Media Ethics And Accountability Systems:

Media Ethics & Accountability Systems Claude Jean Bertrand, 2000-01 Over the last few years the O J Simpson case then the Lewinsky Clinton affair and scores of minor scandals have dominated the US press often taking precedence over important domestic and international issues This tabloidization of the news media both here and abroad has proved that the market cannot insure media quality In a democracy for media to function well they must be free of both political and economic muzzling The only solution is to add self regulation or quality control by professionals and public to the other two forces the market and state regulation In this controversial volume Claude Jean Bertrand sets out to define a set of accountability systems democratic efficient and harmless to insure true freedom and quality of media This brief highly literate volume focuses not on philosophical foundations of media ethics or case stories but on what is now missing in the codes Many books deal with media ethics but few deal with accountability Media Ethics and Accountability Systems zeroes in on the many nongovernmental methods of enforcing quality control and on the difficulty of getting the media microcosm to accept such accountability To remedy this lack Bertrand proposes rethinking existing media accountability systems some 30 to 40 in number and creation of new ones He observes that existing systems are rooted in four basic approaches training the education of citizens in media use and the incorporation of ethics courses in journalistic education evaluation criticism positive and negative not only from politicians consumerists and intellectuals but from media professionals themselves monitoring by independent academic experts over extended periods of time into the long term effects and feedback giving ear to the various segments of media users and their needs and tastes rather than scrutinizing sales and ratings Media Ethics will be of particular interest to academics in the fields of communication and journalism as well as to the general reader with an interest in public issues and a civic concern for society Claude Jean Bertrand is professor emeritus Institut franais de presse Universit de Paris 2 He has taught British and US civilization in several French universities gradually specializing in the study of U S media He has edited or written seventeen books on various topics and lectured extensively Media Ethics and Accountability Systems Claude Jean Bertrand, Over the last few years the O J Simpson case then the Lewinsky Clinton affair and scores of minor scandals have dominated the US press often taking precedence over important domestic and international issues This tabloidization of the news media both here and abroad has proved that the market cannot insure media quality In a democracy for media to function well they must be free of both political and economic muzzling The only solution is to add self regulation or quality control by professionals and public to the other two forces the market and state regulation In this controversial volume Claude Jean Bertrand sets out to define a set of accountability systems democratic efficient and harmless to insure true freedom and quality of media This brief highly literate volume focuses not on philosophical foundations of media ethics or case stories but on what is now missing in the codes Many books deal with media ethics but few deal with accountability Media Ethics and Accountability Systems zeroes in on the many nongovernmental methods of enforcing quality control and on the difficulty of getting the media microcosm to accept such accountability To remedy this lack Bertrand proposes rethinking existing media accountability systems some 30 to 40 in number and creation of new ones He observes that existing systems are rooted in four basic approaches training the education of citizens in media use and the incorporation of ethics courses in journalistic education evaluation criticism positive and negative not only from politicians consumerists and intellectuals but from media professionals themselves monitoring by independent academic experts over extended periods of time into the long term effects and feedback giving ear to the various segments of media users and their needs and tastes rather than scrutinizing sales and ratings Media Ethics will be of particular interest to academics in the fields of communication and journalism as well as to the general reader with an interest in public issues and a civic concern for society Claude Jean Bertrand is professor emeritus Institut français de presse Université de Paris 2 He has taught British and US civilization in several French universities gradually specializing in the study of U S media He has edited or written seventeen books on various topics and lectured extensively An Arsenal for Democracy Claude Jean Bertrand,2003 Everyone agrees that news media cannot be ruled solely by the profit motive and that government regulation on media is extremely dangerous How then can we obtain good service from news media As far as ethics is concerned can we depend on the moral conscience of professionals to insure good service The answer is MAS nongovernmental media accountability systems The book concentrates on MAS as one of the three pillars of goods new media together with free enterprise and state regulation It presents general information about the major media accountability systems and their useful press council ombudsman journalism review etc and a chapter on each of them is written by an expert who has been involved with that particular system The Global Handbook of Media Accountability Susanne Fengler,Tobias Eberwein,Matthias Karmasin,2021-12-30 The Global Handbook of Media Accountability brings together leading scholars to de Westernize the academic debate on media accountability and discuss different models of media self regulation and newsroom transparency around the globe With examination of the status quo of media accountability in 43 countries worldwide it offers a theoretically informed comparative analysis of accountability regimes of different varieties As such it constitutes the first interdisciplinary academic framework comparing structures of media accountability across all continents and creates an invaluable basis for further research and policymaking It will therefore appeal to scholars and students of media studies and journalism mass communication sociology and political science as well as policymakers and practitioners The Routledge Handbook of Mass Media Ethics Lee Wilkins,Clifford G.
