Princess of the Blood Brigitte Goldstein,2005-09-20 The year 1588 finds the Kingdom of France in the grip of its seventh civil war Three decades of bloody religious strife between Roman Catholics and Protestant Huguenots have cut a seemingly insurmountable rift Philippe de Treffort is a young nobleman and captain in the army of the Catholic League sworn to defend the Apostolic Faith against the heretic Reformed Religion When spring maneuvers take him and his troops to a remote village in the southern Ile de France he becomes enthralled with Sandrine the local innkeepers daughter From the moment they meet he senses a mystery behind this beautiful headstrong child so different from the peasants among whom she lives In a moment alone she confesses that she too feels a strange bond with him and that their encounter has revived in her a long held dream of a liberator who would take her away from her miserable village existence Blowing all conventions to the wind he makes a solemn promise which he is however unable to fulfill as the waves of war engulf their lives and he is called back to fulfill his oath of allegiance to the Catholic cause Sandrine remains behind in the village waiting for his return Meanwhile Thierry the innkeeper is now called upon by the richest peasant in the village to make good on a promise to have his daughter married to him When Sandrine resists the advances of her husband during their wedding night he accuses her of having cast a spell on him and she is taken to Chartres where she is delivered into the hands of the Inquisition Only her abiding faith in Philippes promise that he will return gives her the strength to endure the tortures Her faith is ultimately vindicated and she is spared from being burned at the stake as a witch through a daring rescue launched by Philippe and his retainers The lovers time together is all too brief however Again the war intervenes and Philippe must follow the call of duty leaving Sandrine once again exposed to the vicissitudes of life beyond her control She must duck a gauntlet of injustice expulsion starvation sexual assaults imprisonment and all manner of evil machinations including a protracted siege of Paris by the Huguenot army under Henri de Navarre She descends into the Parisian underworld to escape a miscreant lecher and shares the lot of migrant workers in the South of the Kingdom Sustained by the friendship of a troop of itinerant actors and the king of beggars and thieves she braves all odds as she resolutely sets out to uncover the secret of her parentage and to gain the freedom from an evil fate that has conspired to keep her and Philippe apart When she is finally restored to her birthright as a princess of the blood at the royal court she too finds herself caught in the quandary of having to choose between duty to family and political exigencies and the fulfillment of personal happiness Princess of the Blood is the epic quest of a young woman for her identity and personal freedom and fulfillment in love It is a colorful tapestry depicting a social order shackled by rigid conventions and a mentality dominated by superstition and fanaticism It paints the vagaries of political intrigue and protracted war in a world where deep religiosity is often matched by extreme cruelty an uncompromising world that traps individuals in a pincer of duty and obligations from which there seems no escape Yet as the canvas unfolds it also reveals the promise of redemption in the person of a charismatic leader and a woman of undaunted spirit A brighter scene dawns on the horizon heralding a time when love and tolerance will triumph over war and discord Angeliad Surazeus Astarius,2017-10-09 Angeliad of Surazeus Revelation of Angela presents 136 377 lines of verse in 1 346 poems lyrics ballads sonnets dramatic monologues eulogies hymns and epigrams written by Surazeus 2001 to 2005 Webster's New International Dictionary of the English Language Noah Webster,1913 The Red Dragon Charles Wilkins,1886 The Red Dragon ,1886 Legends of the House of the cretan Woman Sulaiman al-Kretli,Robert Grenville Gayer-Anderson,2001 The House of the Cretan Woman Bait al Kretliya is a sixteenth century merchant s house that stands adjacent to the ninth century mosque of Ibn Tulun in one of the oldest quarters of Cairo Both the house and the mosque are the subjects of the popular myths gathered in this magical book In the 1930s the house served as the home of Gayer Anderson Pasha an English doctor and art collector who furnished it with his collections and left it to the Egyptian government in 1945 and it was Gayer Anderson who collected and translated the stories that are the subject of this book from Sheikh Sulaiman the last head of the Kretli family and guardian of the saint s tomb that flanks the house He also commissioned a local artisan to create a series of illustrations on copper plates one to depict each of the fourteen legends and published the stories with the drawings along with his own introductory description of the house in a small edition in England in 1951 that is now long out of print For this new edition of this classic book the author s grandson Theo Gayer Anderson an illustrator and a specialist in restoration and conservation has enhanced and added color to the original monochrome drawings to reanimate the world of benevolent serpents magical wells sultans and serving girls djinns and saints that surrounds the house and the mosque This unique collection is a significant piece of local history that offers a fascinating sidelight on two of Cairo s best known monuments The Family treasury of Sunday reading, ed. by A.
