Computer-Mediated Communication Caleb T. Carr,2025-01-15 Caleb T Carr introduces students to fundamental concepts theories and applications of computer mediated communication Building on CFO SIP SIDE and hyperpersonal CMC theories this engaging text gives students a framework for human communication across all existing and future digital channels The second edition adds a new chapter on health and wellbeing increased and updated discussion of AI and immersive VR and AR technologies Defining Sport Communication Andrew C. Billings,2016-10-14 Defining Sport Communication is a comprehensive resource addressing core topics and issues including humanistic organizational relational and mediated approaches to the study of sport communication It provides foundational work in sport communication for students and scholars reflecting the abundance of research published in recent years and the ever increasing interest in this area of study Bringing together scholars from various epistemological viewpoints within communication this volume provides a unique opportunity for defining the breadth and depth of sport communication research It will serve as a seminal reference for existing scholarship while also providing an agenda for future research Communicative Understandings of Women's Leadership Development Elesha L. Ruminski,Annette M. Holba,2011-12-16 Communicative Understandings of Women s Leadership Development From Ceilings of Glass to Labyrinth Paths edited by Elesha L Ruminski and Annette M Holba intertwines the disciplines of communication studies leadership studies and women s studies to offer theoretical and practical reflection about women s leadership development in academic organizational and political contexts Women s leadership development exists at the intersection of consciousness raising communication competence and education to increase one s knowledge and practice of leadership which makes the weaving together of these three disciplines important Thus Communicative Understandings of Women s Leadership Development claims a space for women s leadership studies and acknowledges the paradigmatic shift from discussing women s leadership using the glass ceiling phenomenon to what Eagly and Carli 2007 identify as the labyrinth of leadership Recognizing this metaphoric shift is crucial because many women now develop leadership amid the postmodern flux of organizational change hierarchical top down systems are being eroded in lieu of transformational collaborative even improvisational leadership processes Women's leadership studies is emerging as a fruitful interdisciplinary area that reframes the debate about whether we live work and learn within a third wave feminist or post feminist context While this area might include feminist theorizing it also might not emphasize such epistemologies For this reason Ruminski and Holba's edited collection explores and highlights a variety of feminist and non feminist intersections and is thus an important and timely contribution to both marking where we are with women's leadership development in higher education and how women can further develop themselves as leaders

Passive Addiction or Why We Hate Work Xin-An Lucian Lu, Matthew C. Ramsey, 2013-07-05 This work examines various organizational problems that contribute to the phenomenon of passive addiction problems so entrenched and quotidian that they no longer register in the organizational consciousness as problems Passive addiction refers to the phenomenon in which the individual is addicted to various forms of passivity e.g. procrastination effortless and vacuous behaviors as refuge from work one dislikes Xin An Lucian Lu and Matthew C Ramsey investigate the dichotomization between work and life ill designed evaluation the divorce between purpose and action overemphasis of extrinsic order the crisis of credibility and the overuse of management over leadership Technological and economic changes in the future may lead to the emergence of active addiction a state of work that is blended with life and is actively embraced by the worker with a spirit of creativity and innovation

Big Data Factories Sorin Adam Matei, Nicolas Jullien, Sean P. Goggins, 2017-11-27 The book proposes a systematic approach to big data collection documentation and development of analytic procedures that foster collaboration on a large scale This approach designated as data factoring emphasizes the need to think of each individual dataset developed by an individual project as part of a broader data ecosystem easily accessible and exploitable by parties not directly involved with data collection and documentation Furthermore data factoring uses and encourages pre analytic operations that add value to big data sets especially recombining and repurposing The book proposes a research development agenda that can undergird an ideal data factory approach Several programmatic chapters discuss specialized issues involved in data factoring documentation meta data specification building flexible yet comprehensive data ontologies usability issues involved in collaborative tools etc The book also presents case studies for data factoring and processing that can lead to building better scientific collaboration and data sharing strategies and tools Finally the book presents the teaching utility of data factoring and the ethical and privacy concerns related to it Chapter 9 of this book is available open access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link.springer.com
