feminist media production in the context of participatory spaces technology and cultural citizenship The collection is composed of theoretical analyses and critical case studies It highlights contemporary alternative feminist media in general as well as blogs zines culture jamming and street art

Politics, Protest, and Empowerment in Digital Spaces Ibrahim, Yasmin, 2016-12-21 With the ubiquitous nature of modern technologies they have been inevitably integrated into various facets of society The connectivity presented by digital platforms has transformed such innovations into tools for political and social agendas Politics Protest and Empowerment in Digital Spaces is a comprehensive reference source for emerging scholarly perspectives on the use of new media technology to engage people in socially and politically oriented conversations and examines communication trends in these virtual environments Highlighting relevant coverage across topics such as online free expression political campaigning and online blogging this book is ideally designed for government officials researchers academics graduate students and practitioners interested in how new media is revolutionizing political and social communications A History of the International Movement of Journalists Kaarle Nordenstreng, Ulf Jonas Björk, Frank Beyersdorf, Sverre Høy, Epp Lauk, 2016-01-26 This study presents a general history of how journalism as an emerging profession became internationally organized over the past one hundred and twenty years seen mainly through the associations founded to promote the interests of journalists around the world The Routledge Companion to Global Television Shawn Shimpach, 2019-10-29 Featuring scholarly perspectives from around the globe and drawing on a legacy of television studies but with an eye toward the future this authoritative collection examines both the thoroughly global nature of television and the multiple and varied experiences that constitute television in the twenty first century Companion chapters include original essays by some of the leading scholars of television studies as well as emerging voices engaging television on six continents offering readers a truly global range of perspectives The volume features multidisciplinary analyses that offer models and guides for the study of global television with approaches focused on the theories audiences content culture and institutions of television A wide array of examples and case studies engage the transforming practices technologies systems and texts constituting television around the world today providing readers with a contemporary and multi faceted perspective In this volume editor Shawn Shimpach has brought together an essential guide to understanding television in the world today how it works and what it means perfect for students scholars and anyone else interested in television global media studies and beyond The Revolution in Transmedia Storytelling through Place Donna Hancox, 2021-02-17 This book proposes that the theory and practice of transmedia storytelling must be re considered from a social impact and community development perspective and that time has come for a rigorous critique of the limited ways in which it has been commonly represented Transmedia storytelling has become one of the most influential and profitable innovations in the field of media and entertainment It has changed the ways audiences interact with films television and web series advertising gaming and book publishing It has also shifted the practices around creation and dissemination of such content This book asserts that the futures of transmedia storytelling for social impact or change are deeply tied to understandings of place grounded in human geography Through a series of case studies of projects which challenge the status quo of transmedia this book explores the elements of transmedia that can be used to amplify under represented voices and make stories that signal a more inclusive and sustainable future This book offers a valuable contribution to the literature in the areas of transmedia storytelling narratology digital fiction electronic literature locative storytelling performative writing digital culture studies and human geography Communication and Peace Julia Hoffmann, Virgil Hawkins, 2015-02-11 This book analyses the use of communication in resolving conflicts with a focus on de escalation and processes of peacebuilding and peace formation From the employment of hate radio in the Rwanda genocide to the current conflict between Russia and the Ukraine following events in the Crimea communication and the media are widely recognized as powerful tools in conflicts and war Although there has been significant academic attention on the relationship between the media conflict and war academic efforts to understand this relationship have tended to focus primarily on the links between communication and conflict rather than on communication and peace In order to make sense of peace it is essential to look at communication in its many facets mediated or not This is true within many of the diverse strands that make up the field of communication and peace but it is also true in the sense that a holistic and interdisciplinary approach is missing from the literature This book addresses this widely acknowledged lacuna by providing an interdisciplinary perspective on the field bringing together relevant but so far largely isolated streams of research In doing so it aims to provide a platform for further reflection of the meaning of and requirements for peace in our contemporary world with a focus on de escalation conflict transformation reconciliation and processes of peacebuilding as opposed to conflict escalation or crisis intervention This volume will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies peacebuilding media and communication studies security studies and IR in general Community Radio's Amplification of Communication for Social Change Juliet Fox, 2019-06-27 This book explores how community radio contributes to social change Community radio remains a unique communication platform under digital capitalism arguably capable of expanding the project of media democratisation Yet there is a lack of in depth analysis of community radio experience and a dearth of understanding of its functionality as an actively transformative tool for greater equity in society This project combines the theoretical positions of the political economy of communication with a citizen s media perspective in order to interrogate community radio s democratic potential By presenting case studies of two radio stations in Melbourne and Los Angeles and applying multiple research methods the book reveals community radio s amplification of media participation communication rights counter hegemony and media power in effect its distinct regenerative voice

The Routledge Handbook of Museums, Media and Communication Kirsten Drotner,Vince Dziekan,Ross Parry,Kim Christian Schröder,2018-12-07

Museums today find themselves within a mediatised society where everyday life is conducted in a data full and technology rich context In fact museums are themselves mediatised they present a uniquely media centred environment in which communicative media is a constitutive property of their organisation and of the visitor experience The Routledge Handbook of Museums Media and Communication explores what it means to take mediated communication as a key concept for museum studies and as a sensitising lens for media related museum practice on the ground Including contributions from experts around the world this original and innovative Handbook shares a nuanced and precise understanding of media media concepts and media terminology rehearsing new locations for writing on museum media and giving voice to new subject alignments As a whole the volume breaks new ground by reframing mediated museum communication as a resource for an inclusive understanding of current museum developments The Routledge Handbook of Museums Media and Communication will appeal to both students and scholars as well as to practitioners involved in the visioning design and delivery of mediated communication in the museum It teaches us not just how to study museums but how to go about being a museum in today s world The book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access at www.taylorfrancis.com It has been made available under a a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license

The Power of Global Community Media Linda K. Fuller,2016-04-30 Drawing on both theoretical and practical case studies this collection moves from developing attempts at local media to case studies and on to cyber examples The contributors all distinguished international communications scholars present a range of perspectives on the ever burgeoning area of grassroots local media

Media and Politics in a Globalizing World Alexa Robertson,2015-03-17 Globalization and technological advances have had a dramatic impact on the relationship between media and politics How can we understand the connection between the two in the present day Alexa Robertson argues that we cannot understand the power of the one without taking the other into account This exciting and accessible book provides fresh insight into our contemporary media landscape adopting a truly comparative global approach In Media and Politics in a Globalizing World Robertson encourages the reader to explore the relationship from different perspectives those of the politician the journalist the activist and the ordinary citizen and how the relationship between media and politics varies across cultures Illustrated with contemporary examples throughout the book weighs up arguments for seeing new developments in terms of change or continuity as empowering or debilitating and as promoting or undermining democracy Suitable for undergraduates and postgraduates studying politics media and sociology it also will be of interest to the general reader wishing to understand the complex role of the media in political life the world over For additional support and information visit this book s companion website at <http://mediapolitics.net>

Managing Democracy in the Digital Age Julia Schwanholz,Todd Graham,Peter-Tobias Stoll,2017-09-13 In light of the increased utilization of information technologies such as social media and the Internet of Things this book investigates how this digital transformation process creates new challenges and opportunities for political participation political election campaigns and political regulation of the Internet Within the context of Western democracies and China the contributors analyze these challenges and opportunities from three perspectives the regulatory state the political use of social media and through the lens of the public sphere The first part of the book discusses key challenges for Internet regulation such as data protection and censorship while the second addresses the use of social media in political communication and political elections In turn the third and last part highlights various opportunities offered by digital media for online civic engagement and protest in the public sphere Drawing on different academic fields including political science communication science and journalism studies the contributors raise a number of innovative research questions and provide fascinating theoretical and empirical insights into the topic of digital transformation

LGBTQs, Media and Culture in Europe Alexander Dhoest,Lukasz Szulc,Bart Eeckhout,2016-11-10 Media matter particularly to social minorities like lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer people Rather than one homogenised idea of the global gay what we find today is a range of historically and culturally specific expressions of gender and sexuality which are reflected and explored across an ever increasing range of media outlets This collection zooms in on a number of facets of this kaleidoscope each chapter discussing the intersection of a particular European context and a particular medium with its affordances and limitations While traditional mass media form the starting point of this book the primary focus is on digital media such as blogs social media and online dating sites All contributions are based on recent original empirical research using a plethora of qualitative methods to offer a holistic view on the ways media matter to particular LGBTQ individuals and communities Together the chapters cover the diversity of European countries and regions of LGBTQ communities and of the contemporary media ecology Resisting the urge to extrapolate they argue for specificity contextualisation and a provincialized understanding of the connections between media culture gender and sexuality

The Participatory Condition in the Digital Age Darin Barney,Gabriella Coleman,Christine Ross,Jonathan Sterne,Tamar Tembeck,2016-11-01 Just what is the participatory condition It is the situation in which taking part in something with others has become both environmental and normative The fact that we have always participated does not mean we have always lived under the participatory condition What is distinctive about the present is the extent to which the everyday social economic cultural and political activities that comprise simply being in the world have been thematized and organized around the priority of participation Structured along four axes investigating the relations between participation and politics surveillance openness and aesthetics The Participatory Condition in the Digital Age comprises fifteen essays that explore the promises possibilities and failures of contemporary participatory media practices as related to power Occupy Wall Street the Arab Spring uprisings worker owned cooperatives for the post Internet age paradoxes of participation media activism open source projects participatory civic life commercial surveillance contemporary art and design and education This book represents the most comprehensive and transdisciplinary endeavor to date to examine the nature place and value of participation in the digital age Just as in 1979 when Jean Fran ois Lyotard proposed that the postmodern condition was characterized by the questioning of historical grand narratives The Participatory Condition in the Digital Age investigates how participation has become a central preoccupation of our time Contributors Mark Andrejevic Pomona College Bart Cammaerts London School of Economics and Political Science LSE Nico Carpentier Vrije Universiteit Brussel VUB Free University of Brussels and Charles University in Prague Julie E Cohen Georgetown University Kate Crawford MIT Alessandro Delfanti University of Toronto Christina Dunbar Hester University of Southern California Rudolf Frieling California College of Arts and the San Francisco Art Institute Salvatore Iaconesi La Sapienza University of Rome and ISIA Design Florence Jason Edward Lewis Concordia University Rafael Lozano Hemmer Graham Pullin University of Dundee Trebor Scholz The New School in New York City Cayley Sorochan McGill University Bernard Stiegler Institute for Research and Innovation in Paris Krzysztof Wodiczko Harvard Graduate School of Design Jillian C York
