В то же время, как и в предыдущие годы, в журнале «Management Science» по-прежнему наблюдается тенденция к снижению доли публикаций в области теории менеджмента, что объясняется, скорее всего, тем, что в последние годы в этой области появились интересные и оригинальные исследования, которые не могли быть опубликованы в журнале «Management Science».

Study highlights: Improved in-line water quality in the watershed of Lake Michigan's Green Bay, Wisconsin, is attributed to the implementation of a watershed water quality plan. The plan calls for improved water quality in the watershed, which is the area of land that drains into the lake. The plan also calls for improved water quality in the lake itself. The plan is being implemented by the Green Bay Water Pollution Control Board, which is a joint effort of the city of Green Bay and the Green Bay Water Pollution Control Board. The plan is being implemented in a number of ways, including the construction of new water treatment facilities, the implementation of new water quality standards, and the implementation of new water quality monitoring programs. The plan is expected to result in improved water quality in the lake and in the watershed, which will benefit the people of Green Bay and the people of the entire Lake Michigan watershed.
