Murder in the Courtroom Brigitte Vallabhajosula,2015 Answers to many legal questions often depend on our understanding of the relationship between the human brain and behavior While there is no evidence to suggest that violence is the sole result of cognitive impairment research does suggest that frontal lobe impairment in particular may contribute to the etiology of violent behavior Murder in the Courtroom presents a comprehensive and detailed analysis of issues most relevant to answering questions regarding the link between cognitive functioning and violence It is the first book to focus exclusively on the etiology and assessment of cognitive impairment in the context of violent behavior and the challenges courts face in determining the reliability of neuroscience evidence provide objective discussions of currently available neuropsychological tests and neuroimaging techniques and their strengths and limitations provide a methodology for the assessment of cognitive dysfunction in the context of violent behavior that is likely to withstand a Daubert challenge and include detailed discussions of criminal cases to illustrate important points Clinical and forensic psychologists and psychiatrists cognitive neuroscientists and legal professionals will be able to use this book to further their understanding of the relationship between brain function and extreme violence

Malingering, Feigning, and Response Bias in Psychiatric/ Psychological Injury Gerald Young,2014-02-11 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the definitions concepts and recent research on malingering feigning and other response biases in psychological injury forensic disability populations It presents a new model of malingering and related biases and develops a diagnostic system based on it that is applicable to PTSD chronic pain and TBI Included are suggestions for effective practice and future research based on the literature reviews and the new systems which are useful also because they can be used readily by psychiatrists as much as psychologists In Malingering Feigning and Response Style Assessment in Psychiatric Psychological Injury Dr Young ambitiously sets out to articulate and synthesize the polarities involved in the assessment of response styles in psychological disabilities including PTSD pain and TBI He does so thoroughly and very even handedly neither minimizing the degree that outright faking can be found in substantial numbers of examinees nor disregarding the possibility that there can be causes for validity test failure other than malingering He reviews the prior systems for classifying evidence of malingering and proposes his own criteria for feigned PTSD These are conservative and well grounded in the prior literature Finally the book contains dozens of very recent references giving testament to Dr Young's immersion in the personal injury literature as might be expected from his experience as founder and Editor in Chief for Psychological Injury and the Law Reviewer Steve Rubenzer Ph D ABPP Board Certified Forensic Psychologist
