Schools Amy Murray, Rose Borunda, 2024-07-02 This edited volume brings together authors from various cultural backgrounds to address the racialized roots of the un civil war in American society and schooling While exposing substructive schooling practices it also provides counter narrative school curriculum that builds cross cultural bridges and connects learners across racial lines It also includes critical reading and discussion questions for students in the fields of education school leadership sociology ethnic studies history school teacher and counselor preparation psychology and public policy In bringing together a wide collaboration of authors the text models the practices of inclusion that must occur in order to transform American public education beyond its racialized roots Native American Mystery Writing Mary

Stoecklein, 2019-04-04 Though mystery crime and detective fiction are some of the most popular genres in the world little scholarship currently exists regarding Native American writers and how they add new dimensions to this widely read literary form Rather the majority of scholarship examines the depiction of Native characters from the perspective of non Native authors Native American Mystery Writing Indigenous Investigations analyzes how Native authors use the genre to foreground centuries of settler colonial crimes and comment upon the ways in which these acts continue to impact Native individuals and communities today Considering fourteen novels and two made for TV films this book surveys a spectrum of settler colonial crimes the Osage oil murders sexual assault against Native women missing and murdered Indigenous women the California mission system suppression of spiritual beliefs theft of land children and cultural items and of course murder

Examination of these texts shows how Native authors working with the mystery crime and detective fiction formats are able to entertain readers while also sending strong social cultural and political messages that argue for strengthened tribal sovereignty and illustrate the resilience of Indigenous peoples all in order to promote discussions about creating a more just system for Native Nations

The Native American Renaissance Alan R. Velie, A. Robert Lee, 2013-11-11 The outpouring of Native American literature that followed the publication of N Scott Momaday's Pulitzer Prize winning House Made of Dawn in 1968 continues unabated Fiction and poetry autobiography and discursive writing from such writers as James Welch Gerald Vizenor and Leslie Marmon Silko constitute what critic Kenneth Lincoln in 1983 termed the Native American Renaissance This collection of essays takes the measure of that efflorescence The contributors scrutinize writers from Momaday to Sherman Alexie analyzing works by Native women First Nations Canadian writers postmodernists and such theorists as Robert Warrior Jace Weaver and Craig Womack Weaver's own examination of the development of Native literary criticism since 1968 focuses on Native American literary nationalism Alan R Velie turns to the achievement of Momaday to examine the ways Native novelists have influenced one another Post renaissance and postmodern writers are discussed in company with newer writers such as Gordon Henry Jr and D L Birchfield Critical essays discuss the poetry of Simon Ortiz Kimberly Blaeser Diane Glancy Luci Tapahonso and Ray A Young Bear as well as the life writings of Janet Campbell Hale Carter Revard and Jim Barnes An essay on Native drama examines the work of Hanay Geiogamah the Native American Theater Ensemble and Spider Woman Theatre In the volume's concluding essay Kenneth Lincoln reflects on the history of the Native American Renaissance up to and beyond his seminal work and discusses Native literature's legacy and future The essays collected here underscore the vitality of Native American literature and the need for debate on theory and ideology

Journal of American Indian Education ,2019 News from Native California ,2008 Family Stories Sandra Stokes Smith,1995 The Green Book of Language Revitalization in Practice Leanne Hinton, Kenneth Hale, 2013-06-13 With world wide environmental destruction and globalization of economy a few languages especially English are spreading rapidly in use while thousands of other languages are disappearing taking with them important cultural philosophical and environmental knowledge systems and oral literatures We all stand to suffer from such a loss none more so than the communities whose very identity is being threatened by the impending death of their languages In response to this crisis indigenous communities around the world have begun to develop a myriad of projects to keep their languages alive This volume is a set of detailed accounts about the kind of work that is going on now as people struggle for their linguistic survival It also serves as a manual of effective practices in language revitalization Following are the key features 23 case studies of language revitalization in practice from Native American languages Australian languages Maori Hawaiian Welsh Irish and others written primarily by authors directly involved in the programs short introductions situate the languages to help make the languages more real in the minds of readers each chapter gives a detailed overview of the various kinds of programs and methods in practice today introductions and maps for each of the languages represented familiarize the reader with their history linguistic structure and sociolinguistic features and strong representation in authorship and viewpoint of the people and communities whose languages are threatened gives the readers an inside understanding of the issues involved and the community internal attitudes toward language loss and revitalization This book was previously published by Academic Press under ISBN 978 01 23 49354 5 Student Voices Hans Paul Guth,1989 This book should be of interest to undergraduate students wishing to improve their writing skills Native American Repatriation & Reburial: Reburial ,1992 Journal of Park and Recreation Administration ,1997 Teaching for Purpose Heather Malin,2021-03-09 In Teaching for Purpose Heather Malin explores the idea of purpose as the purpose of education and shows how educators can prepare youth to live intentional fulfilling lives The book highlights the important role that purpose defined as a future directed goal that is personally meaningful and aimed at contributing to something larger than the self plays in optimal youth development and in motivating students to promote the cognitive and noncognitive skills that teachers want to instill Based on a decade of research conducted at the Stanford University Center on Adolescence the book explores how educators and schools can promote purpose through attention to school culture curriculum project learning service learning and other opportunities Malin argues for expansive thinking on the direction schools should take especially in terms of educating students to be creative innovative and self directed critical thinkers The book includes profiles of six organizations working in schools across the US that have made purpose development a priority Infused with the engaging voices of purposeful youth Teaching for Purpose offers a fresh inspirational guide for educators who are looking for new ways to support students to succeed not only in school but in life Indians of the United States and Canada Dwight La Vern Smith,1974 Contains 3 218 abstracts on American Indian history and culture numbered consecutively from volume 1 identifying the literature published since 1972 Entries are organized by tribal name and culture area Abstracts were selected from the database America history and life volumes 10 15 1973 1978 and America history and life supplement to volumes 1 10 1964 1973 California Perspectives ,1991 Indigenous Landscapes and Spanish Missions Lee Panich,Tsim D. Schneider,2014-04-17 Spanish missions in North America were once viewed as confining and stagnant communities with native peoples on the margins of the colonial enterprise Recent archaeological and ethnohistorical research challenges that notion Indigenous Landscapes and Spanish Missions considers how native peoples actively incorporated the mission system into their own dynamic existence The book written by diverse scholars and edited by Lee M Panich and Tsim D Schneider covers missions in the Spanish borderlands from California to Texas to Georgia Offering thoughtful arguments and innovative perspectives the editors organized the book around three interrelated themes The first section explores power politics and belief recognizing that Spanish missions were established within indigenous landscapes with preexisting tensions alliances and belief systems The second part addressing missions from the perspective of indigenous inhabitants focuses on their social economic and historical connections to the surrounding landscapes The final section considers the varied connections between mission communities and the world beyond the mission walls including examinations of how mission neophytes missionaries and colonial elites vied for land and natural resources Indigenous Landscapes and Spanish Missions offers a holistic view on the consequences of missionization and the active negotiation of missions by indigenous peoples revealing cross cutting perspectives into the complex and contested histories of the Spanish borderlands This volume challenges readers to examine deeply the ways in which native peoples negotiated colonialism not just inside the missions themselves but also within broader indigenous landscapes This book will be of interest to archaeologists historians tribal scholars and anyone interested in indigenous encounters with colonial institutions Resources in Education ,1999-04 Design on the Edge Waverly Lowell,Elizabeth Byrne,Betsy Frederick-Rothwell,2009 An Introduction to Language and Social Justice Netta Avineri,Patricia Baquedano-López,2024-01-22 This innovative interdisciplinary course textbook is designed to provide the who what where when why and how of the intersections of language inequality and social justice in North America using the applied linguistic anthropology ALA framework Written in accessible language and at a level equally legible for advanced undergraduate and graduate students this text connects theory and practice by sketching out relevant historical background introducing theoretical and conceptual underpinnings illustrating with case studies discussing a wide range of key issues and explaining research methodologies Using a general to specialized content structure the expert authors then show readers how to apply these principles and lessons in communities in the real world to become advocates and change agents in the realm of language and social justice With an array of useful pedagogical resources and practical tools including discussion questions and activities reflections and vignettes further reading and a glossary along with additional online resources for instructors this is the essential text for students from multiple perspectives across linguistics applied linguistics linguistic anthropology and beyond Spectra ,1999 Journal of Small Business and Entrepreneurship ,2006-01
