Crisis in the Nordic Nations and Beyond Kristín Loftsdóttir, Lars Jensen, 2016-04-22 With discourses of crisis and disaster featuring strongly in contemporary discourses on contemporary society this book brings together critical perspectives from across the humanities and social sciences to explore the idea of crisis as inherently related to power dynamics and the formation of different subjectivities and identities within the Nordic countries and globally This volume emphasizes the importance of investigating the interrelationship of three crises social economic and environmental as these address the interlinked surfaces of the same reality and it examines the negative connotations of the notion of crisis whilst also raising the question of when and why something becomes identified as crisis and for whom With chapters on media representations of crisis and the global context of crisis discourses the crisis of national identities and their mobilization in response and environmental crisis as well as the interrelationship between the social and the environmental and the different positioning of individuals in relation to power this volume offers an understanding of crisis as a multivocal symbol of the present As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology history cultural studies literature and political science

Bearing Witness While Black Allissa V. Richardson, 2020

Bearing Witness While Black tells the story of this century's most powerful Black social movement through the eyes of 15 activists who documented it At the height of the Black Lives Matter uprisings African Americans filmed and tweeted evidence of fatal police encounters in dozens of US cities using little more than the device in their pockets Their urgent dispatches from the frontlines spurred a global debate on excessive police force which claimed the lives of African American men women and children at disproportionate rates This groundbreaking book reveals how the perfect storm of smartphones social media and social justice empowered Black activists to create their own news outlets which continued a centuries long African American tradition of using the news to challenge racism Bearing Witness While Black is the first book of its kind to identify three overlapping eras of domestic terror against African American people slavery lynching and police brutality and explain how storytellers during each period documented its atrocities through journalism What results is a stunning genealogy of how the slave narratives of the 1700s inspired the Abolitionist movement how the black newspapers of the 1800s galvanized the anti lynching and Civil Rights movements and how the smartphones of today have powered the anti police brutality movement This lineage of black witnessing Allissa V Richardson argues is formidable and forever evolving Richardson's own activism as an award winning pioneer of smartphone journalism informs this text Weaving in personal accounts of her teaching in the US and Africa and of her own brushes with police brutality Richardson shares how she has inspired black youth to use mobile devices to speak up from the margins It is from this vantage point as participant observer that she urges us not to become numb to the tragic imagery that African Americans have documented Instead Bearing Witness While Black conveys a crucial need to protect our right to look into the forbidden space of violence against black bodies and to continue to regard the smartphone as an instrument of moral suasion and social change

Discursive Framings of Human Rights Karen-Margrethe Simonsen, Jonas Ross Kjaergard, 2016-10-14 What does it mean to be a subject of human rights The status of the subject is closely connected with the form and rhetoric of the framing discourse and this book investigates the relationship between the status of the subject and the form of human rights discourse in differing aesthetic and social contexts Historical as well as contemporary declarations of rights have stressed both the protective and political aspects of human rights But in concrete situations and conflictual moments the high moral legitimacy of human rights rhetoric has often clouded the actual character of specific interventions and so made it difficult to differentiate between the objects of humanitarian intervention and the subjects of politics Critically re examining this opposition between victims and agents of human rights through a focus on the ways in which discourses of rights are formed and circulated within and between political societies this book elicits the fluidity of their relationship and with it the shifting relation between human rights and humanitarianism Analysing the symbolic framings of testimonies disaster stories atrocity tales political speeches and philosophical arguments it thus establishes a relationship between these different genres and the political economic and legal dimensions of human rights discourse

Journalism Tim P. Vos, 2018-05-22 This volume sets out the state of the art in the discipline of journalism at a time in which the practice and profession of journalism is in serious flux While journalism is still anchored to its history change is infecting the field The profession and the scholars who study it are reconceptualizing what journalism is in a time when journalists no longer monopolize the means for spreading the news Here journalism is explored as a social practice as an institution and as memory The roles epistemologies and ethics of the field are evolving With this in mind the volume revisits classic theories of journalism such as gatekeeping and agenda setting but also opens up new avenues of theorizing by broadening the scope of inquiry into an expanded journalism ecology which now includes citizen journalism documentaries and lifestyle journalism and by tapping the insights of other disciplines such as geography economics and psychology The volume is a go to map of the field for students and scholars highlighting emerging issues enduring themes revitalized theories and fresh conceptualizations of journalism

Boundaries of Journalism Matt Carlson, Seth C. Lewis, 2015-03-05 The concept of boundaries has become a central theme in the study of journalism In recent years the decline of legacy news organizations and the rise of new interactive media tools have thrust such questions as what is journalism and who is a journalist into the limelight Struggles over journalism are often struggles over boundaries These symbolic contests for control over definition also mark a material struggle over resources In short boundaries have consequences Yet there is a lack of conceptual cohesiveness in what scholars mean by the term boundaries or in how we should think about specific boundaries of journalism This book addresses boundaries head on by bringing together a global array of authors asking similar questions about boundaries and journalism from a diverse range of perspectives methodologies and theoretical backgrounds Boundaries of Journalism assembles the most current research on this topic in one place thus providing a touchstone for future research within communication media and journalism studies on journalism and its boundaries

Unruly Speech Saskia Witteborn, 2023-01-17 Unruly Speech explores how Uyghurs in China and in the diaspora transgress sociopolitical limits with unruly communication practices in a quest for change Drawing on research in China the United States and Germany Saskia Witteborn situates her study against the backdrop of displacement and shows how naming practices and witness accounts become potent ways of resistance in everyday interactions and in global activism Featuring the voices of Uyghurs from three continents Unruly Speech analyzes the discursive and material force of place names social media surveillance and the link between witnessing and the discourse on human rights The book provides a granular view of disruptive communication its global political moorings and socio technical control The rich ethnographic study will appeal to audiences interested in migration and displacement language and social interaction advocacy digital surveillance and a transnational China

Television and the Moral Imaginary T. Dant, 2012-08-31 Just how bad is television Drawing on a range of theoretical sources including Husserl Lacan Lefebvre Sartre Schutz and Adam Smith this book takes a phenomenological approach to the small screen to offer an original sociological approach to television and its contribution to moral culture of late modern societies

Visions and Revisions Bryoni Trezise, Caroline Wake, 2014-02-28 In 1983 US president Ronald Reagan told the Israeli Prime Minister that he as a photographer during World War II had documented the atrocities of the concentration camps on film The story was later exposed as a fraud as it was revealed that Reagan had resided in Hollywood during the entire war Does this mean that Reagan was simply an amoral liar or that he established a connection to the Holocaust that can be said to have evolved from the intersection between real and reel

Visions and Revisions Performance Memory Trauma brings the fields of performance studies and trauma studies together in conversation in order to investigate how these two fields both envision and revision one another in relation to crucial themes such as trauma testimony witness and spectatorship According to Peggy Phelan a leading performance studies scholar performance provides a unique model for witnessing events that are both unbearably real and beyond reason s ability to grasp traumatic events like the Holocaust While Reagan s claim is obviously both paradoxical and problematic it opens up a space in which the potential insights that performance studies and trauma studies might bring to one another become particularly visible The first half of the anthology focuses on issues of spectatorship specifically its ethics and the possibility of witnessing The second half widens the discussion to include memory more broadly shifting the emphasis from sight to site and particularly to site specific works and the embodied encounters they model enable and enact The contributors here fill a critical gap raising questions about how popular and mediatized performances that memorialize trauma might be viewed through performance theory They also look at how performance studies might shift its focus from the visual to the sensorial and material and in doing so they offer a fresh perspective on both performance and trauma studies Writing from different disciplinary vantages and drawing on multiple case studies from South Africa the former Soviet Union Lebanon and Thailand among others the contributors decolonize trauma studies and make us question how and where our own eyes and bodies are positioned as we revision the scenes before us Contributors Laurie Beth Clark Helena Grehan Geraldine Harris Chris Hudson Petra Kupperts Adrian Lahoud Sam Spurr Christine Stoddard Bryoni Trezise Maria Tumarkin Caroline Wake Editors Bryoni Trezise is a lecturer in theatre and performance studies at the University of New South Wales where Caroline Wake is a Post doctoral Fellow in the Centre for Modernism Studies in Australia

Journalism and Memory B. Zelizer, K.

Tenenboim-Weinblatt, 2014-02-20 Tracking the ways in which journalism and memory mutually support, undermine, repair and challenge each other, this fascinating collection brings together leading scholars in journalism and memory studies to investigate the complicated role that journalism plays in relation to the past.
