Structural Wood Design Abi Aghayere, Jason Vigil, 2017-04-28 This text provides a concise and practical guide to timber design using both the Allowable Stress Design and the Load and Resistance Factor Design methods. It suits students in civil structural and construction engineering programs as well as engineering technology and architecture programs and also serves as a valuable resource for the practicing engineer. The examples based on real world design problems reflect a holistic view of the design process that better equip the reader for timber design in practice. This new edition now includes the LRFD method with some design examples using LRFD for joists, girders and axially load members. It is based on the 2015 NDS and 2015 IBC model code. It includes a more in depth discussion of framing and framing systems commonly used in practice such as metal plate connected trusses, rafter and collar tie framing and pre engineered framing. It includes sample drawings, drawing notes and specifications that might typically be used in practice. It includes updated floor joist span charts that are more practical and are easy to use. It includes a chapter on practical considerations covering topics like flitch beams, wood poles used for footings, reinforcement of existing structures and historical data on wood properties. It includes a section on long span and high rise wood structures. It includes an enhanced student design project. Oregon Contractor's Reference Manual, 2008

Construction Contractors Board, Prometric Inc., 2012-11-01 Oregon Revised Statutes Oregon, 2019 Infrastructure and Technology Management Tugrul U. Daim, Leong Chan, Judith Estep, 2018-01-10 This book presents emerging technology management approaches and applied cases from leading infrastructure sectors such as energy, healthcare, transportation and education. Featuring timely topics such as fracking technology, electric cars, Google's eco friendly mobile technology and Amazon Prime Air, the volume's contributions explore the current management challenges that have resulted from the development of new technologies and present tools, applications and frameworks that can be utilized to overcome these challenges. Emerging technologies make us rethink how our infrastructure will look in the future. Solar and wind generation, for example, have already changed the dynamics of the power sector. While they have helped to reduce the use of fossil fuels, they have created management complications due to their intermittent natures. Meanwhile, information technologies have changed how we manage healthcare, making it safer and more accessible but not without implications for cost and administration. Autonomous cars are around the corner. On line education is no longer a myth but still a largely unfulfilled opportunity. Digitization of car ownership is achievable thanks to emerging business models leveraging new communication technologies. The major challenge is how to evaluate the relative costs and benefits of these technologies. This book offers insights from both researchers and industry practitioners to address this challenge and anticipate the impact of new technologies on infrastructure now and in the future. Oregon Contractors Reference Manual Ninth Edition Prometric Incorporated, 2010-11-01 Reference for contractors working in the State of Oregon Model Uncertainties in Foundation

Design Chong Tang,Kok-Kwang Phoon,2021-03-17 Model Uncertainties in Foundation Design is unique in the compilation of the largest and the most diverse load test databases to date covering many foundation types shallow foundations spudcans driven piles drilled shafts rock sockets and helical piles and a wide range of ground conditions soil to soft rock All databases with names prefixed by NUS are available upon request This book presents a comprehensive evaluation of the model factor mean bias and coefficient of variation COV for ultimate and serviceability limit state based on these databases These statistics can be used directly for AASHTO LRFD calibration Besides load test databases performance databases for other geo structures and their model factor statistics are provided Based on this extensive literature survey a practical three tier scheme for classifying the model uncertainty of geo structures according to the model factor mean and COV is proposed This empirically grounded scheme can underpin the calibration of resistance factors as a function of the degree of understanding a concept already adopted in the Canadian Highway Bridge Design Code and being considered for the new draft for Eurocode 7 Part 1 EN 1997 1 202x The helical pile research in Chapter 7 was recognised by the 2020 ASCE Norman Medal
