William Babin, Allan M. Levinsky, 2015-10-12 A look at the beloved American poet's home and family and a glimpse at the early years of Portland, Maine. When a former Revolutionary War general named Peleg Wadsworth finished building a two-story brick house on Congress Street in 1786, the province of Maine was still considered part of Massachusetts and he could see the Fore River from his front door. The city would grow up around the structure as the Wadsworth Longfellow family flourished and made history within its walls and in the fabric of young America's culture and government. Peleg's daughter Zilpah married Stephen Longfellow IV on the first floor and they raised their eight children in the home with love and high standards. Their second-eldest son, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, wrote his first childhood poem there before going on to pen great classics including Paul Revere's Ride and Evangeline. Young Henry also watched his father help craft the Maine Constitution and experienced revolutionary ideals of his home city. This book takes you inside the historic Longfellow House and lets you explore the city that shaped a renowned American poet. Includes photos and illustrations.
