Edinburgh History of Scottish Literature: Modern Transformations: New Identities (from 1918) Ian Brown, 2006-11-13 In almost a century since the First World War ended, Scotland has been transformed in many rich ways. Its literature has been an essential part of that transformation. The third volume of the History explores the vibrancy of modern Scottish literature in all its forms and languages. Giving full credit to writing in Gaelic and by the Scottish diaspora, it brings together the best contemporary critical insights from three continents. It provides an accessible and refreshing picture of both the varieties of Scottish literatures and the kaleidoscopic versions of Scotland that mark literary developments since 1918. Unmaking Waste Sarah Newman, 2023-05-26

In Unmaking Waste, Sarah Newman asks what happens when there are disagreements about what constitutes waste and what one should do with it, both at singular moments in time—for example, when ideas about waste collide in emerging colonial contexts and across time, such as between those who left things behind in the past and the archaeologists who recover them. Newman examines ancient Mesoamerican understandings of waste, Euro-American perceptions of waste in New Spain, and early modern European ideals of civility and Christian understandings of good and bad expressed metaphorically through cleanliness and filth. These differing perceptions, Newman argues, demand that we rethink centuries of assumptions imposed on other places, times, and peoples, so long as waste remains a category misunderstood to be common, sensical, and stable. Archaeological methods will prove unequal to their task, Newman instead proposes anamorphic archaeology an approach that emphasizes the possibility that archaeological objects have multiple physical and conceptual lives     The Breeder's Gazette ,1920     The English Catalogue of Books ... Sampson Low,1873
