Into the World: The Movement of Patočka's Phenomenology Martin Ritter, 2019-10-15 Critically evaluating and synthesizing all the previous research on the phenomenology of Czech philosopher Jan Patočka the book brings a new voice into contemporary philosophical discussions It elucidates the development of Patočka's phenomenology and offers a critical appropriation of his work by connecting it with non phenomenological approaches The first half of the book offers a succinct and systematizing overview of Patočka's phenomenology throughout its development to help readers appreciate the motives behind and grounds for its transformations The second half systematically explicates critically examines and creatively develops Patočka's concept of the movement of existence as the most promising part of his asubjective phenomenology The book appeals to new readers of Patočka as well as his scholars and to students and researchers of contemporary philosophy concerned with topics such as embodiment personal identity intersubjectivity sociality or historicity By re assessing Patočka's philosophy of history and his civilizational analysis it also helps to better articulate the question of the place of Europe in the post European world

Enacting the Worlds of Cinema Steffen Hven, 2022 Enacting the Worlds of Cinema offers a substantial reconfiguration of the textual roots of modern film narratology By giving sustained attention to cinema's material affective modes of communicating its stories and embedding its audience in atmospheric kinetic and multisensorial worlds this book maintains that film narratives are less representations than they are enactments brought forth through the interactions of the felt body and the film material The book defends this enactive and media anthropological thesis by reworking a series of established film narratological key concepts including the diegesis mood atmosphere and the distinction between diegetic and non diegetic sound In the process this book draws on a wide range of contemporary theoretical resources such as affective neuroscience media philosophy philosophy of mind atmosphere research multisensory perception theory as well as a broad selection of films including Berlin Symphony of a Great City Ruttmann 1927 The Cranes are Flying Kalatozov 1957 and Happy as Lazzaro Rohrwacher 2018

Anthropologies of Entanglements Christiane Voss, Lorenz Engell, Tim Othold, 2023-08-24 Media and human modes of existence are always already intertwined and interdependent The notion of the anthropocene has further stimulated a new examination of ideas about human agency and responsibility Various approaches all emphasize relational concepts and the situatedness and embodiment of human and also non human existences and experiences Their common interest has shifted from any so called human nature to the multitude of cultural topographical technical historical social discursive and media formats with which human existences are entangled This volume brings together a range of thinkers from international backgrounds and puts these important reflections and ideas in the spotlight More specifically the volume explores the concept of anthropomedial entanglements It fosters an understanding of human bodies experiences and media as being immanently entangled and mutually constituting prior to any possible distinction between them The different contributions thus open up a dialogue between empirical case studies and media historical research on the one hand and the conceptual work of media and cultural philosophies and aesthetics on the other hand Bodies of Stone in the Media, Visual Culture and the Arts Alessandra Violi, Barbara Grespi, Andrea Pinotti, Pietro Conte, 2025-10-01 If mediatization has surprisingly revealed the secret life of inert matter and the face of things the flipside of this has been the petrification of living organisms an invasion of stone bodies in a state of suspended animation Within a contemporary imaginary pervaded by new forms of animism the paradigm of death looms large in many areas of artistic experimentation pushing the modern body towards mineral modes of being which revive ancient myths of flesh made stone and the issue of the monument Scholars in media visual culture and the arts propose studies of bodies of stone from actors simulating statues to the transmutation of the filmic body into a fossil from the real treatment of the cadaver as a mineral living object to the rediscovery of materials such as wax from the quest for a thermal equivalence between stone and flesh to the transformation of the biomedical body into a living monument Verkörperung als Paradigma theologischer Anthropologie Gregor Etzelmüller, Annette Weissenrieder, 2016-01-15 Menschliches Bewusstsein findet sich immer schon als verkörpertes vor Diese Einsicht steht im Zentrum des kognitionswissenschaftlichen Paradigmas der embodied cognition Der Geist ist innig an einen Körper gebunden und innig in seine Welt eingebettet John Haugeland Der Geist ist kein in einem vermeintlichen Innenraum verborgenes und von der Welt weitgehend gelöstes neuronales Netzwerk sondern als eine dynamische Weise des leiblichen In der Welt Seins zu verstehen Mit der Philosophie der Verkörperung gewinnt die Theologie einen Gesprächspartner der ihr hilft ihre eigene Körpervergessenheit zu überwinden und Anschluss an die biblischen Anthropologien zu gewinnen Denn diese verstehen die menschliche Existenz grundsätzlich als leiblich verfasst Aktuelle Forschungen an der Schnittstelle von Neurobiologie und Philosophie einerseits und Exegese und Systematik andererseits lassen sich so in einen spannenden Diskurs bringen an dessen Ende eine neue interdisziplinäre Anthropologie stehen könnte Der vorliegende Band eröffnet diesen Diskurs mit Beiträgen aus Philosophie Exegese und Systematischer Theologie In Need of a Master Dominik Finkelde, Rebekka Klein, 2021-05-10 The volume In Need of a Master Politics Theology and Radical Democracy discusses how our so called postmodern age of widespread ideological critique paves the way for reactionary and conservative political movements At center stage is the question of whether these movements can and must be contrary to widespread beliefs among liberal elites interpreted both as a symptom of a political awakening in the horizon of political theology in our era of immanence as well as perhaps the perilous end of democracy as we know it The book brings to the fore political theology as the hidden agenda of politics and presents at the same time Christian and Jewish theological traditions as an antidote to a global empire with its often unacknowledged rule of immanence Mattering the Invisible Diana Espírito Santo, Jack Hunter, 2021-05-14 Exploring how technological apparatuses capture invisible worlds this book looks at how spirits UFOs discarnate entities spectral energies atmospheric forces and particles are mattered into existence by human minds Technological and scientific discourse has always been central to the nineteenth and early twentieth century spiritualist quest for legitimacy but as this book shows machines people and invisible beings are much more ontologically entangled in their definitions and constitution than we would expect The book shows this entanglement through a series of contemporary case studies where the realm of the invisible arises through technological engagement and where the paranormal intertwines with modern technology The Switch Image Lorenz Engell, 2021-04-22 Television is the most powerful system of images in the late 20th and early 21st centuries Nonetheless TV has attained only little philosophical attention so far especially compared to other visual media such as film This book looks at TV as what happens on the screen and beyond it which is mainly the operation of switching images It therefore proposes a new definition of TV as the first picture that can be switched on off and over which stresses that TV is more tactile than visual Through the operation of switching TV figures the world from within and as the course of its figuration This is grasped here by the term of ontography Through the ongoing interlacing and bridging of TV 1 0 the image is being switched and TV 2 0 the image is a switch TV exponentially increases the production and circulation of images It transforms the world and itself from an analogue state to a digital one and from central perspectivism to pluri perspective In terms of time through switching and the switch it develops and reworks new temporal orderings such as instantaneity synchronicity flow and seriality TV makes its own history In space it creates a mediasphere as its habitat and hence new forms of being in the world of proximity and distance and scale Anthropologically it works on what a subject and an object is on what makes the human being and ontographically how it is possible that there is something at all instead of nothing through switch images Iconoclasm As Child's Play Joe Moshenska, 2019-04-16 When sacred objects were rejected during the Reformation they were not always burned and broken but were sometimes given to children as toys Play is typically seen as free and open while iconoclasm even to those who deem it necessary is violent and disenchanting What does it say about wider attitudes toward religious violence and children at play that these two seemingly different activities were sometimes one and the same Drawing on a range of sixteenth century artifacts artworks and texts as well as on ancient and modern theories of iconoclasm and of play Iconoclasm As Child's Play argues that the desire to shape and interpret the playing of children is an important cultural force Formerly holy objects may have been handed over with an intent to debase them but play has a tendency to create new meanings and stories that take on a life of their own Joe Moshenska shows that this form of iconoclasm is not only a fascinating phenomenon in its own right it has the potential to alter our understandings of the threshold between the religious and the secular the forms and functions of play and the nature of historical transformation and continuity Technics Nicholas Baer, Annie Oever, 2025-10-01 Featuring 28 leading international media scholars Technics rethinks technology for the contemporary digital era with cutting edge theoretical historiographical and methodological interventions The volume's contributors explore the ideas of Walter Benjamin Ursula Le Guin Bernhard Siegert Gilbert Simondon and Sylvia Wynter in conjunction with urgent questions concerning algorithmic media digital infrastructures generative AI and geoengineering An

Exploring the Early Digital Thomas Haigh, 2019-04-30 Changes in the present challenge us to reinterpret the past but historians have not yet come to grips with the convergence of computing media and communications technology Today these things are inextricably intertwined in technologies such as the smartphone and internet in convergent industries and in social practices Yet they remain three distinct historical subfields tilled by different groups of scholars using different tools We often call this conglomeration the digital recognizing its deep connection to the technology of digital computing

Unfortunately interdisciplinary studies of digital practices digital methods or digital humanities have rarely been informed by deep engagement with the history of computing Contributors to this volume have come together to reexamine an apparently familiar era in the history of computing through new lenses exploring early digital computing and engineering practice as digital phenomena rather than as engines of mathematics and logic Most focus on the period 1945 to 1960 the era in which the first electronic digital computers were created and the computer industry began to develop Because digitality is first and foremost a way of reading objects and encoding information within them we are foregrounding topics that have until now been viewed as peripheral in the history of computing betting odds calculators card file systems program and data storage programmable calculators and digital circuit design practices Reconceptualizing the history of computing as study of the early digital decenters the stored program computer repositioning it as one of many digital technologies Anthropologie

Earthscapes AA.VV., 2024-01-23T00:00:00+01:00 Le prime immagini della Terra vista dallo spazio ebbero un impatto rivoluzionario Per la prima volta l umanit vedeva il pianeta su cui vive dall esterno l oceano i continenti i ghiacci polari l alone dell atmosfera La Terra si era ridotta a un globo terracqueo privo di geografia politica e di storia e sembrava un delicato gioiello abbandonato nell immensit del vuoto assoluto stato proprio in quel momento che sono sorte nuove potenti

Education as Human Knowledge in the Anthropocene Christoph Wulf, 2022-03-27 This book examines the concepts of the Anthropocene and globalisation in our society and the changes that these are bringing about in education and human learning The book argues that there needs to be a reflexive approach to issues that affect the fate of the planet and the future of humans brought about by an education that looks to the future Wulf argues that a change in education and socialization can only succeed based on an understanding of previous educational ideas and considers the significance of Confucianism and spiritual education that emerged in the East The book traces key educational ideas throughout history to show how education and human knowledge are closely linked highlighting the need for us to pay careful attention to repetition mimesis and the imagination in learning It shows how a future oriented education must engage with issues of peace and violence global citizenship and sustainable development This timely and compelling book will be of great interest to researchers
