Paths from Science Towards God Arthur R. Peacocke, 2013-10-01 Author is winner of 2001 Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion worth 1 million dollars By applying the principles of scientific thought to theological matters Arthur Peacocke argues that the divine principle is at work behind all aspects of existence both spiritual and physical This study tackles head on such fundamental issues as how evolution can be reconciled with creation and the relationship between Newton causality and divine action He concludes with an optimistic new theology for our brave new world Paths from Science Towards God Former Director of the Ian Ramsey Centre Faculty of Theology Arthur Peacocke, Arthur Robert Peacocke, 2001-01-01 In this ground breaking work biochemist priest and 2001 Templeton Prize winner Arthur Peacocke offers a uniquely balanced evaluation of the science religion debate Paths from Science Towards God Arthur R. Peacocke, 2001-04-02 Drawing on over 30 years of engagement in the debate between science and religion renowned author and 2001 Templeton Prize winner Arthur Peacocke reflects here on this age old debate Miracles in Said Nursi and Thomas Aquinas Edmund Michael Lazzari, 2024-11-26 In order to preserve contemporary understandings of the sciences many figures of the Divine Action Project DAP held that God could never violate or suspend a law of nature causing the marginalization of miracles from scholarly theology science dialogue In the first substantive entry of interreligious dialogue on the topic this book provides fresh contemporary accounts of Said Nursi and Thomas Aquinas on miracles and science challenges contemporary noninterventionist presuppositions and explores rich untapped avenues in the theology metaphysics and epistemology of miracles and laws of science Through an exploration of Nursi's Ash'arite Quranic interpretation of the sciences and St Thomas's neglected doctrine of obediential potency this volume marshals powerful tools from the world's two largest religions to elucidate the foundations of God's interaction with creatures As well as contributing to the contemporary debate this volume provides Muslim and Christian readers alike substantive intellectual frameworks in which to think about the sciences from the heart of their own intellectual traditions while at the same time giving them as alternatives to mainstream contemporary approaches for scientists and other readers engaged in theology science dialogue The Palace of Glory Arthur Robert Peacocke, 2005 This volume is a representative cross section of the recent thinking of Arthur Peacocke on how to conceive of divine and human relations broadly of God as the world's Creator and the world itself created by God Such an enterprise has many variegated facets and the various chapters of the book reflect this diversity God, Humanity and the Cosmos - 2nd Edition Christopher Southgate, 2005-12-01 Contributors include Christopher Southgate John Hedley Brooke Celia Deane Drummond Paul D Murray Michael Robert Negus Lawrence Osborn Michael Poole Jacqui Stewart Fraser Watts David Wilkinson This fully revised and updated edition of God Humanity and the Cosmos includes new chapters by John Hedley Brooke Paul D Murray and David Wilkinson In addition to a systematic exploration of contemporary perspectives in physics evolutionary biology and psychology as they relate to theological descriptions of the universe humanity and consciousness the book now provides a thorough survey of the theological philosophical and historical issues underpinning the science religion debate Contributors also examine such issues as theological responses to the ecological crisis and to biotechnology how science is treated and valued in education and the relation of science to Islamic thought Dr Christopher Southgate is Lecturer in Theology at the University of Exeter

Echoes of Coinherence W. Ross Hastings, 2017-07-28 This book re imagines the universe and the scientific study of it through the lens of a triune Creator three persons of irreducible identity in a perichoretic or coinherent communion It modestly proposes that Trinitarian theology and especially the coinherent natures of the Son in the incarnation provides the metaphysic or theory of everything that manifests itself in the subject matter of science The presence of the image of the triune God in humanity and of traces of this God in the non human creation are discussed highlighting ontological resonances between God and creation resonances between the being of God and his creation such as goodness immensity yet particularity intelligibility agency relationality and beauty This Trinitarian reality suggests there should be a similarity also with respect to how we know in theology and science critical realism something reflected in the history of ideas in each These resonances lead to the conclusion that the disciplines of theology and science are in fact coinherent not conflicted This involves recognition of both the mutuality of these vocations and also importantly their particularity Science its own distinct guild yet finds its place ensconced within an encyclopedic theology and subject to first order credal theology

Natural and Cosmic Theodicy Jongseock James Shin, 2022-10-21 This book presents a third way to envision the Creatorship of the Triune God who is both compassionate and eschatologically redemptive in providential presence rather than biasedly gravitating toward the openness of a self limiting God or God s all determining sovereignty Not only is God in with and under creation God s kenotic presence invites creatures to participate in the self giving love of God through both general and special divine action in a top down through bottom up mode Creatio continua is God s own journey of fulfilling the eschatological promise for creation This redemptive presence of God in creation is a Trinitarian co protesting against the power of death sin and evil considering the cosmic dimensions of the eschatological hope promised in the resurrection of Jesus The new creation is the ultimate fulfillment of creaturely freedom and contingency divinely granted in creatio ex nihilo In arguing this Shin engages in a comparative and critical study of natural and cosmic theodicy advanced by Catherine Keller Arthur Peacocke Wolfhart Pannenberg and Robert Russell reader Matthew Anna Case-Winters,2015-03-18 One of the most beloved books of the New Testament the Gospel of Matthew speaks with eloquence and power Among the Gospels Matthew paints a fuller picture of the life ministry and teachings of Jesus Anna Case Winters s incisive commentary reveals that Matthew is clearly a theological book It is about God s saving work in Jesus Christ Moreover it is presented in a way that easily lends itself to the task of teaching and preaching Case Winters highlights five themes that shape the distinctive portrait of Jesus this Gospel offers Here we see Jesus facing up to conflict and controversy ministering at the margins overturning presuppositions about insiders and outsiders privileging the powerless demonstrating the authority of ethical leadership challenging allegiance to empire and pointing the way to a wider divine embrace than many dared imagine Case Winters captures the core of Matthew s unique Gospel which speaks powerfully to the life of Christian faith today in the midst of our own issues and struggles

Incarnation Niels Henrick Gregersen,2015-07-01 This volume takes the reader on a journey from New Testament and early church views of incarnation to contemporary understandings of Christology A prominent group of scholars explores and debates the idea of deep incarnation the view that the divine incarnation in Jesus presupposes a radical embodiment that reaches into the roots of material and biological existence as well as into the darker sides of creation Such a wide scope view of incarnation allows Christology to be meaningful when responding to the challenges of scientific cosmology and global religious pluralism God, Humanity and the Cosmos Christopher Southgate,2005-10-29 Contributors include Christopher Southgate John Hedley Brooke Celia Deane Drummond Paul D Murray Michael Robert Negus Lawrence Osborn Michael Poole Jacqui Stewart Fraser Watts David Wilkinson This fully revised and updated edition of God Humanity and the Cosmos includes new chapters by John Hedley Brooke Paul D Murray and David Wilkinson In addition to a systematic exploration of contemporary perspectives in physics evolutionary biology and psychology as they relate to theological descriptions of the universe humanity and consciousness the book now provides a thorough survey of the theological philosophical and historical issues underpinning the science religion debate Contributors also examine such issues as theological responses to the ecological crisis and to biotechnology how science is treated and valued in education and the relation of science to Islamic thought Dr Christopher Southgate is Lecturer in Theology at the University of Exeter How Does God Act in the World? David Wilkinson,2025-05-29 Does God act in the world and if God does then how These questions are central questions for Christian theology and Christian mission and ministry Is God simply a creator who then goes on holiday and leaves the universe to develop or is God the one who is embodied in Jesus the God of signs and wonders death and resurrection And what does this mean for signs and wonders today in the life of individuals and local churches From The Simpsons to a wedding in Cana from grace to quantum theory and from the problem of evil to eschatology David Wilkinson argues that the biblical picture of a God who acts in the world makes sense in the light of modern science but how God acts cannot be reduced to simple models God's Action in the World Marek Slomka,2021-04-22 The problem of God s action in the world is at the heart of debates today on the relationship between science and religion By analysing the issue through the lens of analytic philosophy Marek Slomka reveals how philosophy can successfully bridge science and theology to bring greater clarity to divine action This book identifies essential aspects from various branches of theism starting with traditional Thomistic approaches through to their modified forms such as Molinism and contemporary varieties such as free will theism and probabilistic theism Analysing crucial elements of God's nature including omnipotence omniscience his relation to time and the tension between immanence and transcendence Slomka reveals the difficulties in proposing a single conception of God through one theistic tradition Instead of simplistically juxtaposing particular theistic trends he highlights the value of pluralistic insights that also draw on important scientific theories including Darwin's evolution quantum mechanics and cosmology By taking a renewed stance on theism that takes into account modern scientific knowledge Slomka argues for a new presentation of the problem of God's action in the world

A Modern Relation of Theology and Science Assisted by Emergence and Kenosis Bradford McCall, 2018-02-28 How should we attempt to understand the relationship between theology and science in the twenty first century In this book I will attempt to answer this question by examining several previous attempts to classify this relationship I also develop my personal view of the relation thereafter discussing some Catholic contributions to this project and then revisit some of my previously published material highlighting the role of panentheism therein and noting an emergent implication from the literature the resultant possibilities for God an implication that creates space for a broadly relational perspective of the process of emergence These movements allow me to argue that kenosis and emergence can add to the discussion of understanding the theology and science relationship Herein I advocate a monistic process based view of the overlapping relationship between theology and science

Let There Be Light Howard Smith, Ph.D., 2010-10-04 In Let There Be Light Howard Smith a research astrophysicist and traditionally observant Jew explores how modern scientific understandings of the cosmos complement Judaism's ancient mystical theology the Kabbalah He argues that science and religion are not only compatible but that a healthy productive dialogue between the two sheds light on ethics free will and the nature of life while at the same time rejecting fundamentalist misinterpretation and the pseudoscience of creationism Written for a general audience yet supported by the most current and accurate scientific research the book discusses topics such as modern quantum mechanics and mystical notions of awareness how Kabbalah's ten sefirot mirror the developing phases of an inflationary universe and the surprising parallels that exist between the Big Bang theory and Kabbalah's origin theory Smith delves into complex ideas without resorting to jargon or mathematical equations creating an intelligent authoritative work accessible to all readers

Holiness: Divine and Human James M. Arcadi, 2023-08-22 Holiness might seem like a simple concept Yet when one compares the array of objects that are called holy in the Hebrew Scriptures and Christian New Testament there may seem to be no points of similarity between God humans time land temple accoutrements etc However in this book James M Arcadi hypothesizes a unitary account of the definition of holiness What unites holy objects Arcadi argues is divine ownership Holy objects belong to God In application to God this motif has profound implications for how one conceives of God and the God world relation In application to humans this book argues that the ownership theme unfurls new insights on a range of doctrinal loci including the doctrines of the imago Dei justification atonement sanctification and liturgical theology Bringing biblical studies in conversation with contemporary analytic philosophy this book offers an analytic systematic theology of holiness
