Pass It On Five Stories That Can Change The World:

Ecopiety Sarah McFarland Taylor, 2019-11-12 Tackles a human problem we all share the fate of the earth and our role in its future Confident that your personal good deeds of environmental virtue will save the earth The stories we encounter about the environment in popular culture too often promote an imagined moral economy assuring us that tiny acts of voluntary personal piety such as recycling a coffee cup or purchasing green consumer items can offset our destructive habits No need to make any fundamental structural changes The trick is simply for the consumer to buy the right things and shop our way to a greener future It s time for a reality check Ecopiety offers an absorbing examination of the intersections of environmental sensibilities contemporary expressions of piety and devotion and American popular culture Ranging from portrayals of environmental sin and virtue such as the eco pious depiction of Christian Grey in Fifty Shades of Grey to the green capitalism found in the world of mobile device carbon sin tracking software applications to the socially conscious vegetarian vampires in True Blood the volume illuminates the work pop culture performs as both a mirror and an engine for the greening of American spiritual and ethical commitments Taylor makes the case that it is not through a framework of grim duty or obligation but through one of play and delight that we may move environmental ideals into substantive action In the Shadow of the Seawall Summer Gray, 2023-08-29 In the Shadow of the Seawall journeys to the low lying lands of Guyana and the Maldives to grapple with the existential dilemma of seawalls alongside struggles to resist displacement With the gathering momentum of ocean instability wrought by centuries of injustice seawalls have become objects of conflict and negotiation around which human struggles for power and resistance collide Through stories of colonial ruination and green seawalls the concept of placekeeping emerges a justice oriented framework for addressing adaptation and the global dangers of coastal disruption at the front lines of climate change Drawing on ethnographic observation and interviews Gray shows how seawalls are entrenched in relationships of power and entangled in processes of making and keeping place Time to

Stand Up Thanissara, 2015-08-18 Time to Stand Up retells the story of the historical Buddha one of the greatest sacred activists of all time as a practical human being whose teachings of freedom from suffering are more relevant than ever in this time of global peril Evolving onward from the patriarchal template of spiritual warriors and their quests former nun Thanissara explores awakening from within a feminine view where the archetypes of lover and nurturer are placed as central and essential for a sustainable world Vital is an investigation into the pinnacle of Buddhist practice the realization of the liberated heart Thanissara questions the narrative of transcendence and invites us into the lived reality of our deepest heart as it guides our journey of healing reclamation and redemption As the book unfolds the author examines traditional Buddhism often fraught with gender discrimination and asks the important question Can Buddhist schools overly attached to hierarchal power structures and often divorced from the radical and free inquiry exemplified by the Buddha truly offer the ground for maturing awakening without undertaking a fundamental review of their own shadows Chapter by chapter the book relates Siddhartha Gautama's awakening to the sea change occurring on Earth in present time as we as a civilization become aware of the ethical bankruptcy of the nuclear and fossil fuel industry and the psychopathic corporate and military abuse of power currently terrorizing our planet. Thanissara relates the Buddha's story to real life individuals who are living through these transitional times such as Iraq war veterans, First Nation People and the Dalai Lama. Time to Stand Up gives examples of the Buddha's activism such as challenging a racist caste system and violence against animals, stopping war, transforming a serial killer and laying down a nonhierarchical structure of community governance actions that would seem radical even today. Thanissara explores ways forward deepening our understanding of meditation and mindfulness, probing its use to pacify ourselves as the cogs in the corporate world by helping people be more functional in a dysfunctional system and shows how these core Buddhist practices can inspire a wake up call for action for our sick and suffering planet Earth.

Restore resilience at its developmental source through energy medicine. Shares the author's journey of learning the healing art of Jin Shin, discovering the embryological roots of resilience and healing her own trauma. Explores how the Jin Shin sites correlate with the Chinese Extraordinary Meridians and with specific embryological events. Shows how subtle touch in combination with trauma resolution amplifies neuroresilience, enhances creativity, restores motivation and heals the fragmentation and disconnection associated with trauma and shock.

When neuroscientist Stephanie Mines started practicing the hands-on healing Art of Compassion, she began to unravel the mystery of trauma and the secret to resilience. As a survivor of early childhood abuse, police brutality as a social justice activist and a series of dysfunctional and abusive relationships, Mines was profoundly curious about how the human nervous system finds resilience despite the cumulative burden of chronic stress and traumatic life events. While earning her doctorate in neuropsychology, she met Mary Iino Burmeister, master of the Art of Compassion or Jin Shin Jyutsu. Art of Compassion consists of non-invasive touch using the fingertips on sites of the body that are similar to acupuncture points. After the Art of Compassion helped Mines resolve her own trauma and awaken her innate resilience, she began to incorporate it into her clinical research. She discovered that the map of the body she learned from Burmeister's sites correlated with the Chinese Extraordinary Meridians or Rivers of Splendor which develop prenatally. She then began investigating our earliest neurodevelopmental processes and was able to correlate the Extraordinary Meridians with specific embryological events. She found that subtle touch on these sites in combination with trauma resolution amplifies neuroresilience, enhances creativity, restores motivation and heals the fragmentation and disconnection associated with trauma and shock. Sharing her personal

Embodied Trauma and Healing Anna Westin, 2022-02-25 What if philosophy could solve the psychological puzzle of trauma Embodied Trauma and Healing argues just that suggesting that one might be needed in order to understand the other The book demonstrates how the body mind problem that haunted Descartes was addressed by phenomenologists whilst also proposing that the human experience is lived subjectively as embodied consciousness Throughout this book the author suggests that the phenomenological tools that are used to explore the body can also be an effective way to discuss the physical and mental aspects of embodied trauma Drawing on the work of Paul Ricoeur Maurice Merleau Ponty and Emmanuel Levinas the book outlines a phenomenological approach to the embodied and relational subject It offers a reading of embodied trauma that can connect it to wider conversations in psychological underpinnings of trauma through Peter Levine s somatic research and Bessel van der Kolk s embodied remembering Connecting to the analytic tradition the book suggests that phenomenology can unify both language based and body based therapeutic practice It also presents a compelling discussion that ties the embodied experience of relation in trauma to the wider causal factors of social suffering and relational rupture intergenerational trauma and the trauma of land as informed by phenomenology Embodied Trauma and Healing is essential reading for researchers within the fields of philosophy psychology and medical humanities for it actively engages with contemporary configurations of trauma theory and recent research developments in healing and mental disorder diagnosis
