W. Desai,2014-03-13 While over the past four hundred years numerous opinions have been voiced as to Shakespeare's identity these eleven essays widen the scope of the investigation by regarding Shakespeare his world and his works in their interaction with one another Instead of restricting the search for bits and pieces of evidence from his works that seem to match what he may have experienced these essays focus on the contemporary milieu political developments social and theater history and cultural and religious pressures as well as the domestic conditions within Shakespeare's family that shaped his personality and are featured in his works The authors of these essays employing the tenets of critical theory and practice as well as intuitive and informed insight endeavor to look behind the masks thus challenging the reader to adjudicate among the possible the probable the likely and the unlikely With the exception of the editor's own piece on Hamlet Shakespeare the Man New Decipherings presents previously unpublished essays inviting the reader to embark upon an intellectual adventure into the fascinating terrain of Shakespeare's mind and art Style and Narrative in Translations Hiroko Cockerill,2014-06-03 Futabatei Shimei 1864-1909 is widely regarded as the founder of the modern Japanese novel His novel Floating Clouds 1887-1889 was written in a colloquial narrative style that was unprecedented in Japanese literature as was its negative hero Futabatei was also a pioneer translator of Russian literature translating works by Turgenev Gogol Tolstoy Gorky and others his translations had an enormous impact perhaps even greater than his novels on the development of Japanese literature In this groundbreaking work Hiroko Cockerill analyses the development of Futabatei's translation style and the influence of his work as a translator on his own writing She takes us on a journey through Russian and Japanese literature throwing light on the development of Japanese literary language particularly in its use of verb forms to convey notions of tense and aspect that were embedded in European languages Cockerill finds that Futabatei developed not one but two distinctive styles based on the influences of Turgenev and Gogol While the influence of his translations from Turgenev was immediate and far reaching his more Gogolian translations are fascinating in their own right and contemporary translators would do well to revisit them
