Migrants To The Metropolis The Rise Of Immigrant Gateway Cities:

Migrants to the Metropolis Marie Price, Lisa Benton-Short, 2008-06-27 Immigration today touches the lives and economies of more people and places than ever before Yet the places that are disproportionately affected by immigrant flows are not countries but cities This remarkable collection examines contemporary global immigration trends and their profound effect on specific host cities The book focuses not only on cities with long established diverse populations such as New York Toronto and Sydney but also on less known gateway cities such as Birmingham UK Marseille and the emerging gateways of Johannesburg Washington D C and Dublin The essays gathered here provide a global portrait of accelerating worldwide immigration driven by income differentials social networks and various state policies that recruit skilled and unskilled laborers Gateway cities vary in form and function but many are hyperdiverse globally linked through transnational networks and often increasingly segregated spaces Offering penetrating analysis by the leading scholars in the field Migrants to the Metropolis redirects the global narrative surrounding migration away from states and borders and into cities where the vast majority of economic migrants settle

Integration and Receptivity in Immigrant Gateway Metro Regions in the United States Paul N. McDaniel, Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez, 2024-07-08 Despite the velocity and scale of the cumulative changes of immigrant integration and receptivity infrastructures in fast growing regions of the United States less research has focused on the new and evolving experiences in these regions in recent years Editors Paul N McDaniel and Darlene Xiomara Rodriguez and the contributors in Integration and Receptivity in Immigrant Gateway Metro Regions in the United States fill this gap through case studies of different types of immigrant gateway metro areas They provide insight into how immigrant settlement integration and receptivity processes and practices within each metro area have continued to evolve beyond the nascent experiences documented in the early 2000s This interdisciplinary volume examines ongoing processes in not only well established immigrant gateways but also in previously overlooked regions This book is a resource for researchers students and practitioners to contextualize the ongoing changes in new destination metropolitan regions in the United States and to learn from the challenges opportunities and best practices emerging from different metropolitan regional contexts

Confronting Urban Legacy Xiangming Chen, Nick Bacon, 2013-10-18 Confronting Urban Legacy fills a critical lacuna in urban scholarship As almost all of the literature focuses on global cities and megacities smaller secondary cities which actually hold the majority of the world's population are either critically misunderstood or unexamined in their entirety This neglect not only biases scholars understanding of social and spatial dynamics toward very large global cities but also maintains a void in students learning This book specifically explores the transformative relationship between globalization and urban transition in Hartford Connecticut while including crucial comparative chapters on other forgotten New England cities Portland Maine along with Lawrence and Springfield Massachusetts Hartford's transformation carries a striking imprint of globalization that has been largely missed from its 17th century roots as New England first inland colonial settlement to its emergence as one of the world's most prosperous manufacturing and insurance metropolises to its present configuration as one of America's poorest post industrial cities which by still retaining a globally lucrative FIRE Sector is nevertheless surrounded by one of the nation's most prosperous metropolitan regions The myriad of dilemmas confronting Hartford calls for this book to take an interdisciplinary approach The editors introduction places Hartford in a global comparative perspective Part I provides rich historical delineations of the many rises and not quite falls of Hartford Part II offers a broad contemporary treatment of Hartford by dissecting recent immigration and examining the demographic and educational dimensions of the city suburban divide and Part III unpacks Hartford's current social economic and political situation and discusses what the city could become Using the lessons from this book on Hartford and other underappreciated secondary cities in New England urban scholars leaders and residents alike can gain a number of essential insights both theoretical and practical

Mean Streets Jonathan Crush, Abel Chikanda, 2015-11-16 This book powerfully demonstrates that some of the most resourceful entrepreneurs in the South African informal economy are migrants and refugees Yet far from being lauded they take their life into their hands when they trade on South Africa's mean streets The book draws attention to what they bring to their adopted country through research into previously unexamined areas of migrant entrepreneurship Ranging from studies of how migrants have created agglomeration economies in Jeppe and Ivory Park in Johannesburg to guanxi networks of Chinese entrepreneurs to competition and cooperation among Somali shop owners to cross border informal traders to the informal transport operators between South Africa and Zimbabwe the chapters in this book reveal the positive economic contributions of migrants these include generating employment paying rents providing cheaper goods to poor consumers and supporting formal sector wholesalers and retailers As well Mean Streets highlights the xenophobic responses to migrant and refugee entrepreneurs and the challenges they face in running a successful business on the streets

Global Asian City Francis L. Collins, 2018-07-23 Global Asian City provides a unique theoretical framework for studying the growth of cities and migration focused on the notion of desire as a major driver of international migration to Asian cities Draws on more than 120 interviews of emigrants to Seoul including migrant workers from Indonesia Philippines Thailand and Vietnam English teachers from Australia Canada New Zealand South Africa UK and USA and international students at two elite Korean universities Features a comparative account of different migrant populations and the ways in which national migration systems and urban processes create differences between these groups Focuses on the causes of international migration to Seoul South Korea and reveals how migration has transformed the city and nation especially in the last two decades

From World City to the World in One City Tim Bunnell, 2016-02-08 Tim Bunnell's book featured in the movie Pulang the author has recently spoken in several interviews and programmes about how his fascination with the tales of Malay seamen in the UK led to writing this volume Showbiz Sailing into a sea of heartwarming tales New Coming home at last thesundaily my <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eiFWYHLz5ok> From World City to the World in One City examines changing geographies of Liverpool through and across the lives of Malay seamen who arrived in the city during its final years as a major imperial port Draws upon life histories and memories of people who met at the Malay Club in Liverpool until its closure in 2007 to examine changing urban sites and landscapes as well as the city's historically shifting constitutive connections In considering the historical presence of Malay seamen in Liverpool draws attention to a group which has previously received only passing mention in historical and geographical studies of both that city and of multi ethnic Britain more widely Demonstrates that Liverpool based Malay men sustained social connections with Southeast Asia long before scholars began to use terms such as globalization or transnationalism Based on a diverse range of empirical data including interviews with members of the Malay Club in Liverpool and interviews in Southeast Asia as well as archival and secondary sources Accessibly written for non academic audiences interested in the history and urban social geography of Liverpool

A Companion to Diaspora and Transnationalism Ato Quayson, Girish Daswani, 2013-07-03 A Companion to Diaspora and Transnationalism offers a ground breaking combined discussion of the concepts of diaspora and transnationalism Newly commissioned essays by leading scholars provide interdisciplinary perspectives that link together the concepts in new and important ways A wide ranging collection which reviews the most significant developments and provides valuable insights into current key debates in transnational and diaspora studies Contains newly commissioned essays by leading scholars which will both influence the field and stimulate further insight and discussion in the future Provides interdisciplinary perspectives on diaspora and transnationalism which link the two concepts in new and important ways Combines theoretical discussion with specific examples and case studies

Hybrid Mobilities Nadine Cattani, Laurent Faret, 2021-07-30 Diverse factors like globalization geopolitical tensions and the transformation of lifestyles are strengthening the role of mobility as a structuring dimension of contemporary societies Social science research has taken note of these changes but few studies cross the different forms of mobility ranging from commuting to tourists and backpackers and on to seasonal workers or international migrants The diversity of mobility situations studied in this book highlights the contribution of the reality of mobility in the daily construction of urban regional and global spaces as well as in the redefinition of socio spatial concepts By using an interdisciplinary relational approach the book revisits certain concepts such as exclusion heritage or distance in order to understand spatialities beyond the oppositions of fixity mobility private public or here elsewhere The book sheds light on the capacities for resistance of mobile persons in Singapore Dakar Bangkok Amman Paris New York or Mexico by studying the power relationships that are established in situations of mobility By deciphering the values that characterize regimes of immobility the contributors stress the normative injunctions of public policies and social practices The originality of the work lies in capturing the deployment of alternative spatialities and underlining how they are reshaped between sedentary and mobility regimes It highlights the importance of fully associating mobility with its characteristics of ephemerality and fluidity in our theorizations and understandings of spatialities By taking a post structuralist posture the book makes it possible to establish a logic of and to design a between of things and to reverse ontology This allows the temporary and the connected to be rehabilitated beyond distance in our practical knowledge of spatialities and territorialities As such the volume will be of interest to scholars of geography sociology anthropology and urban studies with interests in mobility migration and relational thought DiverCity - Global Cities as a Literary Phenomenon Melanie U. Pooch, 2016-02-15 Based on the structured analysis of selected North American novels this work examines global cities as a literary phenomenon DiverCity By analyzing Dionne Brand's Toronto What We All Long For 2005 Chang-rae Lee's New York Native Speaker 1995 and Karen Tei Yamashita's Los Angeles Tropic of Orange 1997 Melanie U Pooch provides the connecting link for exploring the triad of globalization and its effects global cities as cultural nodal points and cultural diversity in a globalizing age as a literary phenomenon Thus she contributes to a global interdisciplinary and multi-perspectival understanding of literature culture and society Ireland and migration in the twenty-first century Mary Gilmartin, 2015-07-29 Considers migration to from and within Ireland in the twenty first century covering the Celtic Tiger era of mass immigration to Ireland as well as the dramatic growth in levels of emigration that has occurred since the Irish economic collapse Translocal Geographies Ayona Datta, Katherine Brickell, 2016-02-17 Bringing together a wide range of original empirical research from locations and interconnected geographical contexts from Europe Australasia Asia Africa Central and Latin America this book sets out a different agenda for mobility one which emphasizes the enduring connectedness between and embeddedness within places during and after the experience of mobility These issues are examined through the themes of home and family neighbourhoods and city spaces and allow the reader to engage with migrants diverse practices which are specifically local yet spatially global This book breaks new ground by arguing for a spatial understanding of translocality that situates the migrant experience within across particular locales without confining it to the territorial boundedness of the nation state It will be of interest to academics and students of social and cultural geography anthropology and transnational studies Asian Migrations Tony Fielding, 2015-07-16 This textbook describes and explains the complex reality of contemporary internal and international migrations in East Asia Taking an interdisciplinary approach Tony Fielding combines theoretical debate and detailed empirical analysis to provide students with an understanding of the causes and consequences of the many types of contemporary migration flows in the region Key features of Asian Migrations Comprehensive coverage of all forms of migration including labour migration student migration marriage migration displacement and human trafficking Text boxes containing key concepts and theories More than 30 maps and diagrams Equal attention devoted to broad structures e.g. political economy and individual agency e.g. migration behaviours Emphasis on the conceptual and empirical connections between internal and international migrations Exploration of the policy implications of the trends and processes discussed Written by an experienced scholar and teacher of migration studies this is an essential text for courses on East Asian migrations and mobility and important reading for courses on international migration and Asian societies more generally The Right to Suburbia Willow S Lung-Amam, 2024-09-17 In recent decades American suburbs have undergone a so called renaissance as multiple forces have transformed them into denser urban landscapes Yet at the same time suburban racial diversity immigration and poverty rates have surged The Right to Suburbia investigates how marginalized communities in the suburbs of Washington DC one of the most intensely gentrifying metropolitan regions in the United States have battled the uneven costs and benefits of redevelopment Willow Lung Amam narrates the efforts of activists community groups and political leaders fighting for communities right to suburbia that is their right to stay put and benefit from new neighborhood investments Revealing the far reaching impacts of state led redevelopment The Right to Suburbia shows how patterns of unequal racialized development and displacement are being produced and reproduced in suburbs and how communities are fighting back Neoliberalizing Spaces in the Philippines Arnisson Andre Ortega, 2016-09-09 Amidst the recent global financial crisis and housing busts in various countries the Philippines booming housing industry has been heralded as Southeast Asia s hottest real estate hub and the saving grace of a supposedly resilient Philippine economy This growth has been fueled by demand from balikbayan returnee Overseas Filipinos and has facilitated the rise of gated suburban communities in Manila s sprawling peri urban fringe But as the Filipino dreams of successful balikbayans are built inside these new gated residential developments the lives of marginalized populations living in these spaces have been upended and thrown into turmoil as they face threats of expulsion Based on almost four years of research this book examines the tumultuous geographies of neoliberalization that link suburbanization transnational mobilities and accumulation by dispossession Through an accounting of real estate and new suburban landscapes it tells of a Filipino transnationalism that engenders a market based and privatized suburban political economy that reworks socio spatial relations and class dynamics In presenting the literal and discursive transformations of spaces in Manila s peri urban fringe the book details life inside new gated suburban communities and discusses the everyday geographies of privileged new property owners mainly comprised of balikbayan families and exposes the contradictions of gated suburban life from resistance to Home Owner Association rules to alienating feelings of loss It also reveals the darker side of the property boom by mapping the volatile spaces of the Philippines surplus populations comprised of the landless farmers informal settler residents and indigenous peoples To make way for gated communities and other profitable developments in the peri urban region marginalized residents are systematically dispossessed and displaced while concomitantly offered relocation to isolated socialized housing projects the last frontier for real estate accumulation These compelling accounts illustrate how the territorial embeddedness of neoliberalization in the Philippines entails the consolidation of capital by political economic elites and privatization of residential space for an idealized transnational property clientele More than ever as the Philippines is being reshaped by diaspora and accumulation by dispossession the contemporary moment is a critical time to reflect on what it truly means to be a nation Contemporary Ethnic Geographies in America Christopher A. Airriess, 2015-09-28 Ethnic diversity has marked the United States from its inception and it is impossible to separate ethnicity from an understanding of the United States as a country and Americans as a people Since the 1965 Immigration and Nationality Act the United States has experienced watershed transformations in its social cultural and ethnic geographies Considering the impact of these wide ranging changes this unique text examines the experiences of a range of ethnic groups in both historical and contemporary context It begins by laying out a comprehensive conceptual framework that integrates immigration theory globalization transnational community formation and urban cultural and economic geography The contributors then present a rich set of case studies of the key Latin American Asian American and Middle Eastern communities comprising the vast majority of newer immigrants Each case offers a brief historical overview of the group s immigration experience and settlement patterns and discusses its contemporary socioeconomic dynamics All these communities have transformed and been transformed by the places in which they have settled Exploring these changing communities places and landscapes this book offers a nuanced understanding of the evolution of America s contemporary ethnic geographies

Cosmopolitan Sex Workers Christine B.N. Chin, 2013-05-02 Analysis of the women who migrate for sex work the organizations that facilitate these placements and the hierarchies that persist within the trade all of which unfold in Kuala Lumpur Malaysia

Global Migration: The Basics Bernadette Hanlon, Thomas J. Vicino, 2014-03-26 Migration is a politically sensitive topic and an important aspect of contentious debates about social and cultural diversity economic stability terrorism globalization and nationalism Global Migration The Basics examines history and geography of global migration the role of migrants in society impact of migrants on the economy and the political system policy challenges that need to be faced in confronting a rapidly changing world economy and society This book challenges students of geography political science public policy sociology and economics to look beyond the rhetoric and consider the real and basic facts about migration Through detailed examinations of the scholarly literature demographic patterns and public policy debates Global Migration The Basics exposes readers to the underlying causes and consequences of migration

Leading the Inclusive City Hambleton, Robin, 2014-11-24 Cities are often seen as helpless victims in a global flow of events and many view growing inequality in cities as inevitable This engaging book rejects this gloomy prognosis and argues that imaginative place based leadership can enable citizens to shape the urban future in accordance with progressive values advancing social justice promoting care for the environment and bolstering community empowerment This international and comparative book written by an experienced author shows how inspirational civic leaders are making a major difference in cities across the world The analysis provides practical lessons for local leaders and a significant contribution to thinking on public service innovation for anyone who wants to change urban society for the better

Korea's Changing Roles in Southeast Asia David I Steinberg, 2010 The Republic of Korea s global expansion has been mirrored by its interest and presence in Southeast Asia From trade investment aid tourism to the cultural Korean wave its various roles have blossomed and its influence has grown

The ASEAN region has not only affected Korean foreign policy but also many aspects of Korean life from the migration of Southeast Asian industrial workers to marriages and the curricula of academic institutions This volume explores various aspects of these new relationships and their importance to all concerned parties It brings together a group of specialists who have documented the growing interlocking roles between Korea and ASEAN and its constituent states in detail These developments have profound implications for relations in the East and Southeast Asian regions and for the world as a whole

Migration and Diversity in Asian Contexts Ah Eng Lai, Francis Leo Collins, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2013 This volume makes an important and unique contribution to scholarly understandings of migration and diversity through its focus on Asian contexts Current scholarship and literature on processes of migration and the consequences of diversity is heavily concentrated on Western contexts and their concerns with multiculturalism integration rights and responsibilities social cohesion social inclusion and cosmopolitanism In contrast there has been relatively little attention given to migration and growing diversity in Asian contexts which are constituted by highly distinct and varied histories cultures geographies and political economies This book fills this significant gap in the literature on migration studies with a concentrated focus on communities cities and countries in the Asian region that are experiencing increased levels of population mobility and subsequent diversity Not only does it offer analyses of the policies and processes of migration it also addresses the outcomes and implications of migration and diversity these include a focus on multiculturalism and citizenship in the Asian region the emerging complex forms of governance in response to increased diversity discussions of different settlement experiences and the practices of everyday life and encounters in increasingly diverse locales
